Dear Hugh:

This is in reply to your letter of February 7 concerning our relations with Pakistan. An urgent review of our policy with Pakistan is now underway since we all appreciate how important Pakistan is to our security interests in Southwest Asia. This review takes into account our longstanding cooperation and agreements with the Government of Pakistan.

I'd very much like to brief you myself on this topic, but it would bring you greater benefit if Geoffrey Kemp of my staff could meet with you. Geoff is our Senior Staff Member for Near East and South Asian Affairs, and I am asking him to contact your office to set up an appointment.

With best regards,

Sincerely,

You will recall I drafted a letter dated March 12 which you signed to Hugh Scott concerning his interest in Pakistan. He called me on the phone today to ask if we could get together next week to talk about his concerns. Not surprisingly, they relate to the type of issues that the NSC will be considering on Thursday. As you know, Senator Scott's law firm represents Pakistan in the United States. (C)

I need guidance from you as to what level of confidentiality I should discuss Pakistan with the Senator. In your judgment, how much ground should I cover? The general question the NSC is considering without mentioning figures? Or should I talk in more specific terms about what we hope our contribution to Pakistan will be? Or should I play it cool and talk in general terms about our belief in the strategic importance of Pakistan? (C) (NO) (NO)

RECOMMENDATION:

- 1. That I talk with Scott about Pakistan.

Keep it general. Instead
