Dear Ambassador Lumsden:

I have received your letter of resignation from your post as Ambassador to the United Arab Emirates. While I congratulate you on your appointment as Director for Oil Market Developments at the International Energy Agency in Paris, I regret you must resign from your post.

Your fine work during the past three and one-half years, in one of the world's most vital but war-torn regions, has not gone unnoticed. You have served your country as Ambassador with dedication and distinction, capping a long and successful Foreign Service career. Under your stewardship, our relations with the United Arab Emirates have flourished and your accomplishments, particularly in the field of security cooperation, are indicative of your keen ability to match American policy objectives to local conditions and inclinations. Despite sometimes difficult and dangerous circumstances, you have contributed significantly to the pursuit of peace in the region.

I wish you all the best in your future endeavors and thank you for a job well done.

Dear Mr. President:

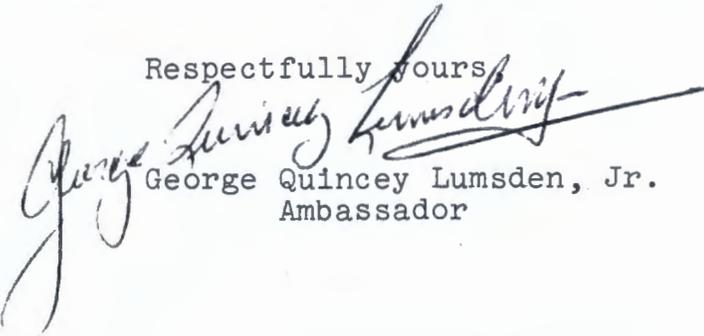

The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development has recently notified me of its intention to appoint me Director for Oil Market Developments at the International Energy Agency (I.E.A.) in Paris. My candidacy for this position is based upon a combined recommendation of the Departments of Energy and State, concerning which William Martin, Executive Secretary of your National Security Council, has been briefed in detail.

While this is a most satisfying development, it also obliges me now to submit to you my resignation as your Ambassador to the United Arab Emirates, effective February 1986. I am proud to count my work for you in this capacity during the past three-and-one-half years as the high point of over three decades of U.S. Government military and civilian service under a variety of circumstances, none of which ever came even close to being boring.

I would also, Mr. President, like to assure you that identification with your ideals and those of my country will follow me very closely as I now begin work with an international organization. Given the I.E.A.'s objective of defending our energy viability, my future work will in fact relate to the needs of our countrymen much as has my past service as your envoy in this critical and sensitive part of the Middle East.

It was a particular honor for me to have met you at the White House on November 25. Along with my best wishes for happiness and success, you carry into the coming year my profoundest admiration for what you have already led America to achieve.

Respectfully yours,

George Quincey Lumsden, Jr.

MEMORANDUM FOR DONALD T. REGAN

SUBJECT: Visit of UAE President Sheikh Zayed

We have agreed in principle on an early White House visit for Sheikh Zayed, who is currently Chairman of the Gulf Cooperation Council as well as President of the UAE. The Zayed visit is an important part of our broader strategy for demonstrating our continued commitment to our friends in the Gulf. I would very much like to send an invitation to Zayed within the next week, to help keep up the momentum of our efforts to rebuild our position in the area. I urge that the visit itself be scheduled sometime in March and certainly no later than April. We might even consider scheduling Zayed in the slot originally put aside for Mubarak on February 25.

Thanks for your help.
