Dear John:

Please extend our sincere best wishes to Janet and her husband and also accept, under separate cover, a remembrance from The President and Mrs. Reagan for the newlyweds.

Everything is still at the same hectic pace except the Press is getting harder on us everyday. We had a nice holiday at New Years out in California. Wish we had some Melbourne sunshine now--it's below twenty degrees today.

Cheers!

Sincerely,

Dear Mike.

Please understand that the enclosed invitations are sent to you because of our warm friendship over a long period.

We appreciate that the calls of duty will be such that neither you nor the President would be able to personally attend Janet's wedding, but rest assured we would be absolutely thrilled if, through some lucky chance, you happen to be in this part of the world at that time.

This is just to show that we really think of you and the President in the warmest way.

With our best wishes for a Happy Christmas and another successful year,

Sincerely,

Dear Madeline:

It was so nice to have a reminder of the life we use to have. Carolyn feels badly about the house being empty and we're anxious to find someone to take it for awhile.

We had a very different Christmas spending the holiday in Williamsburg which is as you know a restored American City of the Revolutionary days. It snowed on Christmas day and Blair and Amanda were thrilled. We spent the new year at Squaw Valley and Palm Springs and Carolyn and the kids got in some skiing. Thank you again for thinking of us at Christmas and say hello to everyone on thirty-eighth street.

Happy New Year.

Dear Audry:

Thank you for the Christmas note. We did receive the book and it was sent on to Nancy Reagan. The family is all here in Washington. They must not have changed the telephone book in Sacramento although there is another Michael Deaver in the same book.

Everything is getting wilder by the day back here but we're hanging on and trying to do what we all talked about for so many years.

Again, thank you for thinking of us and give our best to Gail and all our friends.

Dear Senator Mattingly:

Thank you for your letter of November 25, 1981 enclosing your statement pointing out the necessity of reducing Federal entitlements.

This Administration, as you know, is in full accord with your position. All Federal entitlement programs have been closely reviewed in the process of developing the President's FY 1983 Budget. Proposed reductions in entitlement programs will be incorporated in that document.

There are few who are as willing as you to "bite the bullet". I am sure that I speak for the President in expressing our gratitude for your support in the effort to control Federal spending and promote the recovery of our economy.

Dear Mr. Nobel:

Thank you for your letter regarding the showing of the movie "Reds" at the White House. The President and Mrs. Reagan are, understandably so, movie "buffs". They felt that this was a major cinema achievement and wished to view it. I think that if you yourself were to see the movie in its entirety, the Bolsheviks are shown to be a great disappointment to these young American idealists that quickly came to their defense.

Having served the Reagans constantly for 14 years, I can assure you that I am interested in protecting the Reagans from any embarrassment.

Thank you again for your thoughts.

Dear Mr. Deaver,

I have no idea whose idea it was to bring "Reds" into the White House, but I personally feel it was very bad taste.

With John Reed buried in the Kremlin Wall and with American taxpayers spending billions every year to keep the Kremlin Wall in Moscow I can't see the rational for such a film in our White House.

To counter such a mistake I would strongly suggest you invite A. Solzhenitsyn to the White House. He better represents the feelings of millions of us more than John Reed.

Then, too, since communism and nazism have been the 20th century's two giant totalitarianisms are you contemplating showing the film "Hitler" soon in the White House.

Since I voted for Mr. Reagan and plan to again (have been showing his film series "The Truth About Communism" to thousands of students for 20 years) I hope you will avoid further embarrassment to him. I believe someone there gave Mr. Reagan some bad advice.

Just thought I'd let you know how one American feels about "Reds" in the White House.

Sincerely Yours,

David A. Noebel

Dear Pat:

I'm sorry to be so long in responding to your note regarding the invitation to President Reagan for the Association of Junior Leagues meeting in May. The invitation is in "the system" and we should be able to give you a yes or no by the 1st of March. I'm sorry it takes so long but there are a great many variables that need to be taken into consideration.

You should be hearing from us around that time.

Dear Mike:

As you are aware, the Association of Junior Leagues has invited President Reagan to speak at its Annual Conference in San Francisco in May, 1982. The Junior Leagues of San Francisco, Oakland-East Bay, Palo Alto, Fresno, Monterey and Sacramento are serving on the Field Committee for the conference, which will celebrate AJL's 60th year.

Recognizing the high priority that President Reagan places on voluntarism, the theme, "Dollars and Decisions: Opportunities for the Voluntary Sector", is most appropriate. Inasmuch as you are supervising his Task Force on Private Sector Initiatives, we urge you to encourage the President to utilize this opportunity and address the delegation of 900 women who represent 140,000 volunteers.

Over the years, the 247 Junior Leagues have demonstrated the effectiveness of the trained volunteer through a myriad of projects. We are keenly aware of the pressures on the voluntary sector today as we enter a new era of community leadership and planning.

We are optimistic that President Reagan will attend the AJL Conference and speak to the issues before us.

Happy Thanksgiving to you,
Carolyn and family,

Dear Mike,

After talking to you awhile back on the phone Glynda and I jokingly discussed taking the long trip back to D.C. Pretty soon the discussion turned serious and as of now we have tentative plans to be back there in August '82. Would that time be convenient for you and your family? We would probably only be able to stay a few days before heading back as we have lots of plans en route both ways.

I realize you probably have a difficult time knowing your schedule very far in advance and if ~~the~~ August isn't convenient let me know. I have about a three week semester break then, that's why I chose that time.

Awhile back I was talking with Laverne (Shelton) Walker and her husband Jimmy. I don't know if you remember them, from Desert hi, they were from Beron. Anyway we decided we would try to put together a reunion for all who attended the classes of '55 thru '58. I called Connie and she said she would help as will Judy (my sis). We haven't even got the preliminary newspaper notices off yet but I'll probably do that during Xmas vacation. You expressed an interest in a reunion when I saw you last. Hopefully you could attend although I realize it might be difficult.

I hope you and your family are all doing well.

I hear about you and occasionally see you on T.V. You must have one hell of a schedule to keep. I do hope you are able to maintain efficient security for you and your family.

I'm staying quite busy going to school full time and substitute teaching part time (I am writing this letter in a 5th per home ec. class). I had to postpone working for my Lay Readers credentials, just didn't have time. I still read occasionally but don't conduct any services. Our priest lives in Fallon but travels to Hawthorne and Austin, so two Sundays a month we have Lay Readers conduct the service.

I'll close for now. Give your wife my best regards.

Dear Mr. Wilkinson:

Mr. Deaver has asked me to thank you for sending him a copy of J. Clifford Wallace's The Jurisprudence of Judicial Restraint: A Return to the Moorings. He found it most interesting and appreciates your thoughtfulness.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Deaver:

As Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the George Washington University and as former President of its Law Alumni Association, I have been especially pleased with a recently originated educational enhancement program at the National Law Center, its law school.

The program augments the formal training and broadens exposure of students through appearances before them of prominent individuals discussing matters of current practical significance. Being located in Washington, the National Law Center enjoys a special advantage to operate such a program. Recent guests have included Judge J. Clifford Wallace of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals and others of wide experience. It is the recent appearance of Judge Wallace which causes me to write to you.

In addition to addressing the students, Judge Wallace spent a full day at the National Law Center in informal discussion with the faculty, as temporary instructor in a freshman class on criminal law, offering comments at a luncheon for senior members of the law faculty, followed by his address to the students and a reception where he chatted with students.

I thought you might be interested in Judge Wallace's address. It was on the subject of "Judicial Restraint," and a copy is enclosed. This address will be published as an article exclusively in The George Washington Law Review in the issue to be distributed late in January.

Respectfully yours,

Glen A. Wilkinson

Dear Tim:

Mr. Deaver has asked me to send along the speech that Murray L. Weidenbaum will be giving at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Houston on January 14th. This is the update that you requested. Thank you for your input as to what the Administration could do to help your industry.

The Spring would be a lovely time to visit Washington, D.C. However, if you plan to be here for Cherry Blossom time, I suggest you make your reservations now, since thousands of people make this trek every year just to enjoy the blossom period and associated festivities. We would be happy to arrange a White House tour for your family. Please call when you get in town and let us set it up for you.

Sincerely,

SHIRLEY MOORE

Dear Mike:

I want to thank you very much for taking time out of your busy schedule to see Tom Lynch and myself when we were in Washington on the 19th of November. We both enjoyed very much the opportunity and I would hope that I could reciprocate the next time you are on the West Coast.

You mentioned at lunch that you had a memo from your economic advisors that I might find interesting. In our rush to let you get back to work, I neglected to get a copy of it and would appreciate it if you would send me one at your convenience.

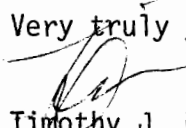

You asked what I felt the Administration could do help the industry that I am associated with and I don't feel that I gave you a clear cut answer. While it will hurt in the short run, I think the best thing that could happen to us would be that you maintain the policies and programs that you instigated and thereby convince the financial market that we can bring inflation under control. At some time in the future, this will result in lower interest rates and a viable economic climate. This may be a difficult policy in the short run, but is the only long-term solution.

As I mentioned to you, I would like to bring Carole and the kids to Washington in the spring of 1982 when there would be some events that they would enjoy seeing. As I think I mentioned, Ryan is 8 and Kirsten will be 11 in May. I would appreciate it if you would give me a time that would make sense and maybe a list of things they would enjoy.

You mentioned that you had been contacted by San Jose State and if you decide to accept the invitation, Carole and I would be very honored to have you as our house guest if it involved an overnight stay in the area.

Thanks again for your hospitality.

Very truly yours,

Timothy J. Murphy

P.S. Having a hell of a time explaining to the kids why they can't open and eat your jelly beans.
