Van Cliburn

Born in Shreveport, Louisiana, and taught the piano by his mother at age three, Van Cliburn played his first public performance at age four. He made his orchestral debut with the Houston Symphony at age twelve and his Carnegie Hall debut as winner of the National Music Festival Award the following year. A graduate of The Juilliard School, Van Cliburn won the Edgar M. Leventritt Foundation Award in 1954; he was the first recipient of the award since 1949. Van Cliburn's performances in Moscow are well known. At the first Tchaikovsky Competition in 1958, he won the hearts of the Soviet people and the praise of critics around the world. Van Cliburn went on to play several more concerts in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, each one to sold-out houses and tremendous acclaim. He was welcomed back to the United States with a ticker tape parade and rave reviews following his first concert back home. After going on sabbatical in 1978, Van Cliburn moved to Fort Worth, Texas, where he takes an active role in the international competition named in his honor.

December 4, 1987

U.S. PRESS COVERAGE ARRANGEMENTS FOR PRESIDENTIAL SUMMIT EVENTS

Attached for your planning purposes are tentative arrangements for U.S. press coverage of Presidential Summit activities. These arrangements are subject to change. Please check with the Office of the Press Secretary for updated information.

Due to space limitations, all events will be covered by pools, as listed. U.S. press participating in pools must have a permanent White House press credential or be in "card index." Assembly for the U.S. portion of pools will be in the White House Press Briefing Room at the indicated times. (USSR and International journalists in pools will assemble at the J.W. Marriott International Press Filing Center.) Pool credentials will be distributed at pool assembly times. Please prominently wear your White House, Summit and Pool credentials whenever covering an event.

Information on coverage of General Secretary Gorbachev's arrival at Andrews AFB Monday, December 7 will be available at the Malcolm Baldrige Great Hall at the U.S. Department of Commerce Friday, December 4.

Information on events at the Department of State (Lunch hosted by Secretary Shultz) is available from the Department of State Press Office.

Information on events at the USSR Embassy (other than the Reciprocal Dinner in honor of the President and Mrs. Reagan) is available from the USSR Embassy Press Office.

Information on Mrs. Reagan's events (other than those with the President) is available from Mrs. Reagan's Press Office.

Information on Mrs. Gorbachev's schedule is available from the USSR Embassy Press Office.

Information on General Secretary Gorbachev's departure from Andrews AFB Thursday, December 10 will be available at the J.W. Marriott International Press Filing Center Wednesday, December 9.

Also attached are seating assignments for the White House press corps at the J.W. Marriott International Press Filing Center.
