MEMORANDUM FOR JAMES A. BAKER

FROM: EDWIN MEESE III EM

SUBJECT: Brain Trust Proposal

Attached is a copy of the memorandum that Charlie Wick provided concerning his proposal for a "Brain Trust" plan.

Ed Harper has done a thorough job of developing possible proposals that we might wish to pursue, which he has presented to me.

I think you, Mike and I should take up these various ideas with the President tomorrow morning at 9:00 a.m. and determine how much time he wishes to allocate to this effort. We can then determine the best method of developing a specific proposal.

Dear Ed:

As a follow-up to our breakfast meeting discussion this morning, here is a hastily drawn representative list of former CEO's. No longer responsible for the day to day stewardship of their individual companies, the President could look to them to put America's needs first in their participation on task forces (and/or commissions, panels, braintrusts) in their specialized areas of proven expertise.

I don't know their political affiliations, except for Democrats known to me as such. However, as we discussed, a bipartisan effort to the extent practicable will have the greatest credibility in this frame of reference of total realism and proven track records.

I am also enclosing a Newhouse News Service wire by Loye Miller, Jr. It came out today indicating a "bipartisan coalition of about 400 prominent Americans, including former Cabinet officers and Chief Executives of large corporations, is calling on President Reagan to abandon his program".

You will notice in the paragraph on the first page of this wire that I have marked with red that "...this call will be issued later this month in a two page advertisement in the Washington Post, New York Times and the Wall Street Journal--sponsored by the coalition..."

My idea of the retired CEO task force and/or braintrusts etc., in addition to hopefully being substantively attractive, could blunt the effect of what is referred to above as a possible explosive reaction inimical to our interest.

The Honorable
Edwin Meese III
Counsellor to the President
The White House

Since talking to you and Jim this morning I talked with Ruben Mettler, whom you all know, current CEO of TRW and head of the Business Roundtable; Bob Evans former CEO of American Motors; Coy Eklund, CEO of Equitable Life Assurance Society and head of the Urban League; Bob Wood, Chairman of Carl Byoir & Associates; and Frank Pace, Chairman of International Executive Service. All of the foregoing contributed to the attached list.

While I emphasized to them that I was working on an unofficial personal brainstorming idea, all of them felt that this would be an excellent idea highlighting the power of the private sector to work in partnership with government in times of need.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Charles Z. Wick". The signature is fluid and stylized, with a large loop at the end.

↑By LOYE MILLER JR.442

↑Newhouse News Service442

-WASHINGTON - A bipartisan coalition of about 400 prominent Americans, including former Cabinet officers and chief executives of large corporations, is calling on President Reagan to abandon his economic program.2

-The group calls the current economic crisis a "disaster" and urges drastic changes in direction, including tax increases totaling $60 billion and a defense slowdown of $25 billion in fiscal 1985.2

-This call will issued later this month in a two-page advertisement - in the Washington Post, New York Times and Wall Street Journal - sponsored by the coalition, which lists six former Cabinet officers as "founding members."2

-They are W. Michael Blumenthal, treasury secretary under President Carter; John B. Connally, treasury secretary under President Nixon; C. Douglas Dillon, treasury secretary under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson; Henry H. Fowler, treasury secretary under Johnson; Peter G. Peterson, commerce secretary under Nixon; and William Simon, treasury secretary under Presidents Nixon and Ford. Blumenthal and Fowler are Democrats; the others are Republicans.2

-These men held a press conference in Washington last May 23 to call for some of the same objectives.2

-But the list of signers of the advertisement draft makes it clear for the first time that they have attracted hundreds of the biggest names in corporate America to their cause.2

-The list includes nearly 50 persons who held Cabinet posts or other top government jobs. Among them are Roy L. Ash, head of the White House Office of Management and Budget under Ford; Frederick Dent, commerce secretary under Ford; Carla Hills, secretary of housing and urban development under Ford; David M. Kennedy, treasury secretary under Nixon; and John Volpe, transportation secretary under Nixon.2

-The long list of chief executive officers listed as sponsors reads like a "who's who" of corporate America. It includes Edward G. Jefferson of E.I. du Pont de Nemours, Lee Iacocca of Chrysler Corp., J. Richard Munro of Time Inc., Charles I. Brown of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., George M. Keller of Standard Oil of California, Graham J. Morgan of United States Gypsum Co. and Lee L. Morgan of Caterpillar Tractor Co.2

-The ad is addressed "To the President and the Congress," but the list of policy reversals it calls for could hardly be accomplished without the sponsorship of the White House and abandonment of the President's Reaganomics program.2

-Describing the federal budget as "out of control," the preamble to the ad states: "This fiscal course is senseless and threatens to keep the economy stagnating."

longer afford to leave the budget to politics as usual. It is time to set aside the usual differences of party, religion and ideology. We appeal to you, our leaders, to display genuine leadership, in the spirit of national unity.''

-The text later asserts: 'Tomorrow's big deficits, and the high long-term real interest rates that will accompany them, are already doing serious damage now and will wreak even more havoc in the coming decade and beyond. Without savings available to fuel productive investments, the economy will have nearly perpetual stagnation.''

-The ad states that based on the current rate of growth, the fiscal 1985 deficit would be $250 billion. It calls for cuts of $175 billion, to get the deficit down to $75 billion.

-The coalition calls for savings of $60 billion by freezing for one year benefits provided under Social Security and Medicare, benefits provided to veterans and civil service and military retirees, and other non-defense subsidies. It also wants a subsequent limit on how much those benefits, indexed to the inflation rate, would be allowed to increase.

-The plan would save another $25 billion in 1985 by stretching out the military increases, now scheduled for five years, over a longer period of time.

-And it calls for tax increases of $60 billion, coming principally from "consumer" taxes such as a higher excise tax or a broad-based energy tax.

-These steps would cut the 1985 deficit by about $145 billion, and this would in turn require less federal borrowing to service the debt, saving an additional $30 billion in lower interest costs, the ad states, for a total deficit reduction of $175 billion.

-The plan is certain to be anathema to Reagan, who has vowed he will not ask for any more tax increases.

-In a telephone interview Wednesday, former Commerce Secretary Peterson, now chairman of the prestigious investment firm of Lehman Brothers Kuhn Loeb, said the group originally had decided to concentrate on 1985 in order to avoid becoming mired in the politics of the 1984 budget now being put together in the White House.

-But he said that emphasis may be changed before the ad is run later this month because "the current economic situation has gotten so much worse since we drafted the ad (in December) that a lot of people want it to reflect that current concern."'

Re: Brain Trust/Task Force Luncheons

Please find attached fourteen lists of proposed luncheon guests.

The names have been selected from the list of retired CEOs developed by Charles Wick and from the list of people who served on the Domestic and Economic Policy Task Forces during the 1980 Campaign.

In order to meet the criteria of fourteen lunches with twelve invited guests, not all the names from both lists have been included.

The Task Forces suggest a list of topics and the lists have been compiled to match the topic. We would be happy to recommend different groups should you decide that some of the topics be deleted and others added.

The Honorable Edwin Meese, III
Counsellor to the President
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Ed:

This letter is a follow-up to my request for nomination to the Board of the Legal Services Corporation.

On Tuesday, January 11, Margaret Tutwiler informed me that Jim Baker had enthusiastically endorsed my nomination to the Board and that he would pass on his recommendation to Helene VonDamm.

As you are aware, both Senator Hatch and Congressman Lott have endorsed the nomination. I have enclosed copies of their letters for your information.

I repeat my earlier statement that I share the President's belief that the Legal Services Corporation should be abolished in the long run, and that its abuses must be stopped in the short run.

Please let me know if there is anything else I need to do to achieve this goal.

Sincerely,

Terry

Dear Ed:

Inasmuch as you seem to be reconstituting the Board of the Legal Services Corporation, may I suggest that you consider nominating John T. (Terry) Dolan. Terry is a total supporter of the President and, as you well know, a real fighter. I think you would discover that his objectives are similar to those of the President and that he would diligently work to achieve those objectives without fear or favor.

I surely recommend your serious consideration.

Warmest personal regards,

Orrin G. Hatch

TERRY DOLAN

December 15, 1982

Honorable Edwin Meese
Counsellor to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Ed:

I am writing to recommend the appointment of John T. Dolan to the Board of Directors of the Legal Services Corporation.

While Terry is known primarily for his political activities, he does have a strong legal background. He is a graduate of Georgetown University Law Center and while there was a member of the Law Journal. He also helped organize, and was the first Chairman of the Washington Legal Foundation, one of the most active public interest legal foundations in America today.

I think Terry would be an excellent appointee to the Legal Services Corporation because he shares President Reagan's philosophy on this matter, as well as most others.

Thanking you and with best regards, I remain

Sincerely yours,

Trent Lott

Mr. Edwin Meese
Counsellor to the President
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Ed:

This letter is to officially request nomination to the Board of the Legal Services Corporation, either on an interim or permanent basis.

I share President Reagan's belief that the LSC should be abolished. Until it is, I believe it should be closely monitored to prevent the serious abuses of public trust and money the LSC has become famous for. The LSC should also be utilized to encourage the professional BAR to provide legal services to the poor.

Ed, I think you should give my nomination serious consideration because it would let your opponents in the Congress know you are serious. It might even persuade them that the more nominations they reject, the more conservative they will become.

Sincerely,

John T. (Terry) Dolan
National Chairman
