Dear Chuck:

The U.S. Executive and Alternate Directors of the multinational lending institutions (International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), Asian Development Bank (ADB), and Inter-American Development Bank (IDB)) are very important to the American business community. In fact, if they cooperate U.S. business has a good chance of participating in their funded projects but if they don't cooperate, and all other country directors do, then U.S. firms are out of the picture.

With this in mind, I would like to ask your support of Guy Henshaw as the U.S. Alternate Director of either the IBRD or the ADB. A letter to the Secretary of the Treasury with a copy to the White House would be greatly appreciated.

I am attaching a resume for your review and use.

Many thanks and kindest regards,

ROBERT E. LIGHTHIZER, CHIEF COUNSEL
MICHAEL STERN, MINORITY STAFF DIRECTOR

The President
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

We wish to recommend John E. Hogan, who is currently serving as the Minority Counsel, Committee on Agriculture, House of Representatives, for the position as U.S. Executive Director, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (World Bank).

We are strongly in support of his selection for this position and encourage you to give his nomination the strongest possible consideration based upon his unique qualifications (see his resume attached).

John E. Hogan has served with the House Committee on Agriculture for over six years and has become very familiar with agriculture issues. Loans to developing countries for agricultural related purposes, we understand, make up a large portion of the loan portfolio of the World Bank. He is conversant with soil and water conservation projects, rural electric and telephone projects and administration, rural housing financing and administration, Public Law 480 financing and administration, international trade programs (including trade barrier problems), and other programs which relate to the problems of World Bank borrowers.

Mr. Hogan also has considerable experience with domestic financial institutions, having worked for nearly three years at the Board of Governors, Federal Reserve System, and nearly three years with the Small Business Administration. In addition, having served as Minority Counsel, Committee on the District of Columbia, House of Representatives, he is familiar with local government problems including tax and revenue issues, intergovernmental relations between local and the federal government, as well as local and federal bank laws.

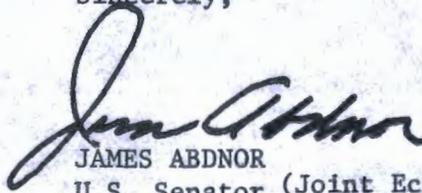

Having served as Executive Assistant and Director of a joint Congressional and Executive Commission where he directed the activities of about 150 employees, he has had experience in managing personnel and in accomplishing a task, directed in general terms by law, within prescribed time limits.

The President
September 22, 1981
Page 2

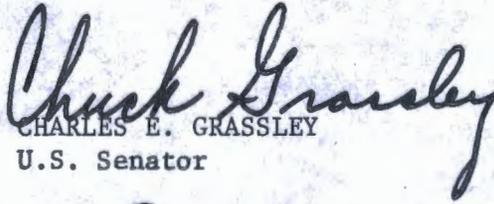

In recent years, John Hogan has met with foreign agricultural leaders from the European Economic Community, Eastern European countries, NATO countries, and Farm Eastern countries such as Japan. His knowledge of international financial affairs is such that we believe he is fully qualified for the position in question.

With kind regards.

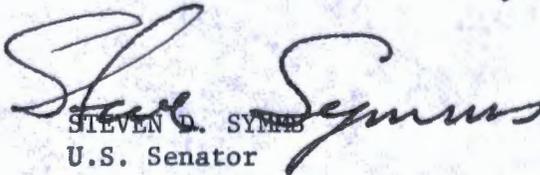

Sincerely,

JAMES ABDNOR

Dear Mr. President:

It is understood that John E. Hogan, Minority Counsel, Committee on Agriculture, U.S. House of Representatives, is being considered for the position of U.S. Executive Director, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (World Bank).

You are obviously aware of his strong qualifications, among which are his knowledge and understanding of the Congress and its Members, his experience in rural and urban redevelopment, and his ability based on years as a trial lawyer and Minority Counsel for House Committees to bargain and negotiate.

This letter is intended to serve as a strong, personal recommendation on Mr. Hogan's behalf for the position as U.S. Executive Director of the World Bank.

With kind regards.

Sincerely,
