President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Nancy and Ronnie:

We just received the enlarged print of your Christmas card. It is so beautiful and we appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Many of the Christmas cards we have received this year have included messages of support and prayers on your behalf, such as:

"I imagine you are as irritated as I am with all these dirt-fishing trips going on. They won't be satisfied till they break the heart of our wonderful President. I write about two letters a week of support and wish they both knew how many prayers are said for them and how most of us know the Reagans are a blessing for our country."

- Willa Francis,
Metairie, Louisiana

"We are distressed with the difficult times our President is having right now. People are criticizing and forming conclusions even before the facts are known. We have had very strong admiration for this man, even long before he became President; and what he has done for us and this country should not be tarnished by the current events."

- Ethel and Rolf Larsen
Los Angeles, California

Meanwhile, I am urging all my friends to join the grass-roots movement in voicing public support for you by writing to the media, Congressmen, Senators, and anyone else we can think of.

President and Mrs. Reagan

Dear Mr. President:

Thank you for sending me the handsome presidential pen set. Your thoughtfulness is warmly received and deeply appreciated.

Gloria and I are glad that the campaign and inaugural festivities are over and that they turned out well. It is very satisfying to know that a large majority of the voters are pleased with what we have been able to accomplish in our first term.

Gloria joins me in extending best wishes to you and Nancy for every success and happiness in the new year.

May 13, 1987

Dear Mr. Ito:

The visit of Prime Minister Nakasone to Washington was a most welcome demonstration of the warm friendship between our two countries. I wanted you to know that we in Washington are well aware of the important contribution you, as Chairman of the Policy Affairs Research Council of the Liberal Democratic Party, made to that visit and its successful outcome.

We have taken some difficult but important steps toward bringing a better balance to our economies. Much more hard work remains on both sides, but with the friendship and cooperation that exists between our countries, we can succeed.

Please accept the enclosed as a small token of my personal respect and affection.

Sincerely,

Ronald Reagan

Dear Mr. Minister:

I want you to know that it was a great pleasure to see you during your recent visit to Washington. Secretary Baker has informed me of his deep respect for you, which I share, and has made clear the important contribution you made to the success of the Prime Minister's visit and to U.S.-Japan relations.

I believe that we have made important progress toward bringing a better balance to our economies. With your continued leadership of the Finance Ministry and in future posts, I am confident our two countries will not waver in this course. I want you to know that Secretary Baker and I will do all we can to help you in your efforts on this side.

Please accept the enclosed as a small token of my respect and affection for you. I am looking forward to seeing you again next month at the Venice Summit.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Abe:

It was a sincere pleasure to see you again during your visit to Washington last month. You performed a most valuable service for both our countries by providing the outlines of the Prime Minister's thinking in advance of his visit.

Thanks to the Prime Minister's and your own efforts, we have taken important steps toward bringing a better balance to our economies. But there is still much hard work to do on both sides. I know that as Chairman of the Executive Council of the Liberal Democratic Party, and in posts to come, you will continue to play a leading role. I want you to know that I and your many friends in this country intend to give you all the help that lies in our power.

I have enclosed a small token of my respect and friendship, and look forward to seeing you again at the earliest opportunity.

Dear Mr. President:

I wish to thank you for your most kind letter and for your most thoughtful present.

The true test of any relationship is the ability to work together in both good and difficult times. The effort put in by both our countries during your recent meetings with Prime Minister Nakasone amply demonstrates the strength and resiliency of U.S.-Japan relations.

In my capacity as Secretary General of the Liberal Democratic Party I look forward to helping to implement the recent agreements reached between yourself and Prime Minister Nakasone. I have no doubt that these measures will not only lead to a balancing of our bilateral economic relationship but will make an important contribution to enhanced global prosperity.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Mrs. Beals:

Your letter to the President, regarding a gift of a quilt, has been referred to this office for reply. The Office of the Chief of Protocol maintains the historical records of gifts given by the President and First Lady to foreign government officials during official travel abroad.

The information contained in the Newsletter of the Quilters' Guild of England is not entirely correct. A quilt was given in France, but it was not "an electric patchwork" quilt. Mrs. Reagan, in June 1982, presented Mrs. Mitterrand, the wife of the French President, with a "Grandmother's Fan" pattern quilt that was pieced and hand-quilted in Pennsylvania. This traditional patchwork patterned quilt was in the colors of red, white and blue--the national colors of both our countries. We do not, however, know where this gift is being displayed or used. The quilt was purchased locally in Washington, D.C.

I hope the above information is of help to you.

Sincerely,

18/
Selwa Roosevelt

Dear Friends:

I'm hoping you can give me some information on a gift presented to President Mitterrand of France by President Reagan.

According to the Newsletter of the Quilters' Guild of England, President Reagan gave the French President "an electric patchwork quilt, which he has on his bed at his country home."

Neither the editors nor I have heard of an electric patchwork quilt

Is it possible for us to have some information about this gift? We are wondering how it was made, what the pattern is, can one buy kits to make them, or directions?

We are fascinated by the whole concept, and look forward to anything you can tell us.

sincerely,

Peggy Beals
