Craig Fuller
To: The President

From: Secretary of the Interior

I would like to call your attention to an excellent opportunity for this Administration to demonstrate its consideration for the people of the United States Territory of Guam. Pope John Paul II will be visiting Guam on his upcoming trip to the Far East. He will make two stops on U. S. soil: at Guam, February 22 and 23, and at Anchorage for refueling, February 26. We would recommend that if it is at all possible, you designate William Wilson, your newly appointed Special Envoy to the Vatican, to represent you at the welcoming ceremonies in Guam. If for any reason that designation is not feasible, I suggest that you consider appointing a close personal friend as your representative in Guam for the Pope's visit.

Such representation would be an indication of your hospitality to the Pope, and a demonstration of your desire personally to share in an occasion of special importance to the people of Guam. Guam is a strategically important territory in the Western Pacific, providing key Naval and Air Force facilities. In recent years, Guamanians' profoundly patriotic attitudes, however, have been tested by a vocal minority that thinks Washington ignores Guam's significance. Guam's Governor, Paul M. Calvo, is likely to appreciate your sending the Special Envoy -- or if need be, another Presidential designee -- to hold his first meeting with the Pope on Guam, and he is likely to see it as an indication of this Administration's recognition that Guam is an integral part of the United States.

The Pope's arrival in Guam is now set for 6:50 p.m. on February 22. He will say Mass, participate in a parade, and visit public health care facilities, before departing for Tokyo at 12:30 p.m. on February 23. Governor Calvo and Catholic Bishop of Guam Felixberto Flores are coordinating plans for the Pope's reception.

Recommendation:

That you designate your Special Envoy to the Vatican, or in lieu of him a close personal friend, to represent you in welcoming the Pope to the United States territory of Guam.

WASHINGTON

February 10, 1981

Excellency:

Before the President assumed office, Monsignor Faccani was kind enough to forward the Papal New Year's Day Message, "To Serve Peace, Respect Freedom." The President has asked me to express his warm thanks and appreciation for providing the full text of that important message.

It was a pleasure to see you at the Diplomatic Reception. May I also take this opportunity to welcome you to Washington and to wish you a pleasant and productive mission. I trust you will not find me too presumptuous in adding that, just as our respective appointments coincide, the theme of Pope John Paul II's message carries special meaning for our responsibilities.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

As you perhaps know, His Holiness Pope John Paul II will be visiting Anchorage, Alaska on the morning of Thursday, February 26, 1981. The principal event of His Holiness The Pope's visit will be a Mass to be held in downtown Anchorage, following a welcoming motorcade and parade. After the festivities, the Pope will depart to continue his journey to Europe.

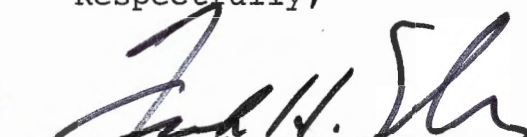

In connection with the Pope's visit, we are writing to urge that you or your personal designee be present to welcome the Pope to Anchorage and to participate in the activities during the visit there.

As an alternative suggestion, you may wish to consider having a Cabinet Member, along with a Congressional Delegation, including Senator Ted Stevens, Congressman Don Young and myself, and leading Catholic laymen from the Executive and Judicial branches of government officially greet His Holiness.

We would be delighted to discuss this suggestion with you and will appreciate your consideration of it.

Respectfully,

Ted Stevens

Dear Mr. Kennedy:

On behalf of the President, I would like to thank you for your March 3 letter regarding your recent meeting with the Pope in Alaska.

Dear Mr. President:

I was privileged to be among the members of your Delegation under the leadership of the Hon. Raymond J. Donovan to greet His Holiness Pope John Paul II in Anchorage. I am very grateful for the opportunity. I want to let you know how well your Secretary of Labor served you in his division as leader of the Delegation.

One of the events that took place in addition to the greeting of the Pope himself was a dinner hosted by the local Chamber of Commerce, the AFL-CIO, and the local Teamsters Union. It was an unusual get together. I was seated at a table with representatives of both management and labor. Secretary Donovan outlined in very explicit and fine detail your economic program. You will be pleased to note that he was accorded a standing ovation after he called for all to unite in back of what you are proposing. The labor representatives at my table were most enthusiastic in their support. Mr. Donovan did yeoman's service in promoting the cause.

I have taken this opportunity to bring your attention the reception accorded Mr. Donovan in his promotion of your economic program and to express my gratitude of being one of those few who were privileged to participate in the arrival and services of the Pope during his short stay in Alaska. Whenever I can be of service never hesitate to call on me.

With assurances of esteem and regard, I am,

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Allen:

Rev. Timothy Healy, S.J., President of Georgetown University, has advised me of his conversation with you regarding the visit of Pope John Paul to Alaska and the possibility of my receiving an invitation to be a part of the official United States delegation.

Naturally I am deeply honored and grateful for even being considered for such an invitation. Regretfully, my schedule at this time, with the ending of the basketball season and beginning of tournament play, would preclude my being able to accept an invitation if it were forthcoming. I thought it appropriate to advise you before the invitation list was finalized.

Again, I want to thank you and Father Healy for your thoughtfulness in having my name considered for such an honor.

Sincerely,

Bremner, L. Paul

On a very short fuse, State is requesting Presidential time on Saturday morning, March 28 for William A. Wilson, Personal Envoy to the Vatican. I understand that Mr. Wilson is moving through other and possibly more direct channels on this one but in good (?) bureaucratic fashion I have done up the normal schedule proposal at Tab A. I have no idea what the President's Saturday morning plans are (or yours), but if he's in the building he might want to see his old friend for a few minutes.

RECOMMENDATION:

That you sign the schedule proposal at Tab A.
