

Ronald Reagan Presidential Library
Digital Library Collections

This is a PDF of a folder from our textual collections.

Collection: Speechwriting, White House Office
of: Speech Drafts
Folder Title: Nancy Reagan: PBS-TV Program (In Performance at the WH) Dec. 20, 1981
Box: 435

To see more digitized collections visit:
<https://reaganlibrary.gov/archives/digital-library>

To see all Ronald Reagan Presidential Library inventories visit:
<https://reaganlibrary.gov/document-collection>

Contact a reference archivist at: reagan.library@nara.gov

Citation Guidelines: <https://reaganlibrary.gov/citing>

National Archives Catalogue: <https://catalog.archives.gov/>

(Parvin/AB)
December 15, 1981

MRS. REAGAN: IN PERFORMANCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE
DECEMBER 20, 1981

- Welcome once again to the White House. In recent days thousands of people have come through here to see and enjoy the holiday decorations and displays. These rooms have been filled not only with evergreens and poinsettias, but with families in a festive Christmas spirit. Tonight we are receiving an early present; for here in the East Room we are going to hear voices that sparkle as brilliantly as the lights on these trees.

- This is the second of our concerts devoted to America's finest young talent. Joining us this evening -- and performing as well -- is a great and loved American talent, Beverly Sills. Beverly has brought with her eight outstanding young singers who are her nominees for future greatness. All are members of the New York City Opera, where Beverly herself formerly thrilled audiences. Today she is the company's general manager and most enthusiastic fan.

- These young singers are the voices of the future, the opera stars of tomorrow. Tonight we are receiving a preview of that future as they fill this house with music. So, Beverly, will you please introduce us to these young talents?

(Parvin/AB)
December 15, 1981

MRS. REAGAN: IN PERFORMANCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE
DECEMBER 20, 1981

-- Welcome once again to the White House. In recent days thousands of people have come through here to see and enjoy the holiday decorations and displays. These rooms have been filled not only with evergreens and poinsettias, but with families in a festive Christmas spirit. Tonight we are receiving an early present; for here in the East Room we are going to hear voices that sparkle as brilliantly as the lights on these trees.

-- This is the second of our concerts devoted to America's finest young talent. Joining us this evening -- and performing as well -- is a great and loved American talent, Beverly Sills. Beverly has brought with her eight outstanding young singers who are her nominees for future greatness. All are members of the New York City Opera, where Beverly herself formerly thrilled audiences. Today she is the company's general manager and most enthusiastic fan.

-- These young singers are the voices of the future, the opera stars of tomorrow. Tonight we are receiving a preview of that future as they fill this house with music. So, Beverly, will you please introduce us to these young talents?

(Parvin)
Working Draft
December 15, 1981

MRS. REAGAN: IN PERFORMANCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE
DECEMBER 20, 1981

- Welcome once again to the White House. In recent days thousands of people have come through here to see and enjoy the holiday decorations and displays. These rooms have been filled not only with evergreens and poinsettias, but with families in a festive Christmas spirit. Tonight we are receiving an early present; for here in the East Room we are going to hear voices that sparkle as brilliantly as the lights on these trees.
- This is the second of our concerts devoted to America's finest young talent. Joining us this evening -- and performing as well -- is a great and loved American talent, Beverly Sills. Beverly has brought with her eight outstanding young singers who are her nominees for future greatness. All are members of the New York City Opera, where Beverly herself formerly thrilled audiences. Today she is the company's general manager and most enthusiastic fan.
- These young singers are the voices of the future, the opera stars of tomorrow. Tonight we are receiving a preview of that future as they fill this house with music. So, Beverly, will you please introduce us to these young talents?

(Parvin)
Working Draft
December 15, 1981

MRS. REAGAN: IN PERFORMANCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE
DECEMBER 20, 1981

-- Welcome once again to the White House. In recent days thousands of people have come through here to see and enjoy the holiday decorations and displays. These rooms have been filled not only with evergreens and poinsettias, but with families in a festive Christmas spirit. Tonight we are receiving an early present; for here in the East Room we are going to hear voices that sparkle as brilliantly as the lights on these trees.

-- This is the second of our concerts devoted to America's finest young talent. Joining us this evening -- and performing as well -- is a great and loved American talent, Beverly Sills. Beverly has brought with her eight outstanding young singers who are her nominees for future greatness. All are members of the New York City Opera, where Beverly herself formerly thrilled audiences. Today she is the company's general manager and most enthusiastic fan.

-- These young singers are the voices of the future, the opera stars of tomorrow. Tonight we are receiving a preview of that future as they fill this house with music. So, Beverly, will you please introduce us to these young talents?

(Parvin)
Working Draft
December 15, 1981

MRS. REAGAN: IN PERFORMANCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE
DECEMBER 20, 1981

- Welcome once again to the White House. In recent days thousands of people have come through here to see and enjoy the holiday decorations and displays. These rooms have been filled not only with evergreens and poinsettias, but with families in a festive Christmas spirit. Tonight we are receiving an early present; for here in the East Room we are going to hear voices that sparkle as brilliantly as the lights on these trees.
- This is the second of our concerts devoted to America's finest young talent. Joining us this evening -- and performing as well -- is a great and loved American talent, Beverly Sills. Beverly has brought with her eight outstanding young singers who are her nominees for future greatness. All are members of the New York City Opera, where Beverly herself formerly thrilled audiences. Today she is the company's general manager and most enthusiastic fan.
- These young singers are the voices of the future, the opera stars of tomorrow. Tonight we are receiving a preview of that future as they fill this house with music. So, Beverly, will you please introduce us to these young talents?

(Parvin)
Working Draft)

MRS. REAGAN: IN PERFORMANCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE
DECEMBER 20, 1981

--Welcome once again ~~to the White House.~~ In recent days thousands of people have come ~~through here~~ to see and enjoy the holiday decorations and displays. ~~These rooms have~~ been filled not only with evergreens and poinsettias, but with families in a festive ^{Christmas} spirit. ~~Now~~ Tonight we are receiving an early present; for ~~we~~ ^{here in the East Room} we are going to hear voices that sparkle as brilliantly as the lights on these trees.

--This is the ^{second} of our concerts devoted to America's ^{finest} young talent. Joining us this evening--and performing as well-- is a great and loved American talent, Beverly Sills. Beverly has brought with her eight outstanding young singers who are her nominees for future greatness. All are members of the New York City Opera, where Beverly herself formerly thrilled audiences.
Today she is the company's general manager and most enthusiastic fan.

^{operate}
These young singers are the voices of the future, the stars of tomorrow. ~~--Beverly, I know the voices we are about to hear are~~ ~~the voices of the future, but, please, don't make us wait any~~ ~~longer. Please introduce us~~ ^{Tonight we are receiving a preview of that future as they}
^{fill this house}
^{with music.}

So, Beverly, will you please introduce us to these young talents?

(Parvin)
Working Draft
December 15, 1981

MRS. REAGAN: IN PERFORMANCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE
DECEMBER 20, 1981

-- Welcome once again to the White House. In recent days thousands of people have come through here to see and enjoy the holiday decorations and displays. These rooms have been filled not only with evergreens and poinsettias, but with families in a festive Christmas spirit. Tonight we are receiving an early present; for here in the East Room we are going to hear voices that sparkle as brilliantly as the lights on these trees.

-- This is the second of our concerts devoted to America's finest young talent. Joining us this evening -- and performing as well -- is a great and loved American talent, Beverly Sills. Beverly has brought with her eight outstanding young singers who are her nominees for future greatness. All are members of the New York City Opera, where Beverly herself formerly thrilled audiences. Today she is the company's general manager and most enthusiastic fan.

-- These young singers are the voices of the future, the opera stars of tomorrow. Tonight we are receiving a preview of that future as they fill this house with music. So, Beverly, will you please introduce us to these young talents?

(Pawin)
(Working Draft)

~~15~~
MRS. REAGAN: IN PERFORMANCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE
DECEMBER 20, 1981

--Welcome once again ~~to the White House.~~ In recent days
thousands of people have come ~~through here~~ to see and enjoy the holiday decorations and displays. ~~These rooms have~~ been filled not only with evergreens and poinsettias, but with families in a festive spirit. ~~Tonight~~ ^{Christmas} we are receiving an early present; ~~for~~ ^{here in the East Room} we are going to hear voices that sparkle
as brilliantly as the lights on these trees.

--This is the ^csecond of our concerts devoted to America's ^{finest} young talent. Joining us this evening--and performing as well-- is a great and loved American talent, Beverly Sills. Beverly has brought with her eight outstanding young singers who are her nominees for future greatness. All are members of the New York City Opera, where Beverly herself formerly thrilled audiences.
Today she is the company's general manager and most enthusiastic fan.

~~These young singers are the voices of the future, the stars of~~ ~~tomorrow.~~ ~~tonight~~ ^{operas} ~~we are about to hear are~~
~~the voices of future, but, please, don't make us wait any~~ ^{fill this house}
~~longer.~~ ^{with music.} Please introduce us
So, Beverly, will you please introduce us to these young talents?