Biography

Biography

Melvin Leroy Bradley was born on January 6, 1938 in Texarkana, Texas. He spent his youth in Texas and graduated from local Dunbar High School in 1955.

After his high school graduation, Mr. Bradley moved with his family to Los Angeles, California. There he worked in a variety of occupations while periodically continuing his education. He worked as a launderer, clerk, postal carrier for the United States Postal Service and as a Deputy Sheriff with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department. During this time he attended college classes at Los Angeles Community College and Compton College. In 1970, he left the Sheriff's Department to attend Pepperdine University in Malibu, California and to work for the Governor of California, Ronald Reagan, as assistant for community affairs. He graduated in 1973 with a B.S. degree. He continued his work for Governor Reagan through the end of 1975.

After leaving the Governor's Office, Bradley worked as director of public relations for the Charles R. Drew Postgraduate Medical School of Los Angeles from 1975-1977. He served as assistant to the vice president and account executive with United Airlines in 1977-1981. Mr. Bradley was a staff member of the Office of the President-Elect serving as special adviser to the director of the office of Presidential personnel.

From the beginning of the administration, Mr. Bradley was a Senior Policy Adviser within the Office of Policy Development staff, focusing on urban affairs and small business. He continued, on an ad hoc basis, as an adviser to Presidential Personnel on minority appointments. Mr. Bradley was promoted in April 1982 to a Special Assistant to the President for Policy Development. At the time, his primary responsibilities were working with the Office of Policy Development staff to assure that policy analyses for the President were sensitive to the needs and priorities of the minority and disadvantaged communities.

In August 1983, Counsellor to the President, Edwin Meese, authorized the transfer of Mr. Bradley to the White House staff working in the Office of Public Liaison. He retained his title of Special Assistant to the President for Policy Development and was to have continued offering policy advice on minority issues via the Cabinet Council system run through the Office of Policy Development. He also continued his advisory role on minority appointments. He remained associated and reporting to the Office of Public Liaison for the rest of the Reagan administration when he resigned in early February 1989.

Mr. Bradley is married to the former Ruth Ann Terry and they have four children.

Scope and Content Note

Scope and Content Note

The Melvin L. Bradley collections are unique at the Library. His long association with President Reagan, Edwin Meese, other former members of Governor Reagan's staff allowed Bradley to carve out an area of expertise that only he handled. This included commenting and advising on policy issues regarding African-Americans and other minorities. This continued long after Bradley was re-assigned to the Public Liaison office and payroll. In addition, Bradley was heavily involved with recruitment, assignment, and vetting of minority candidates for appointments within the Reagan administration. Bradley also acted as a public liaison between minority groups and businesses needing assistance in dealing with the Reagan Administration or looking for possible work contracts. The Library had to make some careful decisions on what material was placed within the Office of Public Liaison, but it is important to understand these multiple functions of Bradley made it hard to say that any one White House Office was his actual "home." For a full idea of Bradley's functions at the White House, see also his Office of Policy Development collection.

The filing system used by Bradley's office was also unique. There are multiple and overlapping folders of the same material, especially in the Correspondence series. Bradley's office used a coding system for correspondence. The Library has not found any explanation of this coding system.

For general subject files, Bradley's office used an alpha-numeric coding system for folders, A-1, A-2, A-3, etc. Other filing systems found in his collection did not always have this designation. The Library has tried to retain original filing for this collection, but this was not always possible. We have placed subject files within the Office of Public Liaison only if there is clear evidence that Bradley was using the folders and adding material past his transition date to Public Liaison, August 1983.

All material on minority recruitment and placement has been placed in the Office of Public Liaison collection to maintain continuity.

The Melvin Bradley Office of Public Liaison collection consists of four series: SERIES I: Correspondence; SERIES II: Subject File; SERIES III: Minority Appointments; and SERIES IV: Publications.

Series List

SERIES I: CORRESPONDENCE

This series consists of multiple and over-lapping filing systems for both outgoing and incoming Bradley correspondence. Correspondence subjects include requests for help with finding employment; introductions to minority businesses and services; personal correspondence with friends and acquaintances; soe policy staffing memos on issues affecting minorities - such as enterprise zones, housing, and general civil rights; requests for White House tours, Reagan photos or scheduling requests; and civil rights complaints from individuals.

This material begins with January 1983 when Bradley was still officially in the Office of Policy Development because it was part of one of the over-lapping filing systems continuing into his time at the Office of Public Liaison. The Library has grouped all correspondence into yearly folders. If there is more than one series of dates for a year, the folders were numbered as follows:

[General Correspondence] 1983 I, [General Correspondence] 1983 II, etc.

Generally this corresponds with when the material was retired to Central Filing, with the earliest retirement of material coming first.

There appears to have been some effort by Bradley's office to sort this material by the filing codes applied to each piece or set of correspondence. Material marked "A-25" meant "general correspondence," and usually had the largest filing for any given year. But "A-25" material can be found scattered throughout other correspondence file for a given year, and the Library has yet to determine the meaning of other filing codes. In addition, the material is not sorted by type of origin. Office of Policy Development staffing memos are interfiled with personal correspondence and minority hiring correspondence, etc. All folders are now arranged chronologically.

SERIES II: SUBJECT FILE

This series consists of material regarding various subjects regarding minority and urban issues and groups. In addition, some of the material covers minority appointments in general. We have retained Mr. Bradley's unique filing system which consists of an alpha-numeric code used at the beginning of some of his files. We have tried to interfile all of the other remaining material alphabetically.

SERIES III: MINORITY APPOINTMENTS

The vast majority of this series consists of minority resumes retained by Mr. Bradley. In addition there are a few subject files dealing with minority appointment strategy, correspondence and name lists. There is no particular arrangement of the subject files, but the resumes are in alphabetical order by the last name of the candidates.

SERIES IV: PUBLICATIONS

This series consists of a small amount of publications retained by Mr. Bradley for use as a White House advisor.

Last Modified Date

SERIES II: SUBJECT FILE

This series consists of material regarding various subjects regarding minority and urban issues and groups. In addition, some of the material covers minority appointments in general. We have retained Mr. Bradley's unique filing system which consists of an alpha-numeric code used at the beginning of some of his files. We have tried to interfile all of the other remaining material alphabetically.
