Ronald Reagan Presidential Library Digital Library Collections

This is a PDF of a folder from our textual collections.

WHORM Subject File Code: SP890

(Speeches: London Speeches (on TR105-02), England, 06/04/1984-06/10/1984)

Case file Number(s): 220000-End

Box: 222

To see more digitized collections visit: https://www.reaganlibrary.gov/archives/digitized-textual-material

To see all Ronald Reagan Presidential Library inventories visit: https://www.reaganlibrary.gov/archives/white-house-inventories

Contact a reference archivist at: reagan.library@nara.gov

Citation Guidelines: https://reaganlibrary.gov/archives/research-support/citation-guide

National Archives Catalogue: https://catalog.archives.gov/

Last Updated: 05/06/2024

MEMORANDUM

NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL

May 24, 1984

2287555C SP890

MEMORANDUM FOR BEN ELLIOTT

FROM:

ROBERT M. KIMMITT &6

SUBJECT:

Presidential Toast: British State Dinner

We have reviewed and concurred with the British State Dinner Toast, as modified.

Attachment

Tab A - Recommended Changes

cc: Richard Darman

NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL

· Salar

ACTION

May 24, 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR ROBERT M. KIMMITT

FROM:

TYRUS W. COBB

SUBJECT:

Presidential Toast: British State Dinner

RECOMMENDATION

That you sign the self-explanatory Tab I memo to Ben Elliott.

Approve C

Disapprove ____

Jim Rentschler, Peter Sommer, Karna Small and Doug McMinn

Attachments

Tab I - Memo to Elliott

Tab A - Recommended Changes

Natio	onal Security The White H	y Council ouse	1180
,		System #
D		Package #	4209
24 P3: 24	QUENCE TO	HAS SEEN	DISPOSITION
Dep. Exec. Sec'y	1
Bob Kimmitt	2	K
John Poindexter	, and the second
Tom Shull
Wilma Hall
Bud McFarlane
Bob Kimmitt		,	acoh.
NSC Secretariat	3		12)
Situation Room
		,
I = Information A = Action	R = Retain	D = Dispatch · N =	No further Action
cc: VP Meese Baker	Deaver Oth	er
COMMENTS		en by:
5-24-84	5/24	lid acto	(Date/Time)
Bob - Due COBTODAY!	Marie .	Darman	to
	6/	Darmar Jan Car	H sel sel
	V	Cy for N	enclusiv

84 MAY 24 P4: 07

downwell it

EC Ab

Experience description

ZERTSCHILL HITCH

MAG SALITATION

200 Killing

Marie Dates Named Street

Wilma Hal

TEM FORM

SERVICE AND INCOME.

mod kimmin

SWID FALL

The transfer of the transfer o

RECEIVED 23 MAY 84 19

TO

MCFARLANE

FROM DARMAN, R

DOCDATE 23 MAY 84

KEYWORDS LONDON SUMMIT SPEECHES

DARMAN REFERRAL

URGENT

SUBJECT PROPOSED PRES TOAST FOR BRITISH STATE DINNER 9 JUN

ACTION. MEMO KIMMITT TO DARMAN/ELLIOTT DUE: 24 MAY 84 STATUS S FILES WH

FOR ACTION

FOR CONCURRENCE

FOR INFO

ROBINSON SIGUR

COBB

SOMMER RENTSCHLER

KIMMITT

MARTIN

SESTANOVICH

SHULL

SMALL

THOMPSON

COMMENTS Recd in NSC/5 19:30; Dispatched immedi

REF#

LOG

NSCIFID

(JF

ACTION OFFICER (S) ASSIGNED ACTION REQUIRED DUE

E)

228 1555C SP890

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

2/14/85

NOTE TO PAT BUCHANAN

FROM: BEN ELLIOTT

The attached have been sent to NSC for their approval and are sent for your information.

Presidential lemarks: Poast at 200th anniversary Denner - The British Embassy

(Robinson/Noonan/BE) February 15, 1985 11:00 a.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST AT 200th ANNIVERSARY DINNER
THE BRITISH EMBASSY
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1985

Prime Minister, Minister Howe, Minister Heseltine, Sir Oliver and Lady Wright, ladies and gentlemen:

Tonight we celebrate 200 years of diplomatic relations between England and the United States. For two centuries we have been trading partners; we have stood together through two great world conflicts. Forty years ago last summer Americans and Englishmen joined together in an invasion launched from Britain, the greatest invasion in all of man's history. Together we fought on the sands of Normandy; together, we reclaimed a continent to liberty.

Prime Minister, the United States and the United Kingdom are bound together by innumerable ties of ancient history and present friendship. Our language, our law, our democratic system of government, and our fierce belief in the God-given right of all men to be free -- all these the United States owes to your proud island.

We share a deep affection for one another, but then, there have been a few moments in our history when relations were not so smooth. You remember that we followed the war of Independence with a small disagreement a few years later. Recently at the White House we removed some 200 years of paint. And underneath we found the black marks left by the flames that were started by the British in 1812. I found this instructive. It helped keep things in perspective today when the Prime Minister and I were disagreeing on a small point. I told her, "That's alright, you've put the heat on us before."

Prime Minister, welcome back to America. In our discussions, I have, as always, been delighted by the vigor, clarity, and directness of your views. I have always wanted to tell you that, when I ran for office in 1980, I was greatly encouraged by the victory you won in 1979. And it was very thoughtful of you to set me an even better example in 1983. Sir Oliver and Lady Wright, thank you for hosting this splendid event. Nancy and I are honored to be here.

We celebrate tonight our past and our future. Great challenges loom ahead. We must do all that we can to unleash economic growth both in our countries and throughout the world. In our own countries, we have already done much to free our economies from the dead hand of Government control. But we can do more.

Here in America, we are determined to reduce spending growth and significantly reduce tax rates further by simplifying our entire tax structure. In international commerce, our task is to knock down barriers to trade and foreign investment, and to the free movement of capital. I look forward to working with you on these matters as we prepare for the 11th economic summit of industrialized nations in Bonn.

In foreign affairs, we and our NATO allies have stayed strong while demonstrating our openness to genuine arms reductions. Prime Minister, I know you share my satisfaction that the Soviets have returned to the bargaining table. Now we must press on together for success in mutual and verifiable arms reductions, expanded world freedom, and a more secure peace.

We greatly appreciate your support, Prime Minister, for our Strategic Defense Initiative. In many areas of this research, technical progress is coming more quickly than we had expected, and we already possess the means to increase the security of the United States, Great Britain, and all Western Europe. We are eager to be joined in this research by our allies, and we look forward to your contributions.

It is hard to be here on this candle-lit evening in your stately Embassy without thinking of the great men and women, British and American, who have gone before us and who have worked together as we do today. I think of F.D.R. and Churchill conferring in the rain. Roosevelt deeply admired his friend Winston. And many of us remember the warmth John Kennedy felt for Harold MacMillan, and how MacMillan wept when Kennedy died. There has been something very special about the friendships between the leaders of our two countries. And may I say to my friend the Prime Minister: I would like to add two more names to this list of affection -- Reagan and Thatcher.

Prime Minister, ladies and gentlemen: Mindful of the two centuries of diplomatic relations our two nations have enjoyed, grateful for our common heritage of liberty, and in a spirit of celebration, please join me in a toast to your gracious Sovereign: The Queen.

WHITE HOUSE CORRESPONDENCE TRACKING WORKSHEET

O · OUTGOING			684
☐ H - INTERNAL			,
Date Correspondence Received (YY/MM/DD)
Name of Correspondent:	chard L	armar	1
☐ MI Mail Report	User Codes: (A)		(B)	(C)
Subject: Proposed	Presider	stal	Remar	K5 %
(5 /33-3:30 00	non ota	te VIV	ner
	Talay!
ROUTE TO:	A	CTION	DISP	OSITION
Office/Agency (Staff Name)	Action Code	Tracking Date YY/MM/DD	Type of Response	Completion Date Code YY/MM/DD
Cuttore	ORIGINATOR	84 05123		C84.05.29
CHATOS	Referral Note:	84 05 103	JV	1.84,05,22
NIGTIT	Referral Note:	711		00/000
· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	Referral Note:	84 PS 193	JV	C 89 100 12 8
Cufiel	5	84 105 24	· JV	C84 0524
U	Referral Note:	JFI	mens to	Ben Elsott
	Referral Note:
ACTION CODES:			DISPOSITION CODES:
A - Appropriate Action C - Comment/Recommendation D - Draft Response F - Furnish Fact Sheet	Info Copy Only/No A R - Direct Reply w/Copy S - For Signature X - Interim Reply		A - Answered B - Non-Special Refer	C - Completed ral S - Suspended
to be used as Enclosure	X - Interim Reply	may .	FOR OUTGOING CORR Type of Response = Code =	Initials of Signer
Commenter			Completion Date =	Date of Outgoing
Comments:

Keep this worksheet attached to the original incoming letter.

Send all routing updates to Central Reference (Room 75, OEOB).

Always return completed correspondence record to Central Files.

Refer questions about the correspondence tracking system to Central Reference, ext. 2590.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT ONLY

CLASSIFICATION SECTION

	CLASSIFICATION SECTION
No. of Additional Correspondents: Media:	Individual Codes:
Prime Subject Code:	Secondary Subject Codes:
	·_
	PRESIDENTIAL REPLY
Code Date	Comment	Form
		t
C	Time:	P-
DSP	Time:	Media:
and the same		and the state of
SIGNATURE CODES:	MEDIA CODES:
CPn - Presidential Correspondence n - 0 - Unknown	B - Box/package C - Copy
n - 1 - Ronald Wilson Reagan n - 2 - Ronald Reagan n - 3 - Ron	D - Official docum G - Message	ent ·
n - 4 - Dutch n - 5 - Ron Reagan	H - Handcarried L - Letter
n - 6 - Ronald n - 7 - Ronnie	M- Mailgram O - Memo P - Photo
CLn - First Lady's Correspondence	R - Report
n - 0 - Unknown n - 1 - Nancy Reagan	S - Sealed T - Telegram
n - 2 - Nancy n - 3 - Mrs. Ronald Reagan	V - Telephone X - Miscellaneous Y - Study
CBn - Presidential & First Lady's Corr n - 1 - Ronald Reagan - Nancy Rea n - 2 - Ron - Nancy	espondence

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

May 24, 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR BEN ELLIOTT

DEPUTY ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTOR OF SPEECHWRITING

FROM:

FRED F. FIELDING Orig. signed by FFF

COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT:

Draft Presidential Remarks for Toast at British State Dinner

Our office has reviewed the above-referenced draft remarks and has no legal or other substantive objection to them.

cc: Richard G. Darman

FFF:PJR:pr 5/24/84

cc: FFFielding

PJRusthoven Subject Chron.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

May 24, 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR FRED F. FIELDING

FROM:

PETER J. RUSTHOVEN

SUBJECT:

Draft Presidential Remarks for Toast at British State Dinner

Richard Darman's office asked us to provide comments directly to Ben Elliott by close of business today on the above-referenced draft remarks, which the President is scheduled to deliver Saturday, June 9, as a toast at the state dinner at the conclusion of the annual economic summit.

The draft remarks note the accomplishments of the meeting (which are obviously only anticipated, at this point) and make appropriate comments about the Alliance. The remarks present no legal or other problem on which our office need comment.

A memorandum for Elliott, with copy to Darman, is attached for your review and signature.

Attachment

Document	No.

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE:	5/23/84	ACTION/CONCL	JRRENCE/CO	MMENT DUE BY:	5/24 c.	.o.b.
SUBJECT:	PROPOSED P	RESIDENTIAL	REMARKS:	TOAST FOR	BRITISH	STATE	DINN	ER
	(5/23 - 3:	30 p.m. draf	t)
		ACTIO	ON FYI			AC	TION	FYI
VICE	PRESIDENT			McMANUS
MEES	E			MURPHY
BAKE	R ·			OGLESBY
DEAV	ER			ROGERS
STOC	KMAN	V		SPEAKES
DARM	IAN	□F	195	SVAHN
FELDS	STEIN			VERSTANDIG
FIELD	ING			WHITTLESEY
FULLE	ER .	U		TUTWILER
HERR	INGTON			WIRTHLIN
HICKE	Υ			HENKEL
McFA	RLANE			ELLIOTT
REMARKS:

Please provide any comments directly to Ben Elliott, with a copy to my office, by close of business tomorrow, 5/24. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

(Rohrabacher/BE)
May 23, 1984
3:30 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST FOR BRITISH STATE DINNER SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1984

Your Majesty, President Mitterand, Prime Ministers:

Having been in the position of host myself, I know the long hours of preparation that have gone into each of the meetings we've held. And I would like to thank Your Majesty's government for the gracious welcome, the splendid arrangements, and the outstanding leadership of Prime Minister Thatcher.

Our discussions over the past two days have been fruitful and rewarding, and they testify to the spirit of cooperation that characterizes our relationship. Through our traditions of unity and strength, and because of our real dedication to peace, the continent of Europe has not seen war for almost 40 years. That is as good a reflection as any of the worth, importance, and success of the countries represented here in peace.

We still have much to accomplish. We all want to strengthen our economies to assure a better life for our people; we want to inject new vitality into international trade; and we want to approach the problems of the developing world with good sense and unity.

These are big tasks, but I think we can be pleased with the progress we've made:

-- We have reached a new recognition of the need for effective economic adjustment in sustaining and spreading economic recovery;

- -- We have agreed to develop longer-term improvements in the financial situation;
- -- We have decided to consolidate and strengthen the open international trading system; and
- -- We have taken the first steps toward better cooperation in confronting international terrorism.

During these past few days, as we have met together in the splendor of this magnificent city, my thoughts turned not to ancient history, but to the more recent past.

I thought of some other leaders who have met to talk of mutual problems. I thought of Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt, and how they were more than allies in a war -- they were friends. They admired and respected each other, and they looked forward to each other's letters and stories. And I thought of Harold MacMillan and John Kennedy, and how they, too, started out as statesmen and wound up as friends.

I hope historians of the future take note that part of the reason our relationship has flourished is that we had a mutual respect and affection for each other, and that we translated our sentiments into a diplomatic alliance that is among the most outstanding and enduring in the history of the world.

Of course there will always be times when we have disagreements, but this should not discourage us. I've been making quite a study of the Normandy invasion these past few weeks, and I've been struck again by the fact that Field Marshall Montgomery, and Generals Eisenhower, DeGaulle, and Leclerc did not always see eye-to-eye. In fact, on occasion they disagreed a great deal. But somehow they managed to launch together one of the greatest military undertakings in human history.

I want to toast all of you this evening. And I toast you in friendship and in the memory of all the great men who led us in Europe. To Churchill and Montgomery and DeGaulle and Roosevelt -- and to a brave and good man, King George the 6th; and Your Majesty, to his daughter. To the Queen.

Document No.

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUN

FG006-11

DATE: 5/23/84

ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY:

5/24 c.o.b. FG020

SUBJECT:

PROPOSED PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

TOAST FOR BRITISH STATE DINNER

(5/23 - 3:30 p.m. draft)

ACTION FYI				ACTION FYI
VICE PRESIDENT			McMANUS
MEESE			MURPHY
BAKER			OGLESBY
DEAVER		0	ROGERS
STOCKMAN to comment 124			SPEAKES
DARMAN	□P	195	SVAHN
FELDSTEIN			VERSTANDIG
FIELDING mo of 5/25			WHITTLESEY
FULLER			TUTWILER
HERRINGTON			WIRTHLIN
HICKEY			HENKEL	1
McFARLANE concur as fiel	124		ELLIOTT	.0

REMARKS:

Please provide any comments directly to Ben Elliott, with a copy to my office, by close of business tomorrow, 5/24. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

Richard G. Darman Assistant to the President Ext. 2702

(Rohrabacher/BE)
May 23, 1984
3:30 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST FOR BRITISH STATE DINNER SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1984

Your Majesty, President Mitterand, Prime Ministers:

Having been in the position of host myself, I know the long hours of preparation that have gone into each of the meetings we've held. And I would like to thank Your Majesty's government for the gracious welcome, the splendid arrangements, and the outstanding leadership of Prime Minister Thatcher.

Our discussions over the past two days have been fruitful and rewarding, and they testify to the spirit of cooperation that characterizes our relationship. Through our traditions of unity and strength, and because of our real dedication to peace, the continent of Europe has not seen war for almost 40 years. That is as good a reflection as any of the worth, importance, and success of the countries represented here in peace.

We still have much to accomplish. We all want to strengthen our economies to assure a better life for our people; we want to inject new vitality into international trade; and we want to approach the problems of the developing world with good sense and unity.

These are big tasks, but I think we can be pleased with the progress we've made:

-- We have reached a new recognition of the need for effective economic adjustment in sustaining and spreading economic recovery;

- -- We have agreed to develop longer-term improvements in the financial situation;
- -- We have decided to consolidate and strengthen the open international trading system; and
- -- We have taken the first steps toward better cooperation in confronting international terrorism.

During these past few days, as we have met together in the splendor of this magnificent city, my thoughts turned not to ancient history, but to the more recent past.

I thought of some other leaders who have met to talk of mutual problems. I thought of Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt, and how they were more than allies in a war -- they were friends. They admired and respected each other, and they looked forward to each other's letters and stories. And I thought of Harold MacMillan and John Kennedy, and how they, too, started out as statesmen and wound up as friends.

I hope historians of the future take note that part of the reason our relationship has flourished is that we had a mutual respect and affection for each other, and that we translated our sentiments into a diplomatic alliance that is among the most outstanding and enduring in the history of the world.

Of course there will always be times when we have disagreements, but this should not discourage us. I've been making quite a study of the Normandy invasion these past few weeks, and I've been struck again by the fact that Field Marshall Montgomery, and Generals Eisenhower, DeGaulle, and Leclerc did not always see eye-to-eye. In fact, on occasion they disagreed a great deal. But somehow they managed to launch together one of the greatest military undertakings in human history.

I want to toast all of you this evening. And I toast you in friendship and in the memory of all the great men who led us in Europe. To Churchill and Montgomery and DeGaulle and Roosevelt -- and to a brave and good man, King George the 6th; and Your Majesty, to his daughter. To the Queen.

To: C.FULLER (EOP021)

To: WH-RM (EOP043)

To: DOC (EOP060)

To: USTR (EOP262)

From: WH-SPEECH (EOP047)

Posted: Wed 23-May-84 15:45 EDT Sys 64 (90)

To: WH-OCA (EOP020)

Subject: ss/speech/Toast for British State Dinner

Acknowledgment Sent

(Rohrabacher/BE) May 23, 1984 3:30 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST FOR BRITISH STATE DINNER SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1984

Your Majesty, President Mitterand, Prime Ministers:

Having been in the position of host myself, I know the long hours of preparation that have gone into each of the meetings we've held. And I would like to thank Your Majesty's government for the gracious welcome, the splendid arrangements, and the outstanding leadership of Prime Minister Thatcher.

Our discussions over the past two days have been fruitful and rewarding, and they testify to the spirit of cooperation that characterizes our relationship. Through our traditions of unity and strength, and because of our real dedication to peace, the continent of Europe has not seen war for almost 40 years. That is as good a reflection as any of the worth, importance, and success of the countries represented here in peace.

We still have much to accomplish. We all want to strengthen our economies to assure a better life for our people; we want to inject new vitality into international trade; and we want to approach the problems of the developing world with good sense and unity.

These are big tasks, but I think we can be pleased with the progress we've made:

-- We have reached a new recognition of the need for effective economic adjustment in sustaining and spreading economic recovery;

- -- We have agreed to develop longer-term improvements in the financial situation;
- -- We have decided to consolidate and strengthen the open international trading system; and
- -- We have taken the first steps toward better cooperation in confronting international terrorism.

During these past few days, as we have met together in the splendor of this magnificent city, my thoughts turned not to ancient history, but to the more recent past.

I thought of some other leaders who have met to talk of mutual problems. I thought of Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt, and how they were more than allies in a war -- they were friends. They admired and respected each other, and they looked forward to each other's letters and stories. And I thought of Harold MacMillan and John Kennedy, and how they, too, started out as statesmen and wound up as friends.

I hope historians of the future take note that part of the reason our relationship has flourished is that we had a mutual respect and affection for each other, and that we translated our sentiments into a diplomatic alliance that is among the most outstanding and enduring in the history of the world.

Of course there will always be times when we have disagreements, but this should not discourage us. I've been making quite a study of the Normandy invasion these past few weeks, and I've been struck again by the fact that Field Marshall Montgomery, and Generals Eisenhower, DeGaulle, and Leclerc did not always see eye-to-eye. In fact, on occasion they disagreed a great deal. But somehow they managed to launch together one of the greatest military undertakings in human history.

I want to toast all of you this evening. And I toast you in friendship and in the memory of all the great men who led us in Europe. To Churchill and Montgomery and DeGaulle and Roosevelt -- and to a brave and good man, King George the 6th; and Your Majesty, to his daughter. To the Queen.

Comments from: WH-OCA (EOP020)

Posted: Wed 23-May-84 17:27 EDT Sys 64

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY OF COMMERCE THE UNITED STATES TRADE REPRESENTATIVE

FROM: CRAIG L. FULLER

SUBJECT: Toast for British State Dinner

Please provide any comments directly to Ben Elliott (456-6266), by close of business on May 24, with a copy to my office.

Thank you.

1984 ILM 25 Fil 4: 28

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

May 24, 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR BEN ELLIOTT

DEPUTY ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTOR OF SPEECHWRITING

FROM:

FRED F. FIELDING Orig. signed by FFF

COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT:

Draft Presidential Remarks for Toast at British State Dinner_

Our office has reviewed the above-referenced draft remarks and has no legal or other substantive objection to them.

cc: Richard G. Darman -

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND 的内部 (1) 3:01

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20503

May 24, 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR:

BEN ELLIOTT

FROM:

AL KEEL

SUBJECT:

Proposed Presidential Remarks

We have reviewed the following and have no comment:

-- Toast for British State Dinner

-- NATO Ministerial Dinner Toast

-- NATO Ministerial Meeting

-- Air Force Academy Commencement

cc: Dick Darman Dave Gerson

	Karon-	FYI
_

Document No.

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE:	5/23/84	ACTION/CONC	URRENCE/CO	DMMENT DUE BY:	5/24 c.	.o.b.	-
SUBJECT:	PROPOSED P	RESIDENTIAL	REMARKS	: TOAST FOR	BRITISH	STATE	DINNI	ER
	(5/23 - 3:	30 p.m. dra	Et)			•
		ACTI	ON FYI			AC	TION	FYI
VICE	PRESIDENT			McMANUS
MEES	E			MURPHY
BAKE	R ·			OGLESBY
DEAV	ER			ROGERS
STOC	KMAN	V		SPEAKES
DARN	IAN		P 195	SVAHN
FELDS	TEIN			VERSTANDIG	i
FIELD	ING	V		WHITTLESEY
FULLE	R			TUTWILER
HERR	INGTON			WIRTHLIN
HICKE	Υ			HENKEL
McFA	RLANE			ELLIOTT
REMARKS
Pleas my o	se provide a ffice, by cl	ny comments ose of busi	directl	y to Ben Ell orrow, 5/24.	iott, wit Thank y	th a co	ppy to	0
RESPONS	E: 40	DOC,	USTR	by en	nail

(Rohrabacher/BE)
May 23, 1984
3:30 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST FOR BRITISH STATE DINNER SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1984

Your Majesty, President Mitterand, Prime Ministers:

Having been in the position of host myself, I know the long hours of preparation that have gone into each of the meetings we've held. And I would like to thank Your Majesty's government for the gracious welcome, the splendid arrangements, and the outstanding leadership of Prime Minister Thatcher.

Our discussions over the past two days have been fruitful and rewarding, and they testify to the spirit of cooperation that characterizes our relationship. Through our traditions of unity and strength, and because of our real dedication to peace, the continent of Europe has not seen war for almost 40 years. That is as good a reflection as any of the worth, importance, and success of the countries represented here in peace.

We still have much to accomplish. We all want to strengthen our economies to assure a better life for our people; we want to inject new vitality into international trade; and we want to approach the problems of the developing world with good sense and unity.

These are big tasks, but I think we can be pleased with the progress we've made:

-- We have reached a new recognition of the need for effective economic adjustment in sustaining and spreading economic recovery;

- -- We have agreed to develop longer-term improvements in the financial situation;
- -- We have decided to consolidate and strengthen the open international trading system; and
- -- We have taken the first steps toward better cooperation in confronting international terrorism.

During these past few days, as we have met together in the splendor of this magnificent city, my thoughts turned not to ancient history, but to the more recent past.

I thought of some other leaders who have met to talk of mutual problems. I thought of Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt, and how they were more than allies in a war -- they were friends. They admired and respected each other, and they looked forward to each other's letters and stories. And I thought of Harold MacMillan and John Kennedy, and how they, too, started out as statesmen and wound up as friends.

I hope historians of the future take note that part of the reason our relationship has flourished is that we had a mutual respect and affection for each other, and that we translated our sentiments into a diplomatic alliance that is among the most outstanding and enduring in the history of the world.

Of course there will always be times when we have disagreements, but this should not discourage us. I've been making quite a study of the Normandy invasion these past few weeks, and I've been struck again by the fact that Field Marshall Montgomery, and Generals Eisenhower, DeGaulle, and Leclerc did not always see eye-to-eye. In fact, on occasion they disagreed a great deal. But somehow they managed to launch together one of the greatest military undertakings in human history.

I want to toast all of you this evening. And I toast you in friendship and in the memory of all the great men who led us in Europe. To Churchill and Montgomery and DeGaulle and Roosevelt -- and to a brave and good man, King George the 6th; and Your Majesty, to his daughter. To the Queen.

10.0.b. 5/24

(Rohrabacher/BE)
May 23, 1984
3:30 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST FOR BRITISH STATE DINNER SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1984

Your Majesty, President Mitterand, Prime Ministers:

Having been in the position of host myself, I know the long hours of preparation that have gone into each of the meetings we've held. And I would like to thank Your Majesty's government for the gracious welcome, the splendid arrangements, and the outstanding leadership of Prime Minister Thatcher.

Our discussions over the past two days have been fruitful and rewarding, and they testify to the spirit of cooperation that characterizes our relationship. Through our traditions of unity and strength, and because of our real dedication to peace, the continent of Europe has not seen war for almost 40 years. That is as good a reflection as any of the worth, importance, and success of the countries represented here in peace.

We still have much to accomplish. We all want to strengthen our economies to assure a better life for our people; we want to inject new vitality into international trade; and we want to approach the problems of the developing world with good sense and unity.

These are big tasks, but I think we can be pleased with the progress we've made:

-- We have reached a new recognition of the need for effective economic adjustment in sustaining and spreading economic recovery;

psia dos:

(Rohrebacher/SE) May 23, 1984 5:30 p.m.

PREDICENTIAL REMARKS: TOACT FOR BEITISH STATE DINNER SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1984

Your Majesty, President Mittegand, Prime Ministers;

Naving been in the position of host myself, I know the long hours of preparation that have gone into each of the meetings we've held. And I would like to thank Your Majesty's government for the gracious velcome, the splendid arrangements, and the outstanding leadership of Prime Minister Thatcher.

Our discussions over the past two days have been fruitful and rewarding, and they testify to the spirit of cooperation that characterizes our relationship. Through our traditions of unity and strength, and because of our real dedication to peace, the continent of Durope has not seen war for almost 40 years. That is as good a reflection as any of the worth, importance, and success of the countries represented here in peace.

We still have much to accomplish. We all want to strengtion our economies to assure a bottex life for our people; we want to inject new vitality into international thide; and we want to approach the problems of the developing world with good sense and unity.

There are big tasks, but I think we gan be pleased with the

-- We have reached a new recognition of the need for effective aconomic adjustment in sustaining and appreading aconomic recovery:

- -- We have agreed to develop longer-term improvements in the financial situation;
- -- We have decided to consolidate and strengthen the open international trading system; and
- -- We have taken the first steps toward better cooperation in confronting international terrorism.

During these past few days, as we have met together in the splendor of this magnificent city, my thoughts turned not to ancient history, but to the more recent past.

I thought of some other leaders who have met to talk of mutual problems. I thought of Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt, and how they were more than allies in a war -- they were friends. They admired and respected each other, and they looked forward to each other's letters and stories. And I thought of Harold MacMillan and John Kennedy, and how they, too, started out as statesmen and wound up as friends.

I hope historians of the future take note that part of the reason our relationship has flourished is that we had a mutual respect and affection for each other, and that we translated our sentiments into a diplomatic alliance that is among the most outstanding and enduring in the history of the world.

Of course there will always be times when we have disagreements, but this should not discourage us. I've been making quite a study of the Normandy invasion these past few weeks, and I've been struck again by the fact that Field Marshall Montgomery, and Generals Eisenhower, DeGaulle, and Leclerc did not always see eye-to-eye. In fact, on occasion they disagreed a great deal. But somehow they managed to launch together one of the greatest military undertakings in human history.

I want to toast all of you this evening. And I toast you in friendship and in the memory of all the great men who led us in Europe. To Churchill and Montgomery and DeGaulle and Roosevelt -- and to a brave and good man, King George the 6th; and Your Majesty, to his daughter. To the Queen.

MEMORANDUM

1984 MAY 24 PM 7: 21

NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL

May 24, 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR BEN ELLIOTT

FROM:

ROBERT M. KIMMITT &6

SUBJECT:

Presidential Toast: British State Dinner

We have reviewed and concurred with the British State Dinner Toast, as modified.

Attachment

Tab A - Recommended Changes

cc: Richard Darman

Document	No.
----------	-----

0.1						OFA	IT
04 MAY 23	P 6:	13WHITE	HOUSE	STAFFING	MEMORANDUM

DATE:	5/23/84	ACTION/CONCURR	ENCE/CO	MMENT DUE BY:	5/24 c.	o.b.
SUBJECT:	PROPOSED P	RESIDENTIAL RE	MARKS:	TOAST FOR	BRITISH	STATE	DINN	ER
	(5/23 - 3:	30 p.m. draft)				•
ACTION FYI				ACTION FYI
VICE	PRESIDENT			McMANUS
MEES	E			MURPHY	-
BAKE	R			OGLESBY
DEAV	'ER			ROGERS
STOC	KMAN			SPEAKES
DARN	/AN	□P	195	SVAHN			0
FELDS	STEIN			VERSTANDIG
FIELD	ING			WHITTLESEY
FULLE	ER			TUTWILER
HERR	INGTON			WIRTHLIN
ніск	ΕY		□ .	HENKEL
MACEA	RIANE			ELLIOTT

REMARKS:

Please provide any comments directly to Ben Elliott, with a copy to my office, by close of business tomorrow, 5/24. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

(Rohrabacher/BE) May 23, 1984 3:30 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST FOR BRITISH STATE DINNER SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1984

Your Majesty, President Mitterand, Prime Ministers:

Having been in the position of host myself, I know the long hours of preparation that have gone into each of the meetings we've held. And I would like to thank Your Majesty's government for the gracious welcome, the splendid arrangements, and the outstanding leadership of Prime Minister Thatcher.

Our discussions over the past two days have been fruitful and rewarding, and they testify to the spirit of cooperation that characterizes our relationship. Through our traditions of unity and strength, and because of our real dedication to peace, the continent of Europe has not seen war for almost 40 years. That is as good a reflection as any of the worth, importance, and success of the countries represented here in peace.

We still have much to accomplish. We all want to strengthen our economies to assure a better life for our people; we want to inject new vitality into international trade; and we want to approach the problems of the developing world with good sense and unity.

These are big tasks, but I think we can be pleased with the progress we've made:

-- We have reached a new recognition of the need for effective economic adjustment in sustaining and spreading economic recovery;

- -- We have agreed to develop longer-term improvements in the financial situation;
- -- We have decided to consolidate and strengthen the open international trading system; and
- -- We have taken the first steps toward better cooperation in confronting international terrorism.

During these past few days, as we have met together in the splendor of this magnificent city, my thoughts turned not to ancient history, but to the more recent past.

I thought of some other leaders who have met to talk of mutual problems. I thought of Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt, and how they were more than allies in a war -- they were friends. They admired and respected each other, and they looked forward to each other's letters and stories. And I thought of Harold MacMillan and John Kennedy, and how they, too, started out as statesmen and wound up as friends.

I hope historians of the future take note that part of the reason our relationship has flourished is that we had a mutual respect and affection for each other, and that we translated our sentiments into a diplomatic alliance that is among the most outstanding and enduring in the history of the world; and proceed that it together the democracie of the Allectic and the Parise.

Of course there will always be times when we have disagreements, but this should not discourage us. I've been making quite a study of the Normandy invasion these past few weeks, and I've been struck again by the fact that Field Marshall Montgomery, and Generals Eisenhower, DeGaulle, and Leclerc did not always see eye-to-eye. In fact, on occasion they disagreed a great deal. But somehow they managed to launch together one of the greatest military undertakings in human history.

I want to toast all of you this evening. And I toast you in friendship and in the memory of all the great men who led us in Roosevelt and the Areal field Commenters. Europe. To Churchill, and Montgomery and DeGaulle and Roosevelt — and to a brave and good man, King George the 6th; and Your Majesty, to his daughter. To the Queen.

(1101111)

VEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1984

Presidential Remarks!
GREETING TO USS EISENHOWER

GREETINGS TO YOU, THE OFFICERS AND MEN

OF THE USS EISENHOWER! (I HAVE BEEN INSPIRED

BY THE SIGHT OF YOUR MAGNIFICENT SHIP AND

THE BATTLE GROUP WHICH ACCOMPANIED YOU TO

THE COAST OF NORMANDY. WE ARE RETURNING

FROM A COMMEMORATION OF THE FORTIETH

ANNIVERSARY OF THE D-DAY LANDINGS, THE

HEROIC OPERATION PLANNED AND COMMANDED BY

GENERAL DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER. THE MEMORY OF

IKE, OUR GREAT ALLIED LEADER, STILL INSPIRES

HEROIC EFFORTS ON BOTH SIDES OF THE ATLANTIC.

TODAY, AS 40 YEARS AGO, OUR NAVY AND ALL OUR ARMED FORCES ARE ADVANCING THE CAUSE OF PEACE AND FREEDOM. THE DEDICATION OF YOU, OUR SAILORS AND MARINES, PARTICULARLY DURING YOUR RECENT DEPLOYMENT IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN, IS IN THE HIGHEST TRADITIONS OF YOUR SERVICES.

23651755 5P890 TRIDS-02 ND013 FG002-33 ND007 CO167 THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, AND OUR ALLIES IN EUROPE AND BEYOND, ARE MORE SECURE BECAUSE OF MEN OF YOUR CALIBER WHO ARE "ON STATION" WHEN AND WHERE NEEDED. ADMIRAL FLATLEY, CAPTAIN CLEXTON, OFFICERS AND MEN OF THE "IKE," I SALUTE YOU FOR YOUR DEVOTED SERVICE TO THE CAUSE OF FREEDOM.

GOD BLESS YOU ALL:

#

MEMORANDUM

NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL

May 14, 1984

3776 241637 //30 SP890 FG006-12

MEMORANDUM FOR RICHARD G. DARMAN

FROM:

ROBERT M. KIMMITT BOY

SUBJECT:

President's June Trip to Europe: Public

Statements and Toasts

Attached are proposed Presidential remarks when he speaks to Embassy personnel in London on June 10th. As with the other drafts that we have forwarded, we ask that, following the Speechwriters' review, you circulate the draft remarks for White House clearance.

With the provision of these draft remarks to Embassy personnel, we have now furnished drafts for all the President's public statements and toasts during his European visit.

Attachment

Tab A Proposed Presidential Remarks

NSO#8403776

United States Department of State

Washington, D.C. 20520

May 8, 1984 1 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. ROBERT C. MCFARLANE THE WHITE HOUSE

SUBJECT: Proposed Remarks for the President to Make

Before Embassy Personnel in London

Attached are proposed remarks for the President to draw on when he speaks to Embassy personnel in London.

BMCkmly Charles Hill Executive Secretary

Attachment:

Proposed remarks.

- -- I am pleased to address you today, and to extend my personal thanks for all you have done to make my visit here a success.
- -- I know that the number of official visits to London is almost overwhelming, but this Embassy always rises to the challenge. Your efficiency, attention, and hospitality ensure a productive and enjoyable stay in the UK for Washington visitors, and I think that helps explain why you see so many of us so frequently.
- -- Anglo-American cooperation and consultation -- which are so necessary for peace and security -- have never been closer or more productive. This has been an especially busy year for all those concerned with European relations. It has also been a most successful year for the Western Alliance. The successful deployment of INF missiles in the face of unprecedented Soviet propaganda and political intimidation is powerful testimony to the Alliance's cohesion and durability.
- -- The Summit meeting we have just concluded further exemplified the spirit of dialogue that unites the industrial and resolve we can advance our common interest. This meeting's accomplishments leave me more convinced than ever of the importance of an open international trading system and confident of the prospects for full economic recovery and sustained growth.

In the midst of the world's turmoil, I look now more and the many other agencies theat serve us abrond than ever to the men and women of the Foreign Service, You have the heavy responsibility of implementing America's foreign policy objectives -- often in difficult and hostile settings. Your task is far from easy. With tragic frequency, your colleagues have been called on to make the supreme sacrifice, giving their lives in support of peace and freedom. memorial plaques in the State Department building which list your fallen colleagues grow longer. The tragedy at our Embassy in Beirut is still fresh in my mind. Only a few weeks ago, American officers gave their lives for peace in Southern More recently, we have seen that even Europe's most civilized capitals are not immune when radical governments decide to condone or carry out terrorism. I want to assure you that the American people appreciate deeply your proven dedication and commitment to our country and its foreign policy. You have my personal pledge that our Government stands squarely behind you and is committed to giving the Foreign Service the support it needs to stand tall in defense of American interests and the cause of peace.

-- I would like to thank equally our Foreign Service nationals who serve us so well. Ambassadors and other American officials come and go, but you provide the continuity which keeps this Embassy running so smoothly. Your efforts have contributed greatly to the excellent state of relations between our two governments and to the enduring respect and cooperation between the British and American people.

-- at hos been a fruly outstudy visite.

-- Finally, my congratulations on a job well done, and my best wishes to all of you and your families.

NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL

ACTION

May 14, 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR ROBERT M. KIMMITT

FROM:

PETER R. SOMMER

SUBJECT:

President's June Trip to Europe: Public

Statements and Toasts

RECOMMENDATION

That you sign the Tab I memo forwarding to Darman proposed Presidential remarks when he speaks to Embassy personnel in London on June 10th. With the forwarding of these remarks, we will have provided Darman with drafts for all the President's public statements and toasts during the June trip.

Disapprove____

hn, Jim Rentschler, and Ty Cobb concur.

Attachments

Tab I

Memo to Darman

Tab A Proposed Presidential Remarks

cc: Jack Matlock

Bill Martin

National Security Council The White House

		System #
		Package #	3776
	SEQUENCE TO		1159 DISPOSITION
Dep. Exec. Sec'y		4
Bob Kimmitt		1
John Poindexter
Tom Shull
Wilma Hall			-
Bud McFarlane
Bob Kimmitt		- 70
NSC Secretariat		MAY 1 4 1989	V
Situation Room
I = Information A = Action	R = Retain	D = Dispatch N =	No further Action
cc: VP Meese Bak	er Deaver Otl	ner
COMMENTS	Should be s	een by:
		(Date/Time)

84 MAY 14 P4: 29

Sob Kirann in

John McLande

Milminites

Milminites

MSC Spärannin

Shuiddion Noon

Telidorinates

Telidorinate

Medianul Security Countil

RECEIVED 10 MAY 84 09

TO

MCFARLANE FROM HILL, C

DOCDATE 08 MAY 84

SOMMER

14 MAY 84

KEYWORDS: CREAT BRITAIN

LONDON SUMMIT

SPEECHES

SUBJECT. DRAFT PRES REMARKS RE EMBASSY PERSONNEL IN LONDON

ACTION: PREPARE MEMO FOR MCFARLANE DUE: 14 MAY 84 STATUS C FILES PA

FOR ACTION

FOR CONCURRENCE

FOR INFO

RENTSCHLER ROBINSON SIGUR MARTIN

SOMMER

RENTSCHLER COBB

SMALL

KIMMITT

SHULL

COMMENTS

DISPATCH

REF# 8413753 LOG NSCIFID (CL V) ACTION OFFICER (S) ASSIGNED ACTION REQUIRED DUE COPIES TO

W/ATTCH FILE

ID 8403776

RECEIVED 10 MAY 84 09

TO

MCFARLANE FROM HILL, C

DOCDATE 08 MAY 84

KEYWORDS LONDON SUMMIT

SPEECHES

SUBJECT: DRAFT PRES REMARKS RE EMBASSY PERSONNEL IN LONDON

ACTION: PREPARE MEMO FOR MCFARLANE DUE: 14 MAY 84 STATUS S FILES WH

FOR ACTION

FOR CONCURRENCE

FOR INFO

MCMINN

ROBINSON SIGUR MARTIN

SOMMER FENTSCHLER

COBB

SMALL

KIMMITT

SHULL

COMMENTS

REF# 8413753

LOG

NSCIFID

(CL).

ACTION OFFICER (S) ASSIGNED ACTION REQUIRED DUE COPIES TO

C MAY 1 4 1984

W/ATTCH