Biography

Dr. Carlton E. Turner was born in Choctaw County, Alabama in 1940. He graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi, earning a bachelor's degree in chemistry and master's and doctoral degrees in organic chemistry. Turner became one of the nation's leading experts on the botany and pharmacology of marijuana.

Before joining the Reagan Administration, Turner headed the Marijuana Research Project at the University of Mississippi. He served in the University's Research Institute for Pharmaceutical Studies, becoming Director of the Institute in 1980. He also worked as a consultant for government agencies and private firms in the United States, Mexico, and Canada, as well as for the United Nations.

Turner served as the President's adviser for drug abuse policy and assisted Nancy Reagan with her domestic and international drug abuse education projects. Turner approached drug abuse policy from an enforcement perspective and was interested in close White House ties with the FBI, the Drug Enforcement Agency and local and state police agencies. Turner joined the White House Office of Policy Development staff in July 1981 as Senior Policy Adviser for Drug Policy. Throughout his tenure he was promoted, in 1983 he was moved up to Director of the Drug Abuse Policy Office. He took on the additional title of Special Assistant to the President for Drug Abuse Policy in April 1983. In March 1985, he was appointed Deputy Assistant to the President for Drug Abuse Policy. Turner left the White House staff effective December 31, 1986.

In 1987, Turner became President and Chief Executive Officer of Princeton Diagnostic Laboratories of America, a biomedical and pharmaceutical testing laboratory. In 1994, he joined Carrington Laboratories, where he served as Executive Vice President for Scientific Affairs, and then as Chief Operating Officer. He became President and CEO of Carrington Laboratories in April 1995. Carrington Laboratories changed its name to DelSite, Inc. in June 2008. Turner retired from his position as President and CEO of DelSite on December 31, 2008.

Scope and Content Note

The Carlton Turner collection reflects the broad range of activities and projects initiated and overseen by Turner during his years at the White House. Under his leadership, the Drug Abuse Policy Office was heavily involved in drug awareness, education, and prevention outreach initiatives. It also coordinated discussion and policy on drug law enforcement issues and drug eradication efforts. Turner took an active role in the international aspects of the drug abuse problem, giving many foreign interviews and meeting with heads of state, foreign government officials, and directors of international addiction treatment organizations. The collection also reflects the scientific aspects of drug use and addiction treatment, due to Turner's research background in chemistry and the pharmacology of marijuana.

Turner and his office used the White House Office of Records Management Subject Files for many of their filing needs. A significant amount of Turner correspondence and issue papers can be found in FG006-01 (White House Staff), FG006-07 (Office of Policy Development) and HE006-01 (Narcotics).
