THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

May 3, 1983

Dear Captain Leiston:

On behalf of the President, I am pleased to present the enclosed photograph as an expression of appreciation for your support to the Marine Corps Aides and myself over these past three years.

During your tour of duty you have been extremely cooperative with the White House Military office in expediting Marine Corps claims for reimbursement. Due to the frequent travel that we experience, your rapid response has been very helpful and is sincerely appreciated. Your willingness to expend that extra effort has enabled Marine officers assigned to the White House to complete their duties more effectively.

I was sorry to hear that you were having to retire with medical problems; however, I wish to congratulate you on a fine career in the Corps and hope that your health will improve significantly.

Again, my sincere thanks for your assistance and good luck.

Sincerely,

MATTHEW P. CAULFIELD

Dear Mr. Secretary:

Thank you for your participation in the White House briefing on the "Be a Hero... Stay Drug Free" comic book project.

The project is off to a very good start. Press coverage of the event has been overwhelmingly positive, as I am sure you are aware. The requests for information on the project which have come into our office have also been overwhelming. We have had calls from the media throughout the country and internationally, from several senators and representatives, and from many states.

I appreciate your commitment to the project as well as that of the Department of Education.

With best regards.

Dear Terry,

Thank you for your participation in our briefing on April 25.

Your presentation of the Weekly Reader readership poll results gave a great boost to our efforts to encourage drug education at a very young age.

You have no doubt seen many of the positive press reports on the briefing. John tells me you have mentioned some of them during phone conversations.

Attached are copies of a few press clippings. The Weekly Reader survey has been and will continue to get prominent mention at discussions on drug abuse issues.

We look forward to continuing support from the Weekly Reader.

With best regards.

Dear Mr. Garvin:

I would like to express my sincere thanks for the generous contribution of the Keebler Company to the "Be a Hero...Stay Drug Free" comic book project.

We were sorry that you were unable to be at the briefing on April 25. I enjoyed meeting your representative, Mr. Charles Shemeley.

This project will make a difference in the lives of young Americans. We are determined to help create a drug free generation of young people. The support of the Keebler Company for our goal is very much appreciated.

The press coverage of our briefing and the response from both the press and general public has been overwhelmingly positive. My office is in touch with Dave Mishur on the project. I am convinced that the encouraging results we have seen so far will continue.

Once again thanks for your support.

Dear Doug:

Many thanks for your participation in the White House briefing on April 25.

The "Be a Hero...Stay Drug Free" comic book project has taken off with a bang. I understand that the Department of Education has been receiving numerous requests for information which they have been referring to my office in most cases. Our office has been kept very busy handling all the inquiries. The project is making an impact.

I appreciate all that you and the Department have done for us on this project. I look forward to your continuing support.

I was delighted to meet you last week at the White House briefing.

Please accept my warm thanks for your contribution to creating a drug free generation of American youth. Your eloquent remarks on the subject were very moving.

The "Be a Hero...Stay Drug Free" comic book project will make a difference in the lives of our young people. Your commitment to the project and the talent and hard work of DC Comics Inc. made the whole thing possible.

I look forward to your continuing cooperation. With best regards.

Dear Dave,

I enjoyed seeing you again on April 25 at the White House briefing.

The Teen Titans comic book has taken off in very encouraging fashion. I am sure you saw the positive media response. In addition, my office has been swamped with requests for information on the project from the press, Capitol Hill, and drug awareness organizations all over the country.

I am hopeful that this encouraging start means that we are beginning to make a difference.

I look forward to continuing cooperation with you and DC Comics. With best regards.

Dear Mr. President:

I recently participated in your Private Sector Survey on Cost Control for which you made the nice gesture of sending a letter of appreciation. A copy of your letter is attached.

I have considered framing the letter, but one minor detail detracts from the effect--my wife clearly considers me to be a male despite how your letter addresses me. This error has been made by others, even if the Jr. is attached to my name. My mail entry to tennis tournaments has also placed me in the women's draw on occasion.

If the inconvenience is minor, might I have a revised letter?

Dear Mr. Batten:

I have attached the original of the letter sent 8 February 1983 to me (addressed to Ms. rather than ~~Mr.~~) and copies of my 4 March 1983 letter and your 9 May 1983 response. Your kindness in correcting that inadvertent mistake is appreciated. To insure that we can close out this correspondence with the next communication, a three-step procedure appears appropriate: (1) examine the address on your 9 May letter; (2) prepare letter; (3) check for gremlins in letter.

My gremlin is working overtime lately. I recently received a survey questionnaire on breast cancer, addressed, of course, to Ms.!

Thank you for your trouble.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Claiborne:

I wanted to thank you personally for your kindness in helping us at the Summit. I didn't get there until Monday as you know, but every head of state commented on the food to me - how delicious and imaginative it was, etc., etc. Your ears should have been burning. I don't usually "clean my plate" at state dinners but I must confess that's exactly what I did Monday night. It was so light and lovely.

Again, my personal thanks for your kindness and for sharing your marvelous talents with all of us. It was a successful weekend and since, "Man cannot live by bread alone," you certainly added to the success.

Sincerely,

I understand you spent last weekend preparing the draft for my remarks yesterday on our new START proposal. "You dun good." Seriously, as you know this was perhaps the most important milestone we have reached in our strategic systems in Geneva. Not least in the importance of yesterday's announcement was the bipartisan chorus of support with which it was greeted. This was due in large measure to your efforts over the past six months and to the thoughtfulness which went into your draft.

As we press on toward success, I wanted you to know of my deep personal appreciation for all you are doing.

RECOMMENDED TELEPHONE CALL

TO: Congressman Dan Rostenkowski (D-Illinois)

DATE: Thursday, July 14, 1983

RECOMMENDED BY: Kenneth M. Duberstein Ker D.
M. B. Oglesby, Jr.

PURPOSE: To congratulate Chairman Rostenkowski on the House passage of the Caribbean Basin Initiative and to express appreciation for the cooperation he has extended on this issue to the Administration.

BACKGROUND: After having approved yesterday 212-204 a rule which precluded all amendments except five to be offered by the Ways and Means Committee, the House today passed the Administration-backed trade and tax components of the Caribbean Basin Initiative.

The vote on the rule, which was supported by the Administration and vigorously opposed by labor because it prohibited the offering of three amendments they backed, became tenuous with only a two-vote difference at one time in the final minute. Eighty-one Democrats supported the rule while thirty Republicans voted against it.

The Senate has already approved similar provisions as a part of the legislation to repeal taxes withheld on interest and dividends. Last year the House, but not the Senate, passed 260-142 nearly identical legislation after having defeated Administration-opposed amendments on rum 171-226 and tobacco by voice vote.

A House-Senate conference is expected to convene next week on the bill. Legislation with the CBI provisions should be on the President's desk prior to the August recess.

*Final note
289-129*

BACKGROUND
(CONT'D):

On the 19th, 20th, and 21st of July, Chairman Rostenkowski has scheduled Ways and Means Committee hearings on revenue-raising measures to comply with the reconciliation instructions of the recently passed Congressional budget. The Chairman has indicated little desire to raise revenues in FY '84 but is looking at the possibility of doing so in FY '85.

CALL TO CONGRESSMAN ROSTENKOWSKI

- Danny, I am personally appreciative of your efforts last year and again this year to pass in the House the tax and trade provisions of the Caribbean Basin Initiative. //
- The CBI proposal was my first major foreign policy initiative. Therefore, I regard its enactment of the highest priority.
- Considering the current state of affairs in the Caribbean region and the hope and expectation of the beneficiary countries for CBI's enactment, the passage of this legislation has come none too soon.
- The passage of the trade and tax provisions will have a very positive economic and psychological impact on the region.
- You did a heck-of-a-job managing the bill and, again, I thank you for your efforts. //

Dear Mr. Roliff:

Curtis Patrick has sent me a copy of your radio editorial script on "Reaganomics" vs. "Demo-nomics."

It is very heartening to know that citizens like you are helping spread the good news that the President's Economic Recovery Program is working.

I'm confident that you, the people in your listening audience, and all Americans will see even more evidence of the great success of the President's economic policies in the months and years to come.

We deeply appreciate your support and hope you keep up the good work.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL K. DEAVER

Dear Mr. President:

Thank you for your most gratifying letter about my efforts as a member of your Administration and your kind words about my small contribution to our common goal of more efficient Federal government.

As managing director of the United States Information Agency's Foreign Press Center in New York, I have an unusual opportunity to measure the success of your leadership. I most certainly join in your commitment to meet and master, with God's help, the challenges that lie ahead of us in this decade. Again my thanks for your letter.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Ron:

As you leave the White House I want to thank you for a job well done.

The first task facing a new President is also the most important -- selecting qualified individuals to carry out his electoral mandate. During your period of service in Washington, you have worked conscientiously and diligently to help me appoint such individuals to key policy-making posts in the area of National Security. You can take great pride in your record of achievement during your nearly three years in Presidential Personnel.

Of course, I can understand your desire at this time to return to the other Washington -- beautiful Washington State. Please accept my best wishes for every future success and happiness.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for allowing me to work on your team in the White House for the past 32 months. It has been a marvelous experience, one I will always cherish.

Although I am leaving the White House, I will still be on the team, since I intend to get involved in your 1984 campaign for re-election, in order to see to it that you have the opportunity to fully implement your agenda for our country.

May God's choicest blessings be with you during the coming months and years.

Dear Andy:

I appreciated having the opportunity to meet you at the NACo Conference. It was most helpful for me to be able to learn first-hand from you the issues and concerns that confront county officials.

I hope that this will serve as the beginning of a warm and fruitful relationship. It is important for me to be able to reach out and contact county officials like you in order to learn of the problems, successes and needs of the counties.

Again, it was a pleasure to have met you. I look forward to working with you.

Dear Roger:

Peter Grace has told me of your recent contribution to the Foundation for the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control. I very much appreciate your overwhelming generosity and support for PPSSCC, one of my Administration's major initiatives. Those of us who are determined to restore sound principles of fiscal management to the Federal government know that PPSSCC is playing a key role in this effort.

I have learned from Peter and others that the work of the task force which you personally chaired was exceptional in its scope and content. Your continuing commitment to that endeavor, as demonstrated most recently by your thoughtful generosity, will long be remembered by us all.

With warmest personal regards,

Sincerely,

THE PRESIDENT'S PRIVATE SECTOR SURVEY ON COST CONTROL

August 10, 1983

MEMORANDUM FOR:

CRAIG FULLER

FROM:

JANET COLSON

SUBJECT:

Presidential Letter to Roger Milliken

As you may or may not know, Roger Milliken recently made a $300,000 gift to the Foundation for the President's Private Sector Survey. This is over and beyond some $30,000 which he has already given to date.

Needless to say, Roger's support for our effort is nothing short of overwhelming and if there is any way we could get a Presidential letter thanking him for his efforts, we would enormously appreciate it. I am enclosing a draft letter which might be used, but needless to say you should modify it as you feel appropriate.

Thanks for your help.

Attachment.

DRAFT LETTER TO ROGER MILLIKEN

Dear Roger/Mr. Milliken:

Peter Grace has told me of your recent contribution to the Foundation for the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control. Your overwhelming generosity and support for PPSSCC, a major initiative of this Administration and one to which I am deeply committed, is very much appreciated by those of us who are determined to restore sound ^{les} ~~principals~~ of fiscal management to the Federal Government.

I know from Peter and others, that the work of the task force which you ~~and Jack Hanley~~ ^{chaired} ~~shared~~ was exceptional in its scope and content. Your continuing commitment to that endeavor, as most recently demonstrated by your thoughtful generosity, will long be remembered by all of us.

With warmest personal regards.

Sincerely,
