Dear Dr. Nasem:

Thank you for your recent letter to the President reiterating your request for an appointment to discuss the proposed Pakistan-U.S. Joint Commission.

As was conveyed earlier, I regret that the President's schedule is such in the foreseeable future that we will be unable to arrange for a meeting.

Since we are unable to arrange for an appointment, I suggest that you forward your comments to the Department of State.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Having worked with Loran Smith, a former staff member of the Reagan for President, Election Team of 1976 and again on the same team for 1980. I am confident, that it is not the style of the Reagan White House to ignore such vital foreign policy related request. Pakistan is an Islamic nation and one among the many that have become a major issue of over-all United States policy with regard to the dealings between Islamic nations and the United States.

Dear Mr. President:

On May 22, 1984 you sent a most eloquent message to the public officials of the Pakistan-US Joint Economic Commission, emphasizing the importance of "our shared goals to expand the contacts between our two peoples in a variety of fields". As the only established central private sector voice of the peoples of both our nations, we applaud your message and the broad base policy it conveys.

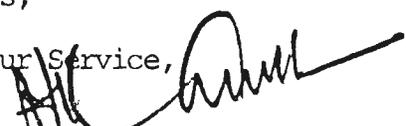

Support for these "shared goals" will ultimately rest on informed public opinion and widespread private sector participation. This is an enormous task to which the Alliance has unflaggingly devoted its efforts with a visible degree of approval from the private sector since November of 1981. We would like to offer herewith our support to the Joint Commission to help promote the further development of private sector involvement.

Mr. President, more than this however, your evident support in the form of official recognition is needed at this time to aid the only existing liaison between the people of the Islamic Republic Of Pakistan and the United States.

In light of the importance both you and President Zia-Ul-Haq of Pakistan have given to both private and public sector participation, we look forward to your leadership, your guidance and your benediction. For these reasons I will open any future date to meet with you or your chosen representative to discuss the issues I have mentioned.

With warm personal regards,

At your Service,

JAN 23 1985

Dear Senator Sarbanes:

Thank you for your letter of January 7 to Secretary Shultz regarding the human rights situation in Pakistan, particularly the detention of Pakistani attorney Raza Kazim.

Mr. Kazim and a number of other Pakistanis, including military personnel, were arrested in January 1984 by Pakistan's martial law authorities. We understand that Mr. Kazim is suspected of involvement in a plot to overthrow the Government. In July 1984 local newspapers reported that Mr. Kazim had been charged under the Pakistan Army Act of 1952 with "attempting to seduce Army personnel." Family and defense sources, however, have told our diplomats in Pakistan that Mr. Kazim and his codefendants were only recently charged under sections of the Pakistan Penal Code which concern various serious offences including "waging or attempting to wage war against Pakistan."

In the past, trials involving sensitive national security matters have been in camera before a military court. Presumably, this will be done in Mr. Kazim's case due to the sensitivity of the allegations and the possible presentation of evidence or testimony implicating foreign powers.

We understand that one of Mr. Kazim's attorneys met with his client on January 10. Various family members, including Mr. Kazim's wife, have met with Mr. Kazim on several occasions. Family sources state that Mr. Kazim has received medical and dental treatment while in detention. According to these sources, Mr. Kazim has not alleged that he has been tortured.

Our diplomats in Pakistan will continue to follow this case closely, as they do the general human rights situation in Pakistan. During the past year, there have been some positive developments in Pakistan's human rights situation. Hundreds of political detainees have been released, including most of the country's prominent opposition politicians. Some limited political activities have been permitted as the nation prepares for parliamentary elections on February 25 and for provincial assembly elections on February 28. Pakistan, of course, continues to provide refuge for over 2 million Afghan refugees in the face of the continuing Soviet threat from Afghanistan.

The Honorable
Paul S. Sarbanes,
United States Senate.

ORIGINAL FORWARDED BY H

[Handwritten signature]

Please be assured that the Government of Pakistan is well aware of our concern for the human rights situation in Pakistan and of our interest in specific cases, including that of Mr. Kazim. The Pakistani Government is also aware of this Administration's profound and unalterable opposition to torture.

Sincerely,

Robert F. Turner
Acting Assistant Secretary

Dear Senator Sarbanes:

Thank you for your January 7 letter to the President urging that the issue of human rights be voiced in the United States' dealings with the Government of Pakistan.

The U.S. Government consistently opposes all human rights violations of any kind wherever they may occur, and we make those views known regularly. As you know, one way this is done is through the State Department's detailed report to Congress, Country Report on Human Rights Practices, which discusses human rights conditions in over 160 countries. On your behalf, I will be pleased to reiterate to the President's foreign policy advisers your comments regarding human rights violations in Pakistan in general, and specifically your concern in the case of Raza Kasim.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing to express my concern over the continuing problem of human rights violations in Pakistan, and specifically about the case of Raza Kazim. Mr. Kazim, a lawyer, has been held in solitary confinement for a full year, since January 9, 1984, although no charges have ever been filed against him. Amnesty International has received reports of dozens of other such political detainees, many of whom are being tortured in Pakistani prisons.

It is my strongly held view that human rights concerns must be an integral part of U.S. foreign policy, and that respect for the rule of law is fundamental to those concerns. I hope that you will continue to voice those concerns in your dealings with the government of Pakistan.

With best regards,

Sincerely,

Paul S. Sarbanes

MEMORANDUM FOR RONALD K. PETERSON

FROM: ROBERT M. KIMMITT WRP for
SUBJECT: USIA Draft Amendment for Excess Pakistani Ruppees

The need for excess Pakistani ruppees for new educational and cultural programs will increase in the years ahead. These proposals are not yet at a stage where they can be incorporated into the USIA proposal for fiscal year 1986. Therefore, for the present, the $660,000 equivalent of excess Pakistani ruppees should remain with the Treasury Department.

MEMORANDUM FOR ROBERT M. KIMMITT

FROM: SHIRIN TAHIR-KHELI SK

SUBJECT: USIA Draft Amendment for Excess Pakistani Rupees

Attached at Tab A is the USIA proposal to transfer approximately $660,000 into an interest-bearing account. The recipient would be the U.S.-Pakistan Educational Foundation. Treasury and OMB are not sure that this can be done in time for fiscal year 1986. It may go to a supplemental next year. There are more imaginative uses we can put this money to in the Indo-Pakistani cultural/educational context in the near future. For example, if Indo-Pakistani normalization proceeds satisfactorily, an exchange of scholars between these countries (which could be financed from this fund) could further help improve relations. When we have programs, we cannot find requisite funds. In view of the above, and given the fact that the U.S. Educational Foundation in Pakistan already has sufficient funds, we should not release the $660,000 at this time.

A Jock Covey, John Lenczowski, Walt Raymond and SK Chris Lehman concur. SK for.

UNITED STATES EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION IN PAKISTAN

Sec. 204. There is hereby authorized to be appropriated for the United States Information Agency for the fiscal year 1986 up to the equivalent of $660,000 in Pakistani rupees owned by the United States, to be made available to the United States Educational Foundation in Pakistan for use in carrying out purposes of the Foundation. Such use may include investment of the funds by the Foundation in order to generate income that will be retained by the Foundation to support its programs.

Analysis

The Treasury Department now holds approximately 10,261,000 Pakistani rupees owned by the United States as a result of the Agency's operation from 1956 through 1966 of the now-defunct Informational Media Guaranty Program pursuant to Section 1011 of the United States Information and Educational Exchange Act of 1948, as amended. At the present rate of exchange, these rupees are worth about $660,000.

Section 1011(d) of that Act provides, in substance, that foreign currencies generated under the IMG program may be appropriated by Congress for use for educational and other specified purposes that are in the national interest of the United States and mutually agreed to by the governments of the United States and other countries from which the currencies are derived. The United States Educational Foundation in Pakistan conducts precisely that type of educational program. It was established by an agreement between the Government of the United States and the Government of Pakistan, which entered into force on October 18, 1972.

Dear Mr. Nasem:

I am writing in response to your letter of March 21 to the President.

In your letter and report you allege that, somehow, the Department of State, specifically NEA/PAB, has obstructed the workings of the U.S.-Pakistan Alliance to the detriment of the private sector of both countries and of the national interests of the United States and to the benefit of the Soviet Union. These are serious allegations which, quite frankly, you have failed to substantiate in any way. If you believe that we are the cause of whatever difficulties you might be experiencing, I suggest you contact us directly; we will be happy to meet you, as we have done numerous times, and discuss whatever it is you wish to discuss.

We strongly favor and support the work of private organizations in bringing about increased trade, investment, and understanding between the United States and its friends abroad. In so far as the U.S.-Pakistan Alliance is one such group, we, of course, wish it all the best. We cannot, however, favor the Alliance over other groups nor confer upon it a quasi-official status. We will consult and share information with the Alliance to the same extent that we do so with other private Americans and organizations.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Ronald W. Reagan
President
The United States Of America
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear President Reagan:

I am not indignant, not outraged but, I am very disappointed that my letter to you dated the June 29, 1984, did not even receive a cursory review by some responsible official at the White House, although the subject addressed had great national security interest implications for the U.S.

Throughout your public service, you have always placed strong emphasis on public involvement in the government affairs. You are the champion of the "get the government of the back of the people" campaign. There is someone at the Reagan's White House, who does not share your values. Our letter had asked you to help us gain balance in our chartered mission of bringing the people of Pakistan and the U.S. together as friends.

This letter of profound importance to the private sector in two countries was routinely sent to some unspecified concerned agency with a short good-bye to us and we never heard about it. As I had worked on your 1976 and 1980 presidential campaign as an un-paid member of the election team. I do not recall, this type of attitude visible among the members. We respected every letter and suggestion we received and thanked the people who took the time to reach us, either by phone or letter.

Despite the handling of the mail at the White House, I do still very much respect your choice of personnel and taking the liberty in sending you this most serious report on U.S. Pakistan foreign affairs.

Page two

The Honorable Ronald W. Reagan, President, The United States Of America,
Washington, D.C. 20500

I trust that it will merit your personal attention in some suitable form of a brief summary to you. The subject matter should be before the U.S. Department of State, under normal channel of communication. But, we have not had much luck with the Office of NEA/PAB and we are unable to get our dissatisfactions high up on the screen for Secretary Shultz's attention.

In most stark terms, we are faced with the same issue that has been upper most in your mind. Namely, that the foreign policies of the United States are defined, promoted, implemented, and managed by the Department of State and when any segment of these policies fail, not only the U.S. Embassies but also the U.S. Armed Forces, pay the formidable price with American lives. Results of failures come home to us in caskets.

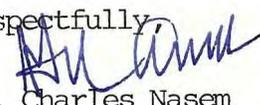

The notion that a number of foreign service officials must be given a free hand in the implementation of the U.S. foreign policy without any check and balance that will involve the guidance and advice from the U.S. and the host country private sector has back fired in the recent years. Iran is the most obvious case in point.

Over 30 million Iranians, despite the great working relationship between State Department and the Shah, did not really know the Americans and when the governments turned the cards on the table, almost every Iranian was a potential risk to the U.S. public relations in Iran.

I hope we are not hard at work turning Pakistan into another Iran. This time the United States - Pakistan Alliance wants to share in the private sector implementation of the U.S. foreign policy in Pakistan and I strongly urge you to assist us by instructing the Department of State to cooperate and establish a practice of frequent consultations with the Alliance in the future.

Thanking you.

Respectfully

Dr. Charles Nasem
Chairman.

The Keck Center for International Strategic Studies was established at Claremont McKenna College in 1981 by grants from the W.M. Keck Foundation. Its purpose is to promote research, debate, and education in the problems of strategy and diplomacy — of war and peace — as they touch the nations of the world. The Center's programs of education and research are supported by gifts and income from endowment provided by individuals, corporations, and foundations. The Center's publications and research are public. It does not conduct classified or government-sponsored research.

In its research, the Center is particularly concerned with strategic developments that affect international security. Such developments include alterations in the central military balance between the Soviet Union and the United States. They also include security questions that are best addressed in the context of a geographic region. The Center has identified public opinion as a factor of strategic importance.

The results of the Center's research projects and conferences are published regularly and may be purchased in single copies or by subscription.

PUBLICATIONS

The Center publishes Essays on Strategy and Diplomacy as well as Special Studies. Essays are published four times yearly and are available by subscription or in individual copies. Special Studies may be ordered directly from the Center or from the publisher. The following Special Studies and Essays are available. Discounts are offered for large orders.

Special Studies

The Military Balance in Central America and the Caribbean, forthcoming, Fall 1985.

Nuclear Strategy, Arms Control, and the Future, forthcoming, Summer 1985, Westview Press.

Essays on Strategy and Diplomacy

No. 1 "Current Problems in Nuclear Strategy and Arms Control." Brent Scowcroft, Winter 1983-84.

No. 2 "The Military and the Media." A Special Issue of papers from the conference, Spring 1984.

No. 3 "The Strategic Defense Initiative: Defensive Systems and the Strategic Debate." Harold Brown, Spring 1985

No. 4 "Security Perspectives of Governing Elites in the English-Speaking Caribbean." Anthony P. Maingot, Summer 1985.

No. 5 "'Equality and Equal Security' in Soviet Foreign Policy." Nathaniel Davis, Fall 1985.

No. 6 "Central Americans: The Subjects of the Crisis." Richard Millett, Winter 1985.

RESEARCH

The Center has identified three specific areas of research interest: nuclear strategy and arms control; regional security: Central America and Northeast Asia are of chief concern; and the media and foreign policy. In its work in these areas, the Center commissions original research, holds conferences, and has begun to build a small specialized research library.

— Nuclear strategy and arms control; the strategic debate: military and diplomatic issues affecting the Nations of Asia, Europe and North America.

— Regional security: Central America and Northeast Asia are of chief concern at present.

EDUCATION

The Center supports a concentration in strategic studies at Claremont McKenna College and provides merit scholarships for the best students to serve abroad as interns in strategic studies. Keck scholarship recipients have worked at the Royal United Services Institute for Defence Studies and the International Institute for Strategic Studies.
