MEMORANDUM FOR PAT BUCHANAN

FROM: JOE RODOTA JR

SUBJECT: Mathias Presidential Support

This week's "Periscope" column in Newsweek names Mac Mathias as a likely replacement for David Abshire as U.S. ambassador to NATO.

Remember Margaret Heckler? In 1982, she was the least supportive GOP Member of the House -- and was rewarded for this with a Cabinet chair. Take a look at Mathias' CQ support scores:

Presidential Support Scores

	Mathias	GOP average	Demo average
1981	58	80	49
1982	51	74	43
1983	60	73	42

NATO: Changes Ahead

JEAN GUYAUX

Backroom goal: Abshire

After a six-month search, a key Reagan administration aide now think that retiring Republican Sen. Charles (Mac) Mathias of Maryland is "the best choice" to succeed David Abshire as U.S. ambassador to NATO. Abshire, named to the post by Reagan in 1983, has made it clear he wants to return to the Center for Strategic and International Studies in Washington. Friends say Abshire hopes for a backroom role in the 1988 presidential race—and a cabinet job if a Republican wins. Mathias, president of the North Atlantic Assembly, is an expert on the alliance and well known in NATO capitals.

His aides deny it, but rumors persist in Brussels and Washington that Lord Carrington, 67, wants to step down as NATO secretary-general—perhaps next year. Cited as evidence: two members of Carrington's personal staff and several NATO assistant secretaries general have left recently.

NATO's top military commander, Gen. Bernard Rogers, quietly left the U.S. Army as required at the age of 65 last summer—and just as quietly was called back to active duty the next day by President Reagan so he could keep the NATO post at least until the scheduled end of his term next summer. Army brass would like to keep an Army general in the job; if not Rogers, who would like to stay on, then probably Gen. John Galvin, commander in chief of the Southern Command, based in Panama.

BRUCE HOERTEL

'Best choice': Mathias

Pete Wilson Goes Courting

He doesn't face re-election for two years, but California's Republican Sen. Pete Wilson is already courting the state's politically powerful Asian-American community. Conspicuously absent from an Election Day gathering of GOP notables, Wilson chose to spend the day winning and dining top Asian-American business and political leaders. And the first-term senator made headlines recently by overruling his own advisory committee and recommending a Chinese-American for a federal judgeship. GOP insiders say Wilson's overtures are also designed to head off challenges in '88 from two popular Asian-American Democrats: Rep. Robert Matsui and California Secretary of State March Fong Eu. "The Democrats would be smart to nominate Matsui or Eu," says a GOP official. "Pete's even smarter to try and head them off now."

Commissioned: The Roosevelt

Carrier Debate

Pentagon watchers see a possible battle in Congress next year over adding yet another aircraft carrier to the U.S. fleet. Though the Navy had not planned for this carrier until the early 1990s, Secretary John Lehman is thinking about advance funding for some long-lead-time components in the '88 budget. He wants to keep skilled workers at the Newport News, Va., shipyard, where one carrier—the Theodore Roosevelt—was just commissioned, and two more are due by 1991. Lehman also wants to ease a construction crunch he expects in the 1990s—building new SSN-21 subs and replacing old cruisers and carriers. An ally: Virginia Sen. John Warner, new ranking Republican on the Armed Services Committee.

A Papal Visit to the U.S.S.R.?

Though Pope John Paul II, in public statements, has been wary of invitations from Moscow, Vatican officials say the pontiff is privately eager to visit the Soviet Union in 1988—to celebrate Christianity's millennium in Russia. One roadblock: the pope has insisted the trip include a stop in Lithuania, home of the largest concentration of Roman Catholics in the U.S.S.R. But Soviet authorities have in the past refused, fearing a papal visit might ignite the region's strong nationalistic feelings. In the West, Catholics who fled the Ukraine after World War II generally oppose the whole trip. Those they left behind had to join the Russian Orthodox Church—and they see a papal visit validating that forced conversion. Vatican officials hope to work out both problems; if the pope does go to the Soviet Union, they think anti-church Czechoslovakia might permit a visit as well.

The K Team

Now that Massachusetts Sen. Edward Kennedy has taken himself out of the 1988 presidential derby, his much-admired K Team is breaking up—and many of Kennedy's top political aides are jockeying for jobs with other contenders. Democrats close to Paul Tully, Kennedy's political-action-committee director, say Tully is interested in the possible candidacy of New York Gov. Mario Cuomo, but he would prefer to work for Michael Dukakis if the Massachusetts governor decides to run. And Tully is being actively wooed by Gary Hart. While Kennedy's former speechwriter Robert Shrum has made no commitments, he could follow his consulting-firm partner, David Doak, into the camp of Delaware Sen. Joseph Biden. And Senate political aide William Carrick, a well-connected South Carolinian, is expected to sign on with Missouri Rep. Richard Gephardt.

SUGGESTED LETTER

Dear Mr. Ambassador:

I have received your letter of January 14, 1987, and I accept your resignation as the United States Permanent Representative on the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, with the rank and status of Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary, effective upon a date to be determined.

Your tenure in Brussels coincided with a particularly difficult and challenging period in East-West and transatlantic relations. Thanks to your superb leadership at NATO, the United States was able to strengthen Allied support for our security and arms control efforts and sustain Allied unity in the face of Soviet efforts to sow divisiveness. Your mission played a key role in steering the Alliance successfully through the period of INF deployments.

I note with special gratitude the work you have done, not only with our Allies but also with Congress and the public, to improve the Alliance's conventional defense capabilities. Your work on behalf of the conventional defense improvement effort, greater cooperation in armaments development, more efficient resource strategies and more effective force planning leaves an important legacy to NATO, particularly as we move toward new negotiations with the Warsaw Pact on conventional stability in Europe.

Along with my deep and sincere appreciation for your work at NATO, I am especially pleased that you have agreed to become my Special Counsellor, and that along with those responsibilities I can continue to draw upon your advice and expertise on the crucial issues the Atlantic Alliance will face in the period ahead.

Sincerely,

The Honorable
David M. Abshire,
c/o Department of State.

UNITED STATES PERMANENT REPRESENTATIVE ON THE
NORTH ATLANTIC COUNCIL

January 14, 1987

Dear Mr. President:

I hereby submit my intention to resign as the United States Ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization effective February 7, 1987. I would like to express my gratitude to you for allowing me to serve in this capacity for the past three and one-half years.

During the last three years, NATO has enjoyed significant success on a range of critical issues including the deployment of intermediate nuclear weapons, our conventional defense improvement effort, greater Alliance cooperation in armaments development and procurement, and the opportunity for meaningful reductions of nuclear weapons through arms control. Continued Alliance success and cohesion in all of these efforts, however, will require maintaining our momentum. In this regard, your leadership will be essential in 1987 -- a crucial year in which we must demonstrate that our policies produce results. I will continue to be engaged in these issues and I will render whatever service I can to ensure that NATO remains the greatest Alliance in history.

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve you in this capacity. I appreciate your confidence and trust in my appointment as your Special Counsellor.

Respectfully,

David M. Abshire
Ambassador

The President
The White House,
Washington, D.C.
