Dear Mr. and Mrs. Brand and Family,

Thank you for remembering us during the Holiday season.

Knowing that the Christmas stockings were a Brand family effort makes your gift extra special.

We appreciate the spirit in which you have expressed your personal support, and hope that the new year brings you every success.

Sincerely,

Dear Nancy & Dutch -

Mrs. Ruth Merrick gave me your address, so that we might mail these two "LOOT BOOTS" for your first Christmas as the President Elect.

My daughter Cyndi Kenney (Mrs. Stephen) personalized the designs, I latch hooked the yarn & my lovely wife, so Ann sewed the cloth backing & handle, for hanging on your fireplace mantle.

Have a Happy Holiday Season & for our Country's sake let's make it eight in the White House. With love & Respect to our Leaders,

The Brands,
 (over) Jo, Jim & Cyndi.

P.S. I'd be remiss if I didn't mention our daughters, Kathryn (Mrs. Steven) Kirby Dixon, I. & Pamela (Mrs. Rex) Bennett, Jerome, Idaho, who, as Jeffersonian Democrats, I believe, all voted for you. May God Bless You & Nancy & your loved ones & keep you all in good health for the trying years ahead.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Dear Bob Jan. 22, 1981

This starts out as a thank you for your most beautiful gift. And I might add a very unique one which I shall treasure.

But I can't stop with one thank you. There is the very great matter of your tireless and magnificent work on the inaugural. So for that, for your help in the campaign, and for your friendship
a heartfelt thanks.

Nancy sends her very best as do I and again our thanks.

Sincerely
Ron

Presidential Inaugural Committee - 1981

Robert H. Gray
Co-Chairman

My dear Mr. President,

Although I am delivering the attached to you before your inauguration so there can be no question about your accepting it, I hope it will be useful on the Presidential desk for holding jelly beans, paper clips and other Commander in Chief etcetera.

This is not so much a gift to you as it is an expression of thanks for your gift to me, the gift of a dream fulfilled.

From the day I first met the Reagans at the inaugural in 1969 to this one in 1981 I have dreamed of the day when a Reagan government would rule the land.

On Tuesday you fulfill that dream and I am very grateful.

With every good wish and the pledge of constant support.

Cordially,

Frances and I were so very pleased that we could support the Fine Arts Committee of the Inaugural by bringing Leonardo's Codex Leicester to the Corcoran Museum as the first official Inaugural event by invitation.

This is only the second time in 470 years that this rare work has been seen by the public.

In support of the Inaugural Committee, of which I am a member, we have arranged to offer 500 copies of the Codex and requests have been great.

We wanted you to have the first copy and send it with our warmest expressions of esteem and support.

Dear Guilford,

Nancy joins me in sending our warm thanks for the thoughtful memento in the form of Sandar Bodo's medallion.

It is an exquisite medal, unique in that it serves as a dual reminder for us, the 200th birthday of the capitol of the "Volunteer" State and the support of two of our finest "volunteers." We look forward to including it among our collection.

All our best to you and Jane in the days ahead.

Dear Mr. President-Elect:

Thank you for your very warm letter of November 21st. Jane and I enjoyed the privilege of working for you which enabled us to be with you at your home on October 25th, and we especially enjoyed the honor of being with you and Nancy at Betsy and Alfred Bloomingdale's party in your honor night before last. It was a memorable occasion for all of us and well worth the 6,000 mile trip for us.

↙ I was asked by a very good friend, a former Hungarian Freedom Fighter, Sandar Bodo to present you with a medallion he designed to commemorate Nashville's Bicentennial Celebration. Since I thought you might not want to carry it around in your pocket all night, I didn't give it to you at the party but am sending it under separate cover with all of our best wishes.

We are looking forward to seeing you both at the Inauguration in January where we will all celebrate your great victory which is, of course, a tremendous victory for our country.

With warmest regards.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Higgins:

Enclosed is a tape of a new song, composed and carefully recorded "for the new administration" by a Dr. Leo Harter, of Pittsburgh. I believe he was a large contributor in the last campaign. (address below)

This tape was given to me to forward by Clyde H. Slease III, a neighbor of Dr. Harter and counsel to Richard Mellon Scaife, of Pittsburgh.

I think they are hoping that Dr. Harter will receive a letter of thank you for the song, perhaps from the President.

Thank you very much.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. President:

Under separate cover I have sent to you and Mrs. Reagan a token of my appreciation for the job which you are undertaking for your Country.

According to the ancient Chinese proverb, the creation of the world was accomplished with the aid of four animals: the dragon, the tortoise, the phoenix and the unicorn. When their tasks were completed, each of these creatures sought a territory of its own.

The unicorn, known as the k'i-lin in China, galloped into the green forests where its strength would be undiminished by contact with human beings. Only on special occasions does the unicorn show itself. As the legend relates, the unicorn appears to mankind only when the Nation has a leader who is just and kind and the times are peaceful and prosperous. It is then that the unicorn or k'i-lin presents itself in a glade as a sign of good fortune.

The unicorn colts, created in porcelain by the artists of Cybis, symbolize that ancient legend and a Nation's aspirations and belief in the possibility for such a future with you, our new President, and your charming wife, Nancy.

My warm good wishes to you both.

Sincerely,

Mary G. Roebling

The Honorable Ronald Reagan

January 13, 1981

Dear Mr. Reagan:

Please allow us to present you with the enclosed volume,
A MODERN GUIDE TO THE JEWISH HOLY PLACES, as a token of respect on your assumption of office.

Knowing as we do your deep and sincere interest in the Holy Land and your concern for the welfare of the State of Israel, we offer you the book in the hope that it will be a welcome addition to your personal library.

The emblem on the cover and the slip-box is based on 17th-century versions of the ancient Jewish coin, the shekel, which were made by Christian craftsmen and circulated in Europe. The text reads "Jerusalem the Holy", and we felt that the design is interesting and has a certain symbolism when appearing on a book published in modern Israel. As a special gesture of gratitude for our most dedicated supporters, we had a pendant cast in the same design, and we would feel honored if the First Lady, Mrs. Reagan, would accept it.

We, together with all in the State of Israel and, indeed, the whole free world, wish you G-d's help and much success in the awesome office to which you have been elected.

May the Almighty bless you and yours.

With respect,

Jean-Claude Landau

sanhedria

Home is where love and care are!

For 90 children, Sanhedria is home and it gives them what any real home should – the love, care and encouragement which are so vital for healthy growth. Sanhedria Children's Home was founded in 1943 at the initiative of the world renowned Brisker Rav, Rabbi Yitzchak Ze'ev Soloveichick, to provide a home for refugee children who were then arriving from Eastern Europe. It was originally situated in the Sanhedria quarter of Jerusalem – hence the name – and moved to its present location after its premises were destroyed in Israel's War of Independence.

Sanhedria has since developed into a home for boys, many of them orphans, who come from severely deprived social environments. Most of the children have never known the warmth and security of a Jewish family atmosphere and arrive at Sanhedria retarded in their educational achievements and suffering from emotional and social instability . . . The children range in age from 5 to 15 and are referred to Sanhedria by the Ministry of Social Welfare which provides for their basic upkeep, an income which represents some 50% of the total budget. The children live at Sanhedria and attend local schools. Sanhedria supplies all the care and attention that a normal warm, loving home would give its children and, most importantly, provides them with the "extras" which, in reality, are as necessary as food and clothing. In the afternoon, the home provides a wide range of educational and recreational programmes designed to develop the children's capabilities and help them overcome the neglect of their early childhood. These activities include: play therapy, free expressional art work, music, photography, handicrafts and woodwork, and an individual coaching programme to enable the children to catch up with their peer group at school. All these activities are supervised by trained teachers and counsellors under the guidance of a psychologist.

The after-school programmes are not funded by any government agency but, like the building development, are dependent on the generosity of Sanhedria's friends. Children who would have been — and indeed were — educationally and emotionally stunted are blossoming at Sanhedria. Since Sanhedria was founded more than 1,000 children have been graduated and have continued their education at vocational training schools or yeshiva high schools and completed their full national service. Were it not for Sanhedria it is doubtful whether most of these young men would have become the productive self-respecting citizens that they are. Sanhedria is a home where each child is treated as an individual and its success is due to the close personal relationship that exists between the children and the dedicated professional staff. Because of space limitations, Sanhedria can admit only one out of every ten applicants. It could accept twice as many children if only it had more dormitories and the space for after-school activities and still be able to give them the individual attention every child deserves. Although some structural changes have been made over the past few years, including the addition of a dormitory wing, the extension of the dining room and the creation of a new synagogue/club room, Sanhedria has reached the maximum utilization of its cramped quarters. More space is urgently needed. Plans have already been approved by the city authorities for a 3-storied extension building which will contain: new dormitories, a dining hall and kitchen, a clinic, workshops, a synagogue, study rooms and designed play areas. Together with its existing premises, Sanhedria will be able to accommodate 150 children. Sanhedria believes that every child has the right to live in a good home and for those who have not been fortunate enough to have their own, Sanhedria is determined to provide it. Sanhedria is blessed in having devoted friends throughout the world. Please join them!

Sanhedria is a non-profit organization, has no political affiliations and is a recognized charity in Israel, the U.S., U.K., and Canada.

DAVIS

Dear Mr. D. avis:

I have just learned that my earlier thank you letter did not reach you. I am so sorry and do want you to know how much I appreciated the hatchet. I feel ~~privi~~ privileged to have it. ~~and will be a treasure~~ You were more than kind to do this.

With warm ~~personal~~ personal regard and, again, my thanks.

Dear Elaine:

About the middle of December, just before the Reagans were leaving for a sojourn in Washington, Mr. Dart sent to the President a hatchet reputed to have been made during the inauguration of George Washington. He also telephoned the President that day that he was sending it out. I don't believe Mr. Davis, the man responsible for sending it, has ever had an acknowledgment. His name and address is enclosed and if you or someone could have the President sign a letter of thanks to him I know it would be gratefully received.

Also enclosed are the names and addresses of two daughters of a United Airlines stewardess who asked Mr. Dart to secure the President's autograph. I am sure you are getting hundreds of similar requests, and rather than bother you with these in the future I hope you will let me know how to handle these requests. ~~Incidentally, speaking of autographs, was Dr. Hammer ever taken care of?~~ # 2 Who is taking care of Autographs

Hate to bother you with this trivia but, as you know, it is important.

Kindest regards and thanks,

Bill

Dear Mr. Davis:

The hatchet arrived in good shape and I talked to the President-elect about it yesterday. It is really very attractive and I sent it up to his home last night. I am sure you will hear from him in the near future.

It was so nice of you to have this wonderful thought and we are all deeply grateful.

Kindest regards and all good wishes,

Mr. Dick T. Davis

Dear Nancy Reagan,

002984

After watching you and President-Elect Reagan dancing to "big-band" swing on TV
news during the campaign, I was certain you would like my "Swing America" album. Here it is! "Happy music" that swings with a "small band".

Enjoy!

Dear President-elect Reagan,

Enclosed in this box is my gift to keep you healthy and tireless for your new job. You are now going to a job that is the most taxing job in the United States plus long hours. I would like to make it less exhausting for you.

I voted for you and am very happy to have you as our next president, so I am interested in keeping you going strong so that you can do your best for our wonderful country.

I am 69 years old and used to be so tired all the time, and then I started taking the Shaklee Nutritional products, products which are in the enclosed box. Now I stay up after midnight and get up early and go all day. I am never tired and feel wonderful.

The products are Shaklee Instant Protein, and Vita-Lea, their Vitamin and Minerals, made from natural products. Dr. Shaklee Guarantees that if you take the Protein and Vitamins for a month and don't feel better your money will be refunded. You don't have to be sick to feel better but you'll have more vitality and feel wonderful. Could you get a better guarantee?

The Shaklee Company is the largest producer of nutritional products in the world and listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Information on the Company and the Protein and vitamins is enclosed in the box.

I take the protein in orange juice which is very good, if you prefer milk I would recommend putting it in a little water first as it dissolves better in water, then add your milk. I hope you will try it for a month.

Wishes to your well being and a wonderful reign as President of the United States.

Oh yes there is also a bottle of time release Vitamin C. Of course if you feel it has done you some good, and you would like to continue with the products, I would be more than pleased to sell them to you.

Sincerely,

Kalma S. Hagan
