MEMO TO THE PRESS

PRESS

An executive clemency hearing will be held this morning at 11 a.m. for Edward Louis Arguello, who was convicted in San Diego County of first-degree murder. Conviction took place in a jury trial on April 13, 1966 and the same jury imposed the death penalty on April 15, 1966.

The conviction and penalty were unanimously affirmed by the California Supreme Court on February 8, 1967. Testimony at the trial indicated that Arguello, 58, had murdered Mrs. Marie Chapman, an 82-year old widow, who was found dead in the bathroom of her San Diego home on November 9, 1961. Her death had resulted from multiple skull fractures and lacerations of the brain and throat. She had been beaten with a brick and a hammer and had been cut with a knife. The motive for the killing was robbery.

Two previous murder trials for Arguello had each resulted in the death penalty being imposed by separate juries, but each of those convictions had been reversed by the California Supreme Court.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SACRAMENTO--A United Press International story out of New York saying that Newsweek magazine interviewed Governor Reagan on his views on the war in Vietnam and quoting the Governor as saying what he would do as President is completely false.

Newsweek magazine did not interview the Governor.

At no time has the Governor said what he would do if elected President, because he has made it perfectly clear that he is not a candidate for President.

Newsweek asked if Governor Reagan would submit a statement on Vietnam under the heading "If Elected President I Will...". The request was turned down. However, the Governor's press office did send to William Flynn, the San Francisco Bureau Chief for Newsweek, excerpts from press conferences in which the Governor answered questions on Vietnam. Since these were public record, Mr. Flynn was told that Newsweek could use them. However, he also was asked to make it clear that they were excerpts, that the Governor had not been interviewed and that he is not a candidate for president.

Instead, Newsweek intimates that the excerpts were from an interview. Unfortunately, this means that both Newsweek's readers and UPI's readers have been misled.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(Copy of letter received by Gordon P. Smith, Director of Finance)

Office of the Attorney General
Department of Justice
Room 500, Wells Fargo Bank Bldg.
Fifth St. and Capitol Mall
Sacramento, Calif. 95814

June 30, 1967

Honorable Gordon P. Smith
Director of Finance
State Capitol, Room 1145
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Smith:

This will confirm the conclusions reached in the discussions held today between James S. Dwight, Jr., Deputy Director, Department of Finance, Ralph I. McCarthy, Deputy State Controller, Paul M. Joseph, Deputy Attorney General, and myself, concerning the unpaid temporary loans to the general fund from various special funds existing at the close of this fiscal year.

It is our understanding that as of the close of this fiscal year there will remain outstanding approximately $200,000,000 of such unpaid loans.

It is further our understanding that these temporary loans were made to provide funds to take care of appropriations which were made on the basis of revenues anticipated on an accrual basis. Since this was done, Chapter 44, Statutes 1967 was passed removing from such revenue estimate approximately $100,000,000 of revenue which had been anticipated from income taxes.

Article XVI, Section 1 of the Constitution provides, "The Legislature shall not, in any manner create any debt or debts, liability or liabilities, which shall, singly or in the aggregate with any previous debts or liabilities, exceed the sum of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) . . . "except upon express approval by vote of the people.

Temporary transfers from special funds to the general fund may be made when necessary because of the temporary lack of cash in the general fund. Article XXVI, Section 3 of the Constitution expressly authorizes such temporary transfers from restricted gas tax money, and Section 16310, Government Code, authorizes such transfers from any special fund provided that it is not needed in that particular fund and the Controller, the Governor, and the Treasurer so finds. Section 16310, Government Code, then provides, "All money so transferred shall be returned to the fund from which it was transferred as soon as there is sufficient money in the fund to which the transfer was made to return it."

Article IV, Section 12 (a) of the Constitution provides:

"Within the first 30 days of each regular session, the Governor shall submit to the Legislature, with an explanatory message, a budget for the ensuing fiscal year containing itemized statements of recommended state expenditures and estimated state revenues. If recommended expenditures exceed estimated revenues, he shall recommend the sources from which the additional revenues should be provided."

All constitutional and statutory provisions contemplate that the State activities shall be financed on a current basis rather than on a deficit basis.

MORE

As pointed out, the Legislature has no authority or power to incur an indebtedness beyond $300,000 except upon express vote of the people. Inasmuch as approximately $100,000,000 of the base upon which the outstanding temporary loans was made has been removed, it becomes incumbent upon the Legislature to provide ways and means to take care of it.

Any continued renewal of temporary loans which, in effect, create a permanent debt contra to the prohibitions of Article XVI, Section 1, of the Constitution would be invalid. Such invalidity might necessitate the registering of warrants, but, in any event, would undoubtedly seriously affect the credit and financial standing of the State.

If there is anything further you desire of us in this matter, please advise.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS C. LYNCH
Attorney General

S/S

E. G. BENARD
Assistant Attorney General

EGB:bam

Governor Ronald Reagan today issued the following statement:

"We're a day late for this press conference but I figured you'd prefer that to being called in on a holiday.

As you know, we have had a state budget since Friday night, but I am still waiting for the revenue bill to finance the budget, in spite of a promise that 24 hours after the budget was signed the Senate Finance Committee would pass out a revenue bill.

"Five days later we still haven't seen one and there is no indication now that we will at any time soon.

"This failure to pass a revenue bill has already cost California 45 million dollars in tax receipts. This means that the budget, even with the 43.5 million dollars worth of cuts, is already out of balance and that means that either the Legislature will have to find additional revenues to pay for it or we will have further cutting to do when it comes to meeting budget commitments.

"One excuse for the delay is the 197 million dollar debt the last administration left the state. This administration intends to pay that debt off this year. But there are those who would pay it off over a three year period or not at all.

"Well, that might solve a problem for those who don't wish to face up to reality, but even for those people there is no legal out.

"I have here a letter from the Attorney General's Office which assures me that we have no choice. This debt must be paid off this year under the State Constitution.

"With that question out of the way, I'm sure the Legislature will get on with the business of providing a revenue bill that will meet scheduled budget outlays."

Present law covers dealers, manufacturers and transporters. The bill also permits the Department to revoke or suspend the license of a dealer who is found to have loaned or rented or received compensation for the use of his license. AB 1534 - Chapter 495 Briggs	Provides that county purchasing agent may dispose of any personal property belonging to the county not required for public use, subject to such regulations as may be provided by the board of supervisors.
AB 1536 - Chapter 496 Briggs	Provides that the board of supervisors shall immediately adjust the rates, rather than rate, of interest in accordance with the recommendations of the board of retirement.

SB 27 - Chapter 735

Permits the assignment of Sacramento County superior court reporters to the municipal court in civil and criminal cases. The bill also raises the basic per diem for court reporter in Sacramento County.

SB 460 - Chapter 737
Short

Requires that when a notice of a bulk sale subject to the Commercial Code provides for an escrow, that the full purchase price will be placed with the escrow holder, and that the escrow shall, if the purchase price is insufficient to pay all creditors' claims, delay the closing and give notice to creditors of the deficiency. The bill prohibits payments from the escrow of fees and commissions prior to the close of escrow.

SB 497 - Chapter 738
McAteer

Increases the salaries of various clerks, commissioners, referees and secretaries of the San Francisco Superior Court and provides for one counselor of conciliation, one counselor in mental health, one additional assistant court commissioner and law clerk, and one additional judicial secretary.

SB 517 - Chapter 739

SB 557 - Chapter 740
Cologne

Prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquor within one airline mile of a specified intersection at the entrance to La Sierra College in City of Riverside, subject to exceptions for the sale of beer, existing licenses, bona fide and public eating places. The bill is so written that the future expansion of the college will not widen the "dry zone".

SB 596 - Chapter 741
Teale & Lagomarsino

Authorizes cities and counties to enact regulations equal to or greater than those imposed by existing state law regarding motel rate signs. Because of the language of the present law and court decisions, it is not clear whether local government has the authority to enact local ordinances supplementary to existing state law.

SB 646 - Chapter 742
Short

Provides that a registered apprentice may work 5 years instead of 3 years before having to fulfill the requirements for passage of the journeyman barber examination. The bill is intended to give apprentices sufficient time to prepare for the journeyman barber examination.

Local agencies may temporarily borrow moneys which are needed for operating purposes during so-called "dry periods" before property taxes are collected.

SB 841 - Chapter 745
Bradley

Requires recreation and park districts to let out to bid all construction and materials contracts of more than $3,000 as prescribed. SB 869 - Chapter 746
Beilenson

Changes the statute of limitations for refunds on property taxes from three years from the date of payment to three years from the date of payment or one year from the mailing of the notice by the tax collector to the assessee specifying irregularities, whichever occurs later. The bill also provides, with respect to applications for reductions constituting claims for refunds, that the applicant must state in the application that it is intended to constitute a claim for refund, and if it is not so stated, he may file a separate claim for refund within the period of the appropriate statutory limitation.

SB 872 - Chapter 747
Cologne

Repeals all statutes relating to the licensing of mineral, oil and gas salesmen. There are no mineral, oil and gas salesmen licensed at this time. The mineral, oil and gas broker status is retained and future applicants for salesman status will qualify for broker status since requirements are virtually identical.

SB 895 - Chapter 748
Dolwig

Raises to $3,000 the amount for which a county can purchase real estate without publication of a notice of intention. The bill will produce substantial savings to counties each year because of the publication costs and the time and expense involved in preparing and processing the required resolution.

SB 1227 - Chapter 753

The bill requires escrow holder, if the transferor licensee disputes any claim, to retain the amount or pro rata amount thereof for a period of 25 days, and if not attached to pay the amount to the transferor licensee. Governor Ronald Reagan today issued the following statement:

"Because there has been great concern on the part of many Californians about racial unrest and rioting in other parts of the nation, I feel it is appropriate now to bring the citizens of this state up to date on what this administration is doing to help solve the problems of our cities.

"As you know, I have scheduled a meeting with a group of responsible leaders of the Negro community from throughout the state to talk about these problems and to seek solutions. I might point out that the meeting is one of a series that I and members of my staff have held since last January with Negro leaders and representatives of Negro groups.

"We are working closely with key leaders at the local level and with local officials to stimulate grassroots actions aimed at eliminating the basic and real causes of racial tensions. We feel that much progress has been made and much more can be made in the days and months ahead as we work together to extinguish hotspots before they flare into major disorders.

"I would like to repeat a statement I made last January 5 at my inauguration: '...Those with a grievance can seek redress in the courts or Legislature, but not in the streets. Lawlessness by the mob, as with the individual, will not be tolerated. We will act firmly and quickly to put down riot or insurrection wherever and whenever the situation requires.'

"There is no change and there will be no change from that position. But it is our hope and aim to eliminate the causes of riots before they can start.

"Now, let me recite just a few of the steps we have taken in this area since January.

"Robert Keyes, my human affairs secretary, has visited and met with community leaders in East Los Angeles, Watts, San Diego, Richmond, Venice, Compton, Hunters' Point, Vallejo, Berkeley, Oakland, Haight-Ashbury, Bakersfield, Fresno and San Bernardino.

"Chad McClellan, as you know, is heading a statewide program in which private industry is training and placing Californians in jobs. I have assigned Lt. Gov. Finch the responsibility of the Job Training and Placement Council which is coordinating these activities.

"Additionally, in May I ordered an expansion of state employment during the summer months, emphasizing jobs for underprivileged youth.

"Members of my staff have been and are continuing visits to the major cities of California, meeting with mayors, human relations officers and city officials to discuss minority problems.

"That briefly gives you an idea of some of the things we have already done in the area of human relations.

"However, I want to emphasize that we will be prepared in case our efforts to prevent riots fail.

"Cabinet Secretary William Clark, Jr. and Clemency and Extradition Secretary Edwin Meese III have established through their offices close liaison with local law enforcement agencies.

"Working with representatives of the California Highway Patrol, the National Guard and the State Disaster Office, state and local officials have set up procedures that can and will be put into effect immediately if any situation requires quick and firm action. But let me emphasize again we are doing all we can to avoid trouble and will continue to do so.

"More meetings will be held in the future and I am confident that all Californians will meet their responsibilities.

"In this regard, I would like to announce that plans are in preparation--and have been since May 31--to call a statewide conference designed to find practical and workable solutions to our problems. Responsible Negro leaders from throughout the state will be invited to meet with department heads, officials in the Health and Welfare Agency, representatives of the Office of Economic Opportunity, and others that can assist us.

"In this way I am sure we can find lasting solutions to the many problems that beset all our poor and our minority groups."

Governor Ronald Reagan today endorsed the plan to bring the Liner Queen Mary to Long Beach and supported a suggestion that the City consider converting a portion of the vessel into a Museum of the Sea.

The historic 81,000-ton British ship has been offered for sale by the Cunard Lines, and Long Beach officials have been working with U. S. firms interested in acquiring the vessel, berthing her in Long Beach Harbor and operating her as a combined hotel-convention center -- tourist attraction.

The idea to also develop a Museum of the Sea aboard the Queen Mary was advanced by Howard Edgerton, President of the California Museum Foundation.

"Bringing the Queen Mary to Long Beach and operating here in this fashion would give California another tremendous tourist attraction," Governor Reagan said.

He said he understood State Legislative Leaders -- Sen. Hugh Burns, President Pro Tem of the Senate, and Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh also endorse the plan.

The 31-year-old Queen Mary, recognized as the World's most popular passenger liner, will be retired from service by Cunard in October. She is 1020 feet long, 118 feet wide and has 12 decks, three funnels. The forward funnel is 15 feet higher than Niagara Falls.

During World War II, the famous British liner was used as a troopship and carried 765,429 servicemen a total of 569,943 miles. She was reconverted to a luxury passenger ship in 1946.

The Queen Mary has 27 public rooms, including restaurants, spacious lounges, salons, libraries and a theatre. She can accommodate 1,957 passengers and a crew of 1,200.

Governor Ronald Reagan announced today he has signed legislation which will relieve California homeowners of a "double jeopardy" threat which has hung over them for years.

The measure was SB 594, was co-authored by Senator Richard J. Dolwig (R-San Mateo) and Assemblyman William Bagley (R-San Rafael).

It adds certain provisions to California's Mechanics' Lien Law to enable homeowners to protect themselves from having to pay twice for the same services performed or for materials furnished in connection with home building or home improvements, such as swimming pool or room addition.

The new law makes it mandatory for both subcontractors and materialsmen to give the homeowner a notice that work has been done or materials furnished for a job. Such notice must be given within 20 days after first going on the job.

Thus, if the homeowner does not pay any bills presented until the expiration of the 20-day period, he can pay his contractor with assurance that no lien will be filed to force him to pay for the same work twice.

Failure to provide the notice prevents the subcontractor or materialman from filing a claim against the property owner.

Prior to passage of the new law, a homeowner would have actually paid his contractor for a job. However, if the contractor failed to pay the subcontractors or materialmen, both could come back at the homeowner and demand a second payment. The homeowner was in double jeopardy.

If he did not pay, he could lose his home. The new mandatory notice alerts the homeowner to the fact that certain subcontractors or material dealers have been on the job and will be entitled to be paid.

He should then make certain that these bills are paid by the contractor before advancing the contractor money for work already done, or he can pay the subcontractor or material dealer direct and deduct the amount of such payment from that due the contractor.

The legislation was supported by the California Savings and Loan League, the California Bankers and Mortgage Bankers, the Home Builders Council, the California Land Title Assn. and building material dealers and subcontractors associations.

Members of these groups who are involved in construction and its financing will also benefit from this legislation, since a copy of the preliminary notice to property owners also goes to contractors and lenders.

Thus, there should be less controversy in the future about the payment for work done or materials furnished to a job.

To the extent that persons get paid for materials supplied or services performed, and to the extent that liens are not filed which jeopardize the interests of owners and lenders, this legislation will provide a good climate for the construction and financing businesses in California, the Governor said.

★ For Immediate Release

Preliminary figures indicate Medi-Cal costs are running substantially above budget estimates, Spencer Williams, Health and Welfare Administrator, cautioned today.

Williams told a regular meeting of the Health Review and Program Council that initial review of expenditures in the fiscal year just ended June 30 shows the deficit could be as much as $150 million, which must be paid out of the appropriations for this year.

The total budget for the program is about $904 million of which approximately $305 million is from the state's general fund. The remainder is paid by the federal government and the counties.

"If this preliminary data is confirmed, I will call you into emergency session for your advice as to the action necessary to keep the program on a stable fiscal basis," Williams told the Council.

The eleven-member council, created by law, consists of five members appointed from the health professions and the remainder from the public at large.

Williams said that the apparent cost increase resulted from both an increase in the costs of medical services and from increased usage of the services. He noted that other states are experiencing similar cost increases.

(The council is meeting at the Mansion Inn.)

Sacramento--Governor Ronald Reagan today asked the State Fish and Game Commission to look into the anchovy fishing problem.

In a letter to the Commission, the governor noted that "There has been considerable concern--and controversy-- over California's anchovy resources. My concern is that this ocean resource, which is vital to both our sport and commercial fisheries, be used wisely and in the best interests of all the people of California."

The governor said he supports "Scientific management of the anchovy by the Fish and Game Commission to assure the best use both for today and for the future.

"I am not opposed to a harvest of anchovies," the governor said, "Provided there are adequate safeguards to assure that the resource is not damaged."

However, the governor also said he believes the commission "must approach the harvest cautiously to fully protect the interests of all our people. . ."

"The question rightly rests with the Commission, which has access to the scientific facts concerning this resource," Governor Reagan said.

Philip M. Battaglia, Governor Ronald Reagan's executive secretary, today issued this status report on the proposed redwood national park following two days of conferences in Washington with federal administration officials, key senators and congressmen interested in the proposal, and representatives of private timber interests.

"We are greatly encouraged by the progress being made toward establishing a redwood national park. The spirit of compromise evidenced in our meetings would seem to indicate that even the major problem concerning the trade of the Northern Redwood Purchase Unit for private timber holdings can be resolved.

"Meetings will be continuing both in California and Washington during the next several weeks and we now expect that the creation of a park will be consistent with the eight principles originally advanced by Governor Reagan in testimony given to the Senate committee last April."

Governor Ronald Reagan said this afternoon that he and Speaker Jesse Unruh had agreed to workable amendments to the administration's revenue bill.

As amended the bill includes property tax relief through school aid, the form suggested by the administration, inventory tax relief and direct school aid.

The speaker and the governor reached agreement that during this fiscal year an additional 145 million dollars will be appropriated in the revenue bill for direct school tax relief and next year this amount will increase to $300 million, including $150 million for property tax relief.

The governor congratulated the speaker on joining with him in increasing the state's contributions to school districts.

"I am sure now that both houses of the legislature will act responsibly to make sure we have a revenue bill prior to August 1. Without it the state will lose another $45 million in projected revenues, thus adding to our cash flow problems and forcing further cuts in state spending."

The governor and Unruh met for half an hour during the afternoon.

Sacramento--Governor Ronald Reagan said today he signed assembly bill 910, the consolidated milk pooling act, "with reluctance."

However, Reagan, who signed the bill Thursday said indications were that most of the state's milk industry either wanted it or was not opposed to it.

He pointed out that the bill has a referendum feature that will allow milk producers to vote as to whether they want it to go into effect.

"If the dairy people want it we will make every effort to see that it is administered in the spirit of our free enterprise system," Reagan said.

He added that the act represents a compromise of several proposals and demonstrates the willingness of California's dairy-men to work together to solve their problems. This is the first time that this type of legislation has been passed by our Legislature.

"Its effect on the operations of California's important milk industry cannot now be fully estimated. I have discussed this legislation with the Director of Agriculture, and he has assured me that the purpose of the milk pooling plan, which he is required by the legislation to develop, will be to ultimately provide equity in the returns to our California dairymen for the milk they produce, thereby maintaining an adequate supply of milk for consumers at fair and reasonable prices.

"He and I recognize that any legislation that attempts to regulate an industry as varied, involved and complex as California's milk industry will require constant surveillance, and very likely will require modification as experience with it unfolds.

"I have signed AB 910 in the hope that it will prove beneficial to milk producers, distributors and consumers," the governor said.

Sacramento--Statement by Governor Ronald Reagan--July 28, 1967.

I am extremely pleased that the Legislature has passed our revenue bill in time for it to take effect August 1. Had we gone beyond that date the state would have lost another $45 million in revenues.

The Legislature's action today show its members recognize the fiscal problems facing California and they have put partisanship, and in some cases personal considerations, aside in order to face up to those problems.

I am grateful and all Californians should be grateful that they have done so.

Certainly none of us, least of all those of us charged with asking for one, like the idea of a tax increase. We had no choice this year.

Our state was $194 million in debt and last year spent nearly $400 million more than it took in. Previous fiscal management gave us a cash flow problem that only additional revenues would solve.

Passage of our revenue bill today will allow us to meet those problems--if we tighten our belts and keep spending to a minimum. This we intend to do--as we have done all along.

I am proud that our Republican party united in this effort. And I have a special thanks for Senator George Deukmejian and Assemblyman Jack Veneman and for the Republican leaders in both houses for their advice, counsel and all-around help. I also thank those Democrats who put their state above partisanship.

This bill certainly is not perfect but it does meet our immediate needs.

Next year we hope to present a tax reform package that will allow the state to meet its needs for the foreseeable future without further tax increases. Hopefully this new approach plus continued economies will allow us, if not to reduce taxes, at least to eliminate some of those that now hurt our business climate, penalize property owners and affect those least able to pay.

Governor Ronald Reagan will undergo minor surgery today at 9:00 a.m. in St. John's Hospital, Santa Monica.

The surgery will be for a minor obstruction of the bladder caused by small stones. The operation will be performed by Dr. Burton Smith, a Santa Monica urologist.

Governor Reagan's family physician, Dr. John Sharpe of Beverly Hills, said the governor will be hospitalized for about a week.

Doctors decided on the surgery following Governor Reagan's annual physical examination at the hospital. Dr. Sharpe said the governor is in excellent physical condition aside from the stones.

He indicated it would have been possible to delay surgery at this time. But the governor decided to go ahead with it because the legislature is close to adjournment and also to forestall the possibility of surgery at a later date.

July 31, 1967

Governor Ronald Reagan today asked that all sportsmen of this State be extremely careful and protect against forest fires during the coming deer seasons. He said that the California Division of Forestry, United States Forest Service, and California Disaster Office are particularly concerned because of the high fire hazards caused this year by an abundant grass growth from well-spaced rains which continued late into the spring.

The coastal deer season which starts August 5 is expected to draw thousands of sportsmen into the wildland areas increasing forest fire hazards. He has asked that a stepped-up forest fire patrol be established by the forest fire agencies to guard against careless acts leading to the start of disastrous fires. Reagan said that the year 1967 has already seen numerous forest fires start causing a loss of thousands of acres of watershed lands in the State of California. Reagan also said that California became the wonderful state it is because of its resources and warned that continuing forest fire damage detracts from its resource wealth. He asked that all citizens of this State join forces with all forest fire protection agencies to eliminate disastrous forest fires.
