"It is the function of a governor to appoint people; it is not the function of a legislator. Naturally, input from a legislator is important and always welcome. Governor Ronald Reagan today announced the following bills have been vetoed.

AB 1128 - Dixon Modifies provisions of the Elections Code and Penal Code relating to the right to vote of persons convicted of crimes.

REASON FOR VETO: "This bill would modify provisions of the Elections Code and Penal Code relating to the right to vote of persons convicted of crimes. It will become operative if Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 38 is approved by the voters. Among other things, it would amend Sections 310 and 321 of the Elections Code. Approval of this bill would chapter out the substantive changes made to those sections by AB 765 (Statutes of 1974, Chapter 74). Furthermore, Section 15 of this bill expresses legislative intent that both AB 1128 and ACA 38 conform to the decision of the California Supreme Court in Ramirez v. Brown. That decision was reversed and remanded by the United States Supreme Court in Richardson v. Ramirez.

"Because of these two major defects, I am returning the bill unsigned."

AB 2860 - Antonovich Permits state and local miscellaneous members of the Public Employees Retirement System to retire for service at age 50 with 5 years service. It also prescribes the computation of the allowance between ages 50 and 54-3/4.

REASON FOR VETO: "As stated in Section 20001 of the Government Code, the purpose of the Public Employees' Retirement System is... to effect economy and efficiency in the public service by providing a means whereby employees who become superannuated or otherwise incapacitated may, without hardship or prejudice, be replaced by more capable employees... Assembly Bill 2860 would arbitrarily change this purpose by establishing age 50 as a permissive retirement age. The effect of this change would be to deprive both state and local agencies of many highly trained, capable and productive employees who, at near mid-career, could leave service. The loss of such valuable employees could indeed affect both the efficiency and the economy of government operations---but in a negative way. I believe the current provisions of law are sound public policy. To tamper with the present law and to alter the basic purpose of our retirement system in order to satisfy one relatively small group of employees can in no way be justified.

"Accordingly, I am returning this bill unsigned."

AB 3167 - Keysor Permits a single school district with average daily attendance greater than 50,000 located in Orange County to establish a regional occupational center or program. Currently, Los Angeles, Long Beach, and San Diego are permitted to run single-district regional occupational centers or programs.

REASON FOR VETO: "I believe the long-term impact of lowering the requirement below the 100,000 ADA level will dilute the effectiveness of this type of vocational program. The educational and financial efficiency of regional occupational programs is dependent upon judicious use of the business and industrial resources in any given area and the careful administration of instructional programs designed to avoid duplication. This cannot be achieved if the multi-district basis of operation is discarded. In addition, I have received letters from the Superintendents of Schools of Glenn, Los Angeles, Orange, Plumas, Sacramento, San Diego, and Sonoma Counties urging my veto of this legislation.

"Accordingly, I am returning this bill unsigned."

Governor Ronald Reagan today appointed Municipal Court Judge Roy E. Chapman of San Bernardino County to the Superior Court bench in that county for the interim period until he officially assumes the post.

Judge Chapman was elected to the Superior Court bench June 4 in a contest to replace retired Judge John P. Knauf.

A 56-year-old Democrat, Judge Chapman was appointed to the Municipal bench in 1970 by Governor Reagan. Prior to that appointment he was in law practice as a partner of Chapman and Peccorini for three years and was in a similar capacity with Chapman and Sprague between 1950 and 1967.

He was admitted to the California Bar in 1946 after attaining his law degree at Montana State University in Missoula five years earlier. He received his bachelor's degree from the same school.

Judge Chapman was on active duty with the U. S. Coast Guard during World War II and was a lieutenant upon release.

In 1965 he received a special award from the County Council of Community Services for outstanding leadership in furthering mental health services. In 1968 he received the San Bernardino Teachers Association's "Monte" award for outstanding service as a citizen and the following year was named "Lay Citizen of the Year" in San Bernardino County by the Redlands field chapter of Phi Kappa Delta, professional education fraternity.

Superior Court judges receive $37,615 annually.

Governor Ronald Reagan today vetoed Senate Bill 71 (Gregorio, D-San Mateo). Following is the text of the governor's veto message to the legislature:

"SB 71 would allow local schools to establish special areas or rooms where students would be permitted to smoke. The bill was intended to correct the present situation in which students smoke in school restrooms, creating a problem for nonsmoking students wishing to make use of those facilities.

"With only an occasional exception, high school students as an age group are prohibited by law from purchasing tobacco. It therefore seems that a far more sensible answer to solving the problem would be for school administrators to enforce a 'no smoking' rule on school property--period.

"The intent of the law against purchase of tobacco by anyone under age 18 is obvious. The responsibility of school officials to prevent smoking in school buildings is equally obvious. Their failure to act accordingly should not result in local property taxpayers subsidizing smoking rooms as an educational expense.

"I have discussed this bill with a large number of high school students. Although most of them were nonsmokers, they supported the measure for a variety of reasons.

"I am sympathetic to their reasoning and had to wrestle with my conscience before reaching the decision to veto the bill.

"However, I feel it would be a disservice to our young people to have allowed this measure to become law. Had I done so, some youngsters would have interpreted my action as giving some degree of approval to their smoking.

"There is no question that young people who want to smoke will smoke. But there is also no question that smoking is a dangerous habit that can produce tragic results. I cannot in good conscience lend my hand to any circumstance that might endanger their health.

"Therefore, I am returning the bill without my signature."

Governor Ronald Reagan today announced that he has signed the following bill:

AB 3101 - Fenton Chapter 498 Allows franchised petroleum dealers, notwithstanding the provisions of the franchise, to purchase petroleum products from any available source if the franchisor is unable to or refuses to supply the dealer. The bill also provides that no franchisor shall coerce the franchisee to deal only in tires, batteries, and accessories supplied by the franchisor.

Governor Reagan also vetoed the following bills:

AB 1691 - Duffy Enacts Duffy-Song-Moscone Acupuncture Act which authorizes the practice of acupuncture, alone or in conjunction with other forms of traditional Chinese medicine, by unlicensed persons for the primary purpose of scientific investigation if such procedures are performed on the basis of the diagnosis and written referral of licensed dentist or physician and surgeon and other specific conditions are satisfied. The bill prohibits any licensed dentist or physician and surgeon from sharing in any fee charged by a person for performing acupuncture. Such authorization shall be operative only until December 31, 1977.

REASON FOR VETO: "This bill would permit unlicensed and unregulated persons, regardless of training, to perform acupuncture upon the written referral of a doctor or dentist. It does not contain any controls or qualifications to insure the quality of the acupuncture practitioner, therefore creating an unnecessary risk to the members of the public who might receive such treatment.

"Present law now permits safe and orderly research in the field of acupuncture in approved medical schools. If it is the desire to expand existing programs beyond medical schools, then standards to insure quality of acupuncturists must be developed. In addition, research procedures should be outlined in any such legislation so that valid data can be compiled and made available to the medical community.

"Accordingly, I am returning the bill unsigned."

AB 2911 - Burton Requires that rates of state payments for services purchased by regional centers for developmentally disabled persons established by the Director of Health be sufficient to reimburse providers of such services for the actual cost, as approved by the Department of Health, of such services. Additionally, it requires the department, after consulting with appropriate provider groups, to adopt regulations defining actual cost and the method of accounting to be used to determine actual costs. The bill also requires regional centers to supplement, from funds allocated for the purchase of services, Medi-Cal or public assistance payments when the person receiving services is eligible for such and the payments are insufficient to reimburse providers of services at the established rates of payment.

REASON FOR VETO: "AB 2911's requirement for reimbursement for actual costs encourage inefficient operation. Verification of actual costs is difficult and expensive. Also, the department would have no control over the number and types of personnel providing services to its clientele.

"Reimbursement to facilities providing care to other types of state clients is on a reasonable cost basis. This legislation also could contribute toward the inflationary spiral of health costs since other facilities would demand that they be reimbursed on the same basis. (cont.)

Reason for veto

"The Department of Health is currently conducting on a pilot basis a treatment effectiveness and cost study of five California facilities servicing the developmentally disabled.

"During this study the facilities involved are receiving additional payments in order to cover the cost of individualized programs. This study will be completed shortly. If the study demonstrates that a reasonable increase in rates produces better individualized programs for the developmentally disabled, the department will then administratively revise the rates for the facilities affected by this bill. Therefore, this bill is not necessary.

"Accordingly, I am returning the bill unsigned."

SB 220 -Zenovich

Provides for allocation of state funds to county volunteer search and rescue units to defray the cost of search and rescue operations. The bill appropriates $200,000 to the Office of Emergency Services for the provisions of the bill.

REASON FOR VETO:

"Search and rescue operations are properly a function of local government. Present law provides a measure of relief to counties conducting search and rescue operations when the cost is over $100.

"Furthermore, the state and federal governments participate in many search and rescue operations. The state, through the Ecology Corps program, maintains a fully-trained and well-equipped mountain rescue team that is available to all local authorities in California.

"I fully appreciate the humanitarian efforts made by the many volunteer organizations that participate in search and rescue operations. However, I still feel that it is not appropriate for state taxpayers to provide subventions for such volunteer activities.

"Accordingly, I am returning the bill unsigned."

SB 1315 - Petris

Appropriates $1,957,503 to Regents of the University of California for purpose of funding increases to salaries and fringe benefits of certain employees and retirees. Effective immediately.

REASON FOR VETO:

"SB 1315 attempts to reinstate proposals that were rejected during the 1974-75 budget process. The budget is the proper vehicle for this type of measure.

"Accordingly, I am returning this bill unsigned."

Governor Ronald Reagan today made the following statement pertaining to AB 774 by Mike D. Antonovich (R-Los Angeles). The bill allows constitutional amendments adopted by the legislature since no earlier than June 9, 1974, and no later than June 23, 1974, to be placed on the ballot for the November 5, 1974 general election:

"I am permitting this measure to become law without my signature because the people of California should have the opportunity to vote on the several constitutional amendments covered by the bill. However, my signature on the bill might be interpreted as support of the ballot propositions. That would be inaccurate."

The constitutional amendments covered by AB 774 are:

SCA 26 - Petris

Requires the legislature to provide increased benefits to qualified renters comparable to any increase in the homeowners' exemption provided for by the legislature.

SCA 45 - Rodda

Revises ex officio membership of the U. C. Regents by eliminating the President of the State Board of Agriculture and the President of the Mechanics Institute of San Francisco and adds the vice president of the University alumni association. It also increases appointive membership from 16 to 18 and reduces the term of office of appointive members from 16 years to 12 years for members to be appointed on and after March 1, 1976.

ACA 36 - Keene

Modifies constitutional provisions relating to the Public Utilities Commission.

ACA 38 - Dixon

Deletes provisions requiring forfeiture of right to vote for conviction of certain crimes. It also deletes the provision excluding severely mentally deficient and insane persons from right to vote, and adds provision requiring disqualification of electors while mentally incompetent or while imprisoned or on parole for conviction of a felony.

ACA 40 - Brown

Repeals constitutional requirement that development, construction, or acquisition of low-rent public housing by a local government be approved by a vote of the people.

ACA 60 - Meade

Provides for various constitutional rights of persons.

ACA 76 - Vasconcellos

Exempts from civil service the chief administrative officer and five deputies of California Postsecondary Education Commission.

ACA 81 - Miller

Provides that city or county charters may be adopted, changed, or repealed without approval by legislature.

ACA 86 - Vasconcellos

Exempts from civil service the chief administrative officer and three deputies of Postsecondary Education Commission.

ACA 99 - Sieroty

Changes certain masculine gender terms to the neuter.

ACA 103 - Berman

Provides that city or county employees do not have to be residents of the local government agency for which they work.

ACA 104 - Deddeh

Permits any city in San Diego County to be divided into more than one municipal or justice court because of geographic conditions, if the legislature so determines.

ACA 85 - Vasconcellos

Requires legislature to determine whether certain U.C. students are to be charged instruction fees.

Governor Reagan has also vetoed the following bill:

SB 2450 - Gregorio

Requires attendance at community colleges in specified in-service training criminal justice system occupation programs to be included in community college district average daily attendance computation. Also validates specified past apportionments for such in-service training programs.

REASON FOR VETO:

"This bill attempts to clarify and validate possible illegal financial support to community colleges for providing in-service training to local peace officers. An audit earlier this year by the Department of Finance revealed that a community college received over $200,000 for conducting one 40-hour class. The audit questioned the legality of such a practice. Almost all community colleges have conducted in-service peace officer training classes, along with similar classes, and may have violated sections of the Education Code relating to eligibility for funding. This administration is in complete agreement with upgrading peace officer standards and training through education. Shortly before the bill's approval in the legislature, the administration, the author and the measure's supporters reached agreement on amendments that would initiate a proper method for calculating funding for peace officer training classes. However, because of a lack of time the bill was approved before the amendments could be included. When the legislature reconvenes in August, this administration will support legislation to permit community colleges to continue in-service peace officer training while not absolving any blatant irregularities in conducting such a program. Therefore, I am returning the bill unsigned."

Governor Ronald Reagan today sent the following letter to the members of the U.S. Senate and informed President Nixon of his opposition to Senate Bill 707, which would establish a new bureaucracy that would overlap and duplicate existing consumer protection agencies.

The governor also commended Senators Sam Ervin, Carl Curtis, James L. Buckley, William E. Brock and James Allen for their nonpartisan efforts to defeat the bill:

Text of the letter follows:

"If passed, Senate Bill 707, the Consumer Protection Agency Act, now before the Senate, would spawn a huge new bureaucracy whose sole duty would be to intrude itself into matters already assigned by law to existing departments and agencies.

"Proponents of the bill are no doubt motivated by high ideals. Yet, in the process of attempting to protect the consumer, their bill would give unprecedented and potentially dangerous power to the new agency's director and staff to take action against government bodies, industry, and business. Such concentration of police powers would be open to future abuse.

"In recent years, American consumers have demonstrated increased sophistication in the marketplace. Expanded consumer education continues to be essential for this process. Private consumer groups and several state and local consumer agencies are proving that they can aggressively and effectively clamp down on those who would fleece and deceive consumers.

"Congress has the authority to change policies governing the practices of federal departments and agencies which have jurisdiction over consumer-related matters. Where defects exist, they should be corrected by statute. It would be irresponsible, however, for Congress to fail to make such corrections and to create instead a competing, overlapping new agency and bureaucracy. An analogy: if a man operating a retail store found the performance of one of its departments unsatisfactory, he would consider changing management policies, personnel, merchandising techniques, or inventory. He certainly wouldn't try to solve the problem by opening a competing store across the street. Yet, that is what the proponents of S. 707 are doing by asking Congress to create the Consumer Protection Agency!

"Consumers--and each of us in America is one--need to regain control of their own lives. At the same time, they need less, not more, government paternalism and dictation. S. 707 is bad law, bad public policy, and bad for consumers. I urge you to vote to defeat it."

Governor Ronald Reagan today announced he will ask Attorney General Evelle Younger to agree with the lawsuit filed in Superior Court nullifying a special election in the 20th Assembly District in San Francisco.

The governor took the action because of requests by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and the city's state legislators.

Governor Reagan was mandated by state law and the California Constitution to call a special election to fill the unexpired term of former Assemblyman John Burton. Burton resigned June 25 after winning election to the U.S. House of Representatives.

The governor called the election for November 5 with the primary set for October 8.

The 20th Assembly District will cease to exist on December 1 of this year because of reapportionment.

"I am happy to agree with the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and the city's legislators that the special election is unnecessary," the governor said. "It would have been a waste of time, effort and taxpayer funds.

"In addition, I look forward to working with the legislature in August to correct this problem in existing law so that a similar situation cannot occur in the future."

The winner of the election would have served only three weeks during a period when the legislature was not in session.

Governor Ronald Reagan said today a breakthrough in crime control and prevention has been reached by virtue of the state receiving a patent for an invisible wall of energy called a "laser fence."

The fence transmits and receives pulsed beams of light to prevent intruders. According to Douglas E. Roudabush, executive director of the California Crime Technological Research Foundation (CCTRF), which built the first unit in a Sacramento laboratory, the device has application both to state government---for security in its prisons, resource areas, fish and game and forestry preserves---and to private industry for protection of property.

As holder of a U.S. patent, the governor said, the state can issue licenses to prospective manufacturers and reimburse California's treasury for money expended in the acquisition of the patent.

Roudabush stresses that any patents received by the foundation will not be intended as direct sources of revenue to the state, but are intended for use in controlling crime and fulfilling the premise under which CCTRF was established as a temporary research agency in 1967 by the Deukmejian-Moretti Act.

Public and private funds were donated for CCTRF to perform research and development in areas of science and technology not already being explored by other agencies or private industry. Another purpose of the foundation was to stimulate development by educational institutions and other organizations in the private sector.

CCTRF's life was extended for four years by the legislature in 1970. A current bill, SB 1829 (Deukmejian), would make the crime research foundation permanent. California is the only state with a research agency to control crime.

The laser fence was tested and became a successful tool of security for Campbell Construction Company's "Operation Breakthrough" several months ago. The prototype detected and prevented break-ins in more than 100 separate incidents on a construction site at the old fairgrounds in Sacramento. Experimental research and development continues in the state corrections system.

Roudabush says the wall of energy's nerve system is a solid-state unit involving little commercial power. Boasting a range of one-half mile in any direction from a unit, two laser beams at varying heights can penetrate fog for hundreds of feet and, in the event of someone passing through, has a logic built-in to discriminate between humans, objects such as blowing newspapers or creatures such as birds or dogs.

"Even if a person crawls through a beam," Roudabush says, "the frequency will be different from that of a four-legged animal."

The equipment is designed to determine which direction the perpetrator is going. The time of a penetration can be automatically clocked and the system can activate floodlights, sirens or simply a silent signal that is picked up by a security guard's hand-held radio. A fail-safe mechanism protects the system from below or above-ground assault and an independent power supply continues in the event of an outage.

The beams can be focused wide or narrow, depending on individual requirements, and can extend to 50 feet in diameter.

Other states have indicated interest in the laser fence, Roudabush said, adding that applications for licensing will be taken soon. Potential manufacturers should contact the CCTRF at (916) 322-2700.
