The office of the Vice President has advised that an invitation should be extended to Iraqi Deputy Prime Minister Tariq Aziz to visit the Vice President at a mutually convenient time when Kittani calls on you Thursday. OVP asked for emphasis on difficulty of finding mutually convenient time, as VP will have a heavy travel schedule in the closing days of the election campaign.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

January 14, 1985

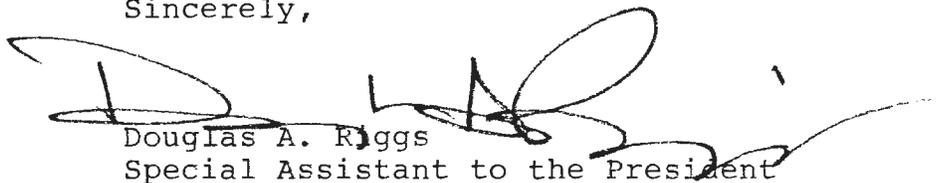

Dear Teddy:

On behalf of the President, I wish to thank you for your cable of congratulations on the resumption of diplomatic relations between the United States and Iraq. We share your belief in the importance of this development.

The resumption of relations between the United States and Iraq was a formal recognition of the authoritative diplomatic dialogue that had developed between our countries over the past several years. This dialogue is necessary and useful to help build cooperation and manage differences in foreign policy issues, particularly in the search for regional stability and peace. The resumption of relations with Iraq is not intended to affect our relations with other countries in the region, nor is it an indication that the U.S. has altered its neutral stance in the Iran-Iraq war. We hope resumption of diplomatic relations will help increase commerce with Iraq, which already constitutes an important export market for the United States.

We welcome your support for the patience and persistence necessary in the pursuit of peace and other American interests in the Middle East.

Sincerely,
