PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: STATE DINNER TOAST
CHANCELLOR KOHL OF WEST GERMANY
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1986

Thank you. One of the nicer parts of the job I've got is getting to know the leaders of other countries. Sometimes it isn't all that nice, but often meeting and working with these unique individuals is truly a joy. Tonight we honor one of those who has been a joy, a man who has achieved great power and influence, yet has remained unpretentious, and who, as Nancy would say, is simply charming.

Chancellor Kohl, as was reconfirmed in our meetings today, is a responsible leader who takes his work seriously, a man with confidence, because what he does is out of honest conviction. German philosopher Heinrich Heine once said the worst poison is to despair of one's own power. Well, despair is not in Chancellor Kohl's dictionary. He sets his goals and goes about achieving them with great gusto.

Chancellor Kohl is a realist, yet he has not lost touch with ideals. Carl Schurz, born a German, an adopted American, a champion of human freedom, once wrote, "Ideals are like the stars; we never reach them, but like the mariners of the sea, we chart our course by them." Chancellor Kohl charts his course with his eyes planted firmly on the ideals of liberty and justice. This is the source of his sense of purpose, the source from which Democracy draws its strength, a power beyond the reach of tyrants.

Today, the Western Democracies face challenges that, at times seem, overwhelming. Yet, we persevere and, in the end, freedom will triumph. Our victory will not be realized in the crossing of borders by well-equipped armies, certainly not in the launching of missiles or the occupation of other countries. Our victory will come, perhaps little by little, as walls are torn down, armies dismantled, and as people are freed.

Free peoples share this vision. The friendship and comradery of this visit is testimony that the world we seek is already being built. The days of tyranny are numbered. Despotism cannot stand the confines of peace. The American, German, and other free people have done what was necessary to keep the peace, and we will continue to do so.

In a few short years, the world will not only enter a new century, but also a new millennium. I would ask you all to join me now in a toast to Chancellor Kohl and to the German people, who work are working with us to ensure that it will be an age of peace, prosperity, and freedom.

ENTERTAINMENT THANK-YOU
CHANCELLOR KOHL OF WEST GERMANY

I KNOW I SPEAK FOR ALL OF US WHEN I THANK JOEL GREY FOR HIS TERRIFIC PERFORMANCE. HE HELPED US CELEBRATE LIBERTY WEEKEND AS ONE OF THE SOLOISTS IN THE AMERICANA CONCERT; HE DID AMERICA PROUD IN HIS RENDITION OF GEORGE M. COHAN'S PATRIOTIC HITS AS PART OF OUR SALUTE TO FORD'S THEATRE IN JUNE; AND HIS PERFORMANCE IN CABARET WON HIM AN ACADEMY AWARD. TONIGHT, IT WAS A THRILL TO ENJOY HIS TALENT AGAIN.

JOEL, THANK YOU.

WELL, DESPAIR IS NOT IN CHANCELLOR KOHL'S VOCABULARY. HE SETS HIS GOALS AND GOES ABOUT ACHIEVING THEM WITH GREAT GUSTO.

CHANCELLOR KOHL IS A REALIST, YET HE HAS NOT LOST TOUCH WITH IDEALS. TODAY, THE WESTERN DEMOCRACIES FACE CHALLENGES THAT, AT TIMES, SEEM OVERWHELMING.

YET, WE PERSEVERE AND, IN THE END, FREEDOM WILL TRIUMPH. OUR VICTORY WILL NOT BE REALIZED IN THE CROSSING OF BORDERS BY WELL-EQUIPPED ARMIES, CERTAINLY NOT IN THE LAUNCHING OF MISSILES OR THE OCCUPATION OF OTHER COUNTRIES. OUR VICTORY WILL COME, PERHAPS LITTLE BY LITTLE, AS WALLS ARE TORN DOWN, MISSILES DISMANTLED, AND AS PEOPLE ARE FREED.

FREE PEOPLES EVERYWHERE SHARE THIS VISION. THE FRIENDSHIP AND CAMARADERIE OF CHANCELLOR KOHL'S VISIT IS TESTIMONY THAT THE WORLD WE SEEK IS ALREADY BEING BUILT.

THE REACH OF TYRANTS.

TODAY, THE WESTERN DEMOCRACIES FACE
CHALLENGES THAT, (AT TIMES,) SEEM OVERWHELMING.

YET, WE PERSEVERE AND, IN THE END, FREEDOM
WILL TRIUMPH. OUR VICTORY WILL NOT BE REALIZED IN THE CROSSING OF BORDERS BY WELL-EQUIPPED ARMIES / CERTAINLY NOT IN THE LAUNCHING OF MISSILES OR THE OCCUPATION
OF OTHER COUNTRIES. OUR VICTORY WILL COME,
(PERHAPS LITTLE BY LITTLE,) AS WALLS ARE TORN DOWN / MISSILES DISMANTLED / AND AS PEOPLE ARE FREED.

FREE PEOPLES EVERYWHERE SHARE THIS VISION. THE FRIENDSHIP AND CAMARADERIE
OF CHANCELLOR KOHL'S VISIT IS TESTIMONY THAT THE WORLD WE SEEK IS ALREADY BEING BUILT.

IN A FEW SHORT YEARS, THE WORLD WILL NOT ONLY ENTER A NEW CENTURY, BUT ALSO A NEW MILLENNIUM.

I WOULD ASK YOU ALL TO JOIN ME NOW IN A TOAST TO FRIENDS --(CLOSE PARTNERS)--
WHO ARE WORKING WITH US TO ENSURE THAT
THE TIME AHEAD WILL BE AN AGE OF PEACE,
PROSPERITY, AND FREEDOM. TO CHANCELLOR KOHL
AND THE GERMAN PEOPLE.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: STATE DINNER TOAST
CHANCELLOR KOHL OF WEST GERMANY
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1986

Thank you. One of the nicer parts of the job I've got is getting to know the leaders of other countries. Sometimes it isn't all that nice, but often meeting and working with these unique individuals is truly a joy. Tonight we honor one of those who has been a joy to know, a man who has achieved great power and influence, yet has remained unpretentious, and who, as Nancy would say, is simply charming.

Chancellor Kohl, as was reconfirmed in our meetings today, is a responsible leader who takes his work seriously, a man with confidence, because what he does is out of honest conviction. German philosopher Heinrich Heine once said the worst poison is to despair of one's own power. Well, despair is not in Chancellor Kohl's dictionary. He sets his goals and goes about achieving them with great gusto.

Chancellor Kohl is a realist, yet he has not lost touch with ideals. Carl Schurz, born a German, an adopted American, a champion of human freedom, once wrote, "Ideals are like the stars; we never reach them, but like the mariners of the sea, we chart our course by them." Chancellor Kohl charts his course with his eyes planted firmly on the ideals of liberty and justice. This is the source of his sense of purpose, the source from which Democracy draws its strength, a power beyond the reach of tyrants.

Today, the Western Democracies face challenges that, at times, seem overwhelming. Yet, we persevere and, in the end, freedom will triumph. Our victory will not be realized in the crossing of borders by well-equipped armies, certainly not in the launching of missiles or the occupation of other countries. Our victory will come, perhaps little by little, as walls are torn down, missiles dismantled, and as people are freed.

Free peoples everywhere share this vision. The friendship and camaraderie of Chancellor Kohl's visit is testimony that the world we seek is already being built.

In a few short years, the world will not only enter a new century, but also a new millennium. I would ask you all to join me now in a toast to friends -- close partners -- who are working with us to ensure that the time ahead will be an age of peace, prosperity, and freedom: to Chancellor Kohl and the German people.

Sometimes it isn't all that nice, but often meeting and working with these unique individuals is truly a joy. Tonight we honor one of those who has been a joy, a man who has achieved great power and influence, yet has remained unpretentious, and who, as Nancy would say, is simply charming.

Chancellor Kohl, as was reconfirmed in our meetings today, is a responsible leader who takes his work seriously, a man with confidence, because what he does is out of honest conviction. German philosopher Heinrich Heine once said the worst poison is to despair of one's own power. Well, despair is not in Chancellor Kohl's dictionary. He sets his goals and goes about achieving them with great gusto.

Chancellor Kohl is a realist, yet he has not lost touch with ideals. Carl Schurz, born a German, an adopted American, a champion of human freedom, once wrote, "Ideals are like the stars; we never reach them, but like the mariners of the sea, we chart our course by them." Chancellor Kohl charts his course with his eyes planted firmly on the ideals of liberty and justice. This is the source of his sense of purpose, the source from which Democracy draws its strength, a power beyond the reach of tyrants.

Today, the Western Democracies face challenges that, at times seem, overwhelming. Yet, we persevere and, in the end, freedom will triumph. Our victory will not be realized in the crossing of borders by well-equipped armies, certainly not in the launching of missiles or the occupation of other countries. Our victory will come, perhaps little by little, as walls are torn down, armies dismantled, and as people are freed.

Free peoples share this vision. The friendship and comradery of this visit is testimony that the world we seek is already being built. The days of tyranny are numbered. Despotism cannot stand the confines of peace. The American, German, and other free people have done what was necessary to keep the peace, and we will continue to do so.

In a few short years, the world will not only enter a new century, but also a new millennium. I would ask you all to join me now in a toast to Chancellor Kohl and to the German people, who work are working with us to ensure that it will be an age of peace, prosperity, and freedom.
