FROM: PETER R. SOMMER Peer

SUBJECT: Co-operation Ireland

SIGNED

Brendan O'Regan, Chairman of Co-operation Ireland, a private group promoting peace and reconciliation in Ireland, wrote the President to thank him for mentioning Co-operation Ireland in his St. Patrick's Day remarks. In his letter, O'Regan asked if he could keep the President advised from time to time on Co-operation Ireland's work. The President noted this request and asked if O'Regan's request had been answered (Tab A). Darman suggested that you contact O'Regan and offer to let him keep you informed. We think it more appropriate that O'Regan keep the NSC staff informed, rather than you directly.

RECOMMENDATION

1. That you sign the memo to the President at Tab I informing him that you have replied to O'Regan and asked that O'Regan keep the NSC staff informed about Co-operation Ireland's good work.

Dear Mr President,

Many thanks for your helpful reference to the work of "Co-operation Ireland" when you spoke after luncheon on Friday 16 March at the White House. I am sure that these words of yours will increase support for our efforts to achieve greater understanding and co-operation and so help to reduce violence and hasten the advent of peace in Ireland.

The various activities in which we are engaged have given us many valuable insights into new ways of overcoming the misunderstandings and fears which lead to violence. We aim to expand our activities in Ireland and in the U.S.A. so as to become part of what Teilhard de Chardin describes as "A sustained state of growing, convergence and concentration, a great organized endeavour". **

My hope is that the experience we are gaining may also be of value to all who seek to establish peace in other areas of conflict. Mr President, may I keep you advised of our progress from time to time?

With renewed thanks and respectful good wishes, I am,

Yours sincerely,

Brendan O'Regan
Chairman, Co-operation Ireland.

Dear Mr. President,

I am belatedly writing you to thank you for including John and me at the luncheon last month in honor of Prime Minister FitzGerald and saluting St. Patrick's Day, and also for the very kind telephone call to wish me a happy birthday.

While I must confess that I am Irish by marriage rather than by lineage, this in no way detracted from my pleasure in being at the White House for the luncheon.

The Prime Minister and you both spoke eloquently for all who were with you in the East Room when you decried the sad violence that takes place on the Emerald Island and pointed out the tragic consequences of furnishing financial support for those who would engage in such activities.

It is always impossible to respond in kind to your hospitality. However, your sense of humor is so keen and your love of Irish stories and your ability to tell them is so apparent that I thought I would share with you an amusing Irish story, a copy of which I enclose. I hasten to add, before you read it, if you ever find time to do so, that the O'Connor described in the enclosed article is (we hope) no relation either to your undersigned appointee or her husband.

Sincerely,

Sandra O'Connor
