WASHINGTON

March 17, 1982

Dear Mr. Andrus:

Thank you for your recent letter. I appreciate the interest which prompted you to write.

Unfortunately, I do not have a listing of conservative organizations available for public distribution from the White House. You may, however, wish to contact officials at the Young Americans for Freedom, Woodland Road, Sterling, Virginia, as they may have some of the information which you seek.

It was good of you to take the time to give me the benefit of your views concerning foreign affairs. You can be sure that I will keep your comments in mind during discussions with my colleagues.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

MICHAEL K. DEEVER

Dear Mr. Deaver

We are very interested in Conservative Organizations. Would you please list the organizations and their addresses for us? We are not interested in joining liberal or moderate organizations whether Republicans or Democrats.

We truly feel liberal moderate republicans are an Albatross for the President. They were glad to jump aboard as the ship was launched but now they are jumping ship like rats! Fair weather friends! There are too many giving advice to the President. They have weakened his foreign and domestic resolve from word go. They are solidly entrenched in the administration almost everywhere you look. Their views are European in nature. They truly believe in détente as the solution. Trade must continue. They are part of the international monetarists and multinational corporations.

2/1 - They truly believe in social programs primarily funded and administered from Washington. They believe in raising taxes in ever increasing amounts to so call balance the budget.
They believe in keeping military forces on the European Continent and Japan and Korea.
They believe that America must carry the burden primarily monetary wise for those purposes - They have pursued the policy which has led the Communist bloc to have an approximate 80 Billion credit indebtedness with Western Banks - The people of the west are the primary owners of the cash so invested - They were not and never were consulted - These liberal Republicans are part of that group and mentality - They want the action to continue - They do not see democratic socialism as an evil - Democratic socialists have closer blood ties to Communist socialists than they do to democratic capitalists - The mentality of our leadership has followed this philosophical direction since World War II.
It spun off from the Marshall plan - Before World War II there was Colonial implications and the situation. international movement with national groups and a whole group slightly with a degree of freedom to just say - they said but not the world as an abstract political entity underlying communism and capitalism come together as one - they have pursued the course since World War II ending it up and now at its expense of the American life, workers, and drinking the kind of freedom - the no was political of Korea and that was their intended maximum was effort - it was just keep the other one which truly as any student of history knows under the American and Japanese for of the city - these actions then led to the calculating. The group has been this third further - the actual blood donation are also their effect - they have for the time being the recovery of America - they are truly in the final analysis the enemy of freedom which, no doubt making what they do - this idea and nature was in doubt well intentioned,

47. But very naive - They just did not consider the tenacity, dedication, and resolve of the Marxists and Communists - These people have not softened their philosophy one whit - Why should this have been expected - It is a religion - Force is necessary to bring the act about - Force is necessary to keep the process from deterioration - They will die before they will give - Their defeat can only come from internal economic chaos within their midst - The religion then, naturally loses members -

The President compromised and took these people aboard the ship as it was launched - A number were given high command posts - General Haig came up through their ranks! He has that European and monetary mentality. Shall I name others? Webster of the Federal Reserve is one with that persuasion - President Carter would have never appointed him if he was not - The Presidents since World War II and Congress have followed their philosophical course - Today the administration is torn between those from their ranks wishing to

7. Continue business as usual and the conservatives try to bring American mentality back to America first and foremost. Our foreign policy is primarily the Hong mentality - the monetarists and multi-national corporate interests are tearing at the President.
Unfortunately their power is great. The high social world of Washington and New York is their world - Nixon set the conservative move back a decade - The average American thought Nixon was a conservative which he never was. They thought the Nixon presidency prior to Watergate was a conservative administration - That was a lie - The press did nothing to change the image - The monetarists and multi-national corporate interests controlled the Nixon and Ford Presidency just as they did Eisenhower - They continued unabated through Kennedy, Johnson, and Carter - They are about to do President Reagan in - Conservatives will be chopped to pieces at the polls in '82 and '84 - People will believe that President Reagan's presidency

31. I was conservative. I was returning to the state power and administration of social programs and cutting taxes - But not the foreign policy of Aing and multi national corporate and banking mentality which will leading to more Marxist governments in the third world and Europe - American people will not tolerate another no war small war - The American people believe then that this foreign policy approach which will fail is Reagan's policy - They will believe that continued trading with the Communists, China, included is the Reagan approach - The Bush administration policy which will not return solidarity will be believed to be a Reagan policy - This will cause all Conservatives to suffer greatly at the polls - Will this affect liberal Republicans at the polls? Course not. If the President raises taxes, conservatives will be the losers at the polls not liberal Republican candidates - The conservative movement in this country will be set back again - maybe for good -

Will America win? (1) Course not - Socialism will be the winner. America will move further toward socialism - More and more countries will move to a marxist government. All of this will happen unless the liberal mentality is truly eliminated from President Reagan's administration - This means a change in the foreign policy direction -

The President should quietly turn the screws on the Communists economically, and technologically with ever increasing action - Either they give their people ever increasing freedom or the screws will tighten. The so called allies of Europe and Japan should receive the same treatment but in minor gradual doses - They should be required to play ball not by demands but quietly by turning the screws - They need us far more than they need the Communists - Detente behind the scenes should be declared dead - The Europeans and the Japanese should be required to gradually take over the role of their own land defense - Gradually replacing men and weaponry - The time table should be 10 years at a maximum - We should supply their sea power protection which we can do very, very well - We should be going to get business to form partnerships with labor in our country and throughout the world - A profit and loss action as well as a strong voice in decision making - These moves would prevent people from turning to Marxist socialism - Our way of life would have a true chance of winning - Multinational corporate and banking interests should be required to eliminate profit taking from developing countries - Profit removal beyond their boundaries should be abolished - Profits should be required to remain in these countries - These businesses should provide the humanitarian know how to create production beyond population in these areas - The President

9. I should declare that will be the future American policy - America then, will not be looked on as imperialistic - A Reagan Marshall plan -

The same policy should apply to the mid east - The President should also lead the way to neutralize Lebanon of weapons - There are enough countries that would support this military action if necessary - The Lebanese would then be allowed to begin again as a democracy - The Reagan economic plan would put them on their feet - The Golan Heights would also be neutralized and the same action utilized - A united force to keep weapons out of the zone - The same applying to the West Bank and the Gaza Strip - Israeli forces withdrawn - A united force to replace them - A one man one vote for administration - No military weapons allowed in the zones - The Reagan plan for economic prosperity - The same non tax non profit business enterprise zones as set forth for our inner cities - It is not too late - Yours sincerely,

What a great evening you provided when we were in Santa Barbara with your cocktail party and dinner. It was so good to be with both of you again and see your continued enthusiasm for the President and what he is doing.

We'll never forget that you helped make it all happen.

Dear Mr. Chinn:

Thank you for your recent letter. I appreciate your support for President Reagan and your concern for the success of his Program for Economic Recovery.

As you may know, our economy has been suffering for the better part of the last decade from both high levels of inflation and high levels of unemployment. The President's economic program is designed to deal with both of these problems. The President's policies favoring tax and regulatory relief are aimed at providing the proper incentives, and at removing existing obstacles, to increased productivity in business and industry. Only by laying the groundwork for an expanding and healthy private sector can we overcome the hardship of unemployment and poverty.

At the same time, President Reagan has insisted on reducing the growth of Federal expenditures and on maintaining the stable growth of the money supply. Only by insuring that the Federal government lives within its means can we break the inflationary spiral which has gripped our national economy.

Each part of the President's Program for Economic Recovery is integral to the ultimate goal of creating an era of sustained real economic growth. Our economic problems are the result of years of mistaken policies; they will not be solved overnight. Yet, by remaining steadfast to the policies set down by President Reagan, we can solve our problems and once again regain our national destiny.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

MICHAEL K. DEEVER

Dear Sir

This letter should really go to the President but I am afraid he would never see it. I understand you are a personal friend and as such are very concerned with his success as President.

I am an ordinary citizen now retired who worked all my life, served 3 years in WWII and never collected a penny in welfare or unemployment. I have been concerned for years about deficit financing ^{of} our welfare state. I have written many letters to my Senators and Congressmen protesting such things as prostituting the Social Security system by payments to students, minimum benefits and cards to foreigners. I have told them when I was working that I was willing to have my taxes raised in order to get fiscal responsibility and a balanced budget. None of this did any good because unfortunately most of our representatives are basically self serving and primarily interested in increasing their salaries and benefits (as their recent huge tax exemptions) and shoveling out borrowed money.

I guess you know by now I am pretty concerned about the state of our country. I have been thinking for a long time that our country is slowly going to pot. I will always think that Earl Warren and Lyndon Johnson started the trend, Warren morally and Johnson for his deficit financing of the Vietnam war.

These are the reasons that although a lifelong Democrat I have believed in the things President Reagan has been saying ever since he appeared in Bartlesville, Okla many years ago.

I have been deeply hoping that the many things he espoused would succeed but have been having some qualms lately.

It seems to me he has been strangely silent about such things as bussing and special subsidies such as tobacco.

However the main thing that worries me is the economy. Every day in the paper I read about more layoffs and businesses retrenching because of high interest rates and their fear of huge deficits.

Although I supported the President strongly among my friends and neighbors I had doubts about the wisdom of big tax cuts before balancing the budget.

It may be presumptuous of me to express my opinion but I am worried that he is painting himself into a corner by opposing rescinding of the tax cuts. I am afraid he won't get the cooperation he needs to revive the economy but that any attempt to place the blame for failure on anyone else will ~~be~~ have a terrible effect on the country for I believe may feel as I do that he is the last chance this country will have in a long time to turn things around.

In closing please excuse this long letter and believe that I sincerely hope for the best for this President.

Sincerely Yours
Vernon Chinn

Dear Mr. Dial:

Thank you for your recent letter. I appreciate the concern which prompted you to write.

One of the least pleasant experiences of working in Washington is the close-range view it affords of good citizens like you being caught up in a maze of bureaucratic red-tape and inefficiency. As you know, this Administration is committed to trimming and streamlining the Federal government so that it will once again be responsive to the needs of the American people. However, I am sure you will understand that it would be inappropriate for me to intervene in a case brought before a Federal agency for their adjudication.

I hope that you will be able to resolve your situation in a manner which is satisfactory.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Deaver:

As a foremost aide to the President, your concerns surpass those of the average citizen; however, I believe mine bears sufficiently upon President Reagan's policy goals and personal image to warrant your attention.

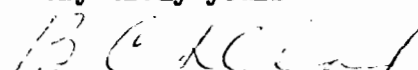

At over 71 years of age, retiring after contributing to the Social Security fund since its beginning, I anticipated annuity from that fund as a significant portion of my retirement income. Instead, I have received no income whatsoever from it for almost 5 months since retirement, and am informed nothing will be received for another 7 or 8 months. Neither the Kansas City Social Security office (apparently having jurisdiction over this area) nor the Social Security Commissioner have responded to my letters asking for explanation or action.

My situation parallels exactly, I believe, the President's policy goals for the System, that is, extending the individual's productive career past age 65, allowing him to continue to contribute to the fund and at the same time postpone drawing upon it. Treatment in my instance seems to absolutely deny this sound philosophy of encouraging maintenance of independence and self-support well into later years, with the expectation of some reward for having done so.

If, in your opinion, this matter warrants presidential consideration and action, I will appreciate your bringing it to the attention of President Reagan. Please let me know if additional information is desired.

Thank you.

Very truly yours

Dear Mrs. Leeter:

Thank you for your recent letter. I appreciate the time you have taken to give me the benefit of your views concerning the use of alcohol in place of fossil fuels.

Certainly, the continued availability of energy to the American people is a great concern for this Administration. It was good of you to bring an article concerning alcohol based fuels to my attention. You can be sure that it will receive serious consideration from the appropriate members of the government.

Dear Mike;

When we were in California a man from Oakland appeared on TV and explained how he had driven his truck for over 20 years and never bought a gallon of gas. He used alcohol made from garbage. I always wondered why the people at Energy didn't promote this method and get this country free from OPEC. I even contacted a friend of mine at Energy and he took the idea to a staff meeting but nothing ever happened.

Recently, I've been reading about more and more companies using alcohol and found this editorial on the subject.

I'm writing to you because I feel it has so much merit. First, think what a blessing it would be to our farmers nationwide with a market for their corn and soybeans. It could do away with most farm subsidy if we utilized alcohol to the fullest. Secondly, we would not be dependent upon other nations. I believe the President could free this nation in many ways by advocating the use of alcohol in place of oil. (Enclosed is the editorial on the subject) And think what it could do for the deficit! Hang in there! The going is getting rough but the President is right.

Sincerely,
Margaret Leeth

Dear Caroline:

As I told you when we dined in Washington a few weeks ago, I would aid you in planning your new residence on an informal basis. If at a later date you wish to engage my services on a professional basis I would then submit my standard contract form for you to sign.

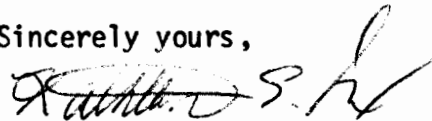

Therefore what aid I furnish at this point is not to be charged for and I do hope I can be of some service.

What I would need would be floor plans or a sketch showing room sizes. In addition please let me know color and style (modern, traditional or mix) preference.

I shall submit as much material as I think you would need to make your purchases or at least allow you to shop.

It was a delight meeting with you and Michael and I do hope the trauma of the decorating does not get you down!

Dear Mike:

I am writing this letter on behalf of William Shaw, who I have had the pleasure of knowing both professionally and socially for approximately five years, whose resume I am enclosing herein.

Bill for the last five years has been Director of Industrial Relations for the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, during which time I have served as General Counsel and as a consequence have had an opportunity to work very closely with him on legislative matters. He has excellent leadership capabilities with facility to accept and delegate responsibility. He is people-oriented and functions equally well with those senior to him and with subordinates.

Bill is interested in working on the White House staff either in congressional relations or as liaison to special interest groups. While I recognize this might not be in your area of responsibility, I would appreciate it if you would be kind enough to put it in the hands of the appropriate people.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.
