MEMORANDUM for Michael Deaver

FROM: Karl R. Bendetsen

Delighted to have had a brief visit with you yesterday evening at the White House reception for the members of the Republican Senatorial Trust.

There will be nothing novel for you in my memo of May 21 for Ed Meese (attached). It was hastily dictated at midnight to my office recorder the evening before I sent it so that he would have it before him during a meeting with Jack Hume. If I had written it today, it would have emerged somewhat differently. For example, I incline increasingly to the view that Congress will fail in the end to increase taxes before the November elections.

I attach the May 11 issue of AIM (Accuracy in Media). You are only too familiar with such continuing falsehoods of the print and electronic media. Bill Moyers is one of the more preeminent weaving spiders in the CBS nest. I have known him distastefully for about thirty years.

I have attached a second issue of AIM which presents Moyers as he is, in contrast to his pretensions.

Whether or not Congress raises taxes, I remain convinced that there is an enormous opportunity to employ the power of repetition beginning in September with six to eight prime time TV and radio talks. The effect will be both therapeutic and indispensable.

If I can be of any help, please call.

Sincerely,

KRB

Dear Mike,

Having just returned from three weeks in Washington, D.C. to secure the passage of a Joint Resolution in the House and the Senate establishing Baltic Freedom Day on June 14, I was sorry that my timing did not permit a chance to meet with you while I was there.

As fate would have it, Israel invaded Lebanon and the battle of Port Stanley was raging, so not too many people noticed that over half of the members of the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives co-sponsored the Freedom Day legislation which was unanimously approved by both houses.

The Resolution was sponsored by the Baltic-American Freedom League, a non-partisan group which could be very supportive of the Administration on domestic issues as well as foreign matters. One of the goals of the League is to mobilize the Baltic-American community in areas such as Detroit, Chicago, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Cleveland. There is a good reason to do so while we have a President who is offering such fine leadership especially in the fight against Communism.

I thought you would like to know the Baltic-American community was successful in their legislative efforts establishing June 14 as Baltic Freedom Day. Next year, we will not schedule any invasions or major battles so the press will take notice.

Warm regards,

DEAR MIKE:

ENCLOSED PLEASE FIND A SPEECH WHICH WAS WRITTEN BY AVA GRACE DEBARTOLO, A HIGH SCHOOL JUNIOR WHO I'M ACQUAINTED WITH THROUGH JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT. AVA DELIVERED THIS SPEECH AT A RECENT JA FUTURE UNLIMITED NIGHT BANQUET, A TIME WHEN OUTSTANDING PARTICIPATES IN OUR JA PROGRAM ARE HONORED. I'M SURE YOU'RE AWARE OF JA'S PURPOSE OF TEACHING YOUNG PEOPLE ABOUT THE FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM.

I WAS SO IMPRESSED WITH AVA'S SPEECH, MIKE, THAT I THOUGHT THE PRESIDENT MIGHT WANT TO TAKE ONE MINUTE FROM HIS BUSY SCHEDULE TO READ THROUGH IT. I FEEL THIS YOUNG LADY HAS EXPRESSED THOUGHTS THAT GO HAND IN HAND WITH SOME OF THE GOALS THAT PRESIDENT REAGAN IS TRYING TO ACCOMPLISH. I KNOW THAT AVA WOULD BE THRILLED TO KNOW THAT OUR PRESIDENT FOUND TIME TO READ HER THOUGHTS, AND IF HE WOULD LIKE TO QUOTE HER AT ANY TIME, SHE'D BE DELIGHTED.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR TIME, MIKE, IN PASSING THIS TO THE PRESIDENT.

REACH FOR SUCCESS

Rockefeller, Carnegie, Onassis, Kennedy, Vanderbilt....When we hear these names, we instantly relate them to success, wealth and fame. But, are there others just as successful in their own right as these names that immediately come to mind?

These successful people built their dreams and they became the very best at what they were doing. They did not spread themselves so thin that they were not able to accomplish anything, but instead they concentrated on one area and they gave it their all. I call this GOALS and COMMITMENT.

Don't think that just because your job may seem small that you will not be successful; for size doesn't make you win or fail. Each person is different with far and varied talents, so the important thing is that you have to be the best YOU are.

We all perhaps dream of great deeds and high positions away from the pettiness and humdrum of ordinary life; yet, success is not occupying a lofty place or necessarily doing conspicuous work - - it is being the BEST that is within YOU. Rattling around in too big a job is worse than filling a small one to overflowing. Dream, aspire by all means; but do not ruin the life you must lead by dreaming pipe-dreams of the one you would LIKE to lead. Make the most of what you have and are. Perhaps your trivial, immediate task is your one sure way of proving your mettle. Do the thing near at hand, and great things will come to your hand that is yet to be done.

It is important to be proud of WHO YOU ARE and to really like yourself. This quality with the proper balance can help you in reaching for success.

Don't be greedy, but be WILLING TO GIVE. Give of yourself, share your talents and give of your time. We will then be far more respected and admired by our peers.

It is important to learn how to be FLEXIBLE WITH PEOPLE without having resentment. We will meet many different people along our path with varied personalities, goals and ambitions, and it takes diligence to practice flexibility.

1982 Junior Achievement Speech
REACH FOR SUCCESS

Establish HIGH MORAL STANDARDS, but not so high that they are not realistic. Your moral standards are important for YOU to know. Honesty and integrity are among these high standards.

Be a PEACEMAKER, and go along with others, don't chop or mow people down, but continue to be the leader because kindness is certainly another main ingredient to success.

I believe that each one of us have something that we rely on for INNER-PEACE and strength. Find that inner-peace for you and develop and nurture those spiritual qualities.

Set IDEAS that are PURPOSEFUL and then be serious when following them, or you will find that your work will be in vain.

DO NOT COMPROMISE on your life standards. People are watching you, looking up to you, seeing if you are truthful. Don't compensate for your peers' sake. You alone are responsible for your actions.

I have just talked about eight qualities that I believe are so important to remember as you reach for success. Junior Achievement has permitted me to see that these concepts for success are possible. I have been able to see where my talents are and then to utilize them into successful action. Soon, a Junior Achiever discovers whether or not they are successful in sales, business abilities, leadership or other areas. That person just may discover how to begin setting their goals and making commitments that best suits their own dreams and aspirations. Keep your eyes on your future and don't compare yourself to anyone else except to you. Remember to be the BEST at what YOU are and REACH FOR SUCCESS.

I would like to conclude by reading you a poem that I find very inspiring. It speaks simply and directly to the point. It is called BE THE BEST OF WHATEVER YOU ARE, written by Douglas Malloch:

BE THE BEST OF WHATEVER YOU ARE
Written By: Douglas Malloch

If you can't be a pine on the top of the hill,
Be a scrub in the valley - - but be
The best little scrub by the side of the rill;
Be a bush if you can't be a tree.

If you can't be a bush be a bit of the grass,
And some highway happier make;
If you can't be a muskie then just be a bass --
But the liveliest bass in the lake!

We can't all be captains, we've got to be crew,
There's something for all of us here,
There's big work to do, and there's lesser to do,
And the task you must do is the near.

If you can't be a highway then just be a trail,
If you can't be the sun be a star;
It isn't by size that you win or you fail --
Be the best of whatever you are!

Sabino junior honored for $764 in pen sales

Scott Stone, a Sabino High School junior who sold $764 in pens with Southwestern emblems, won the top sales award at the Junior Achievement of Tucson Inc. dinner last night at the Doubletree Inn.

Among about 200 students honored at the dinner were Junior Achievement vice presidents Carlos Briones of Amphitheater High School, Prashant Marathay of Special Projects High School and Richard Lloyd of Santa Rita High School.

Ava DeBartolo of Catalina High School was named the winner of the organization's speech contest.

The students over the past school year created their own businesses, issued stock, elected officers, manufactured a product or service, paid salaries, rent and taxes, and promoted and sold their products, said Russ Hall, executive vice president of Junior Achievement of Tucson.

More than 5,000 students participate in the program. Car dealer Jim Click, the president of the board of directors, was the master of ceremonies.

Dear Mr. McSweeney:

Thank you for your recent message. I appreciate the concern which prompted you to write.

Administration officials have recently met with representatives of the construction industry regarding possible changes in the completed contract method of accounting. During that meeting industry representatives described what they believed to be the undesirable and unintended consequences of changing the existing law. Officials within the Treasury Department have since undertaken a review of the proposed changes.

I was grateful to have the benefit of your comments and suggestions concerning the completed contract method of reporting taxable income. You can be sure that your message will receive serious attention.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Mr. Michael K. Deaver

The White House

Dear Mr. Deaver:

We urge your immediate attention to the Treasury Department's proposals to abolish the completed contract method of tax accounting. Construction firms have traditionally and consistently used this fair and equitable method to pay their taxes, and we believe it should be preserved.

The Treasury proposes Legislation to repeal the 64-year old Treasury regulations which authorize the method, while at the same time the I.R.S. is writing changes in the regulations which will have the practical result of repeal.

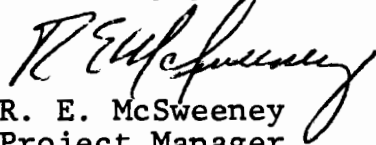

The completed contract method of accounting was recognized for income tax purposes in regulations published in 1918 because profit, if any, is known only after completion and acceptance of a construction project. It was recognized as the appropriate tax accounting method for construction due to the unique nature and inherent risks in construction, which are as great and meaningful today as they were 64 years ago.

Any change in the availability or use of the completed contract method which will impose a tax on interim contract profits will cause a contractor to pay taxes prior to the time cash for contract profits is received. Construction companies would be forced to increase borrowings in order to pay taxes. Increased interest costs will directly contribute to increased inflation since future contract prices must also rise to cover the additional costs. Increased contract prices will result in increased construction costs for the United States government as well as for state and local governments, private industry and individuals.

The completed contract method of accounting is not a "tax loophole" as that phrase is commonly understood. Companies using the completed contract method of accounting do not reduce their federal income taxes. They simply postpone payment for a period of time until a contract is completed and taxable profit, if any, can be accurately determined.

We urgently request your support.

Sincerely yours,

On behalf of Second Genesis, I want to express my deepest appreciation for your exceedingly talented contribution to the enormous success of the benefit evening. Your musical virtuosity at the piano was so very impressive and highly entertaining that we could have happily listened "all night and still have asked for more!"

Most of all we are grateful for your interest in and commitment to the Second Genesis program as a viable means of renewing the troubled lives of these young people. You gave of yourself last week and that certainly is the highest form of help for which one could ever hope.

Dear Mike,

Lee Anne and I have been home a week from our trip, and are slowly getting used to the everyday life. After ten days in Washington, Ocean City and Williamsburg, Michigan seemed rather tame, but we had good visits with relatives and friends.

We appreciate the time you spent with us. The big thing was to see you again after all these years, but I know you realize how thrilled we were to visit you in the White House. A chance in a lifetime that very few experience, and our friends and family are appropriately envious. Thank you also for the gifts -- they are much appreciated.

The picture I took of you turned out great. I'll send you a copy as soon as I get a print made. The one of me with you for some reason has light across it, but it can still be recognized as one of the all-time great snapshots.

Thanks, again, Mike, for taking time out of your very busy day to see us. I hope when you do leave the White House I'll still be able to keep track of you. May I have your home address? Let's keep in touch. I'd appreciate Charlie's address, too, if you could send it to me.

Best wishes.
