RE: The President's Plans for the Future

Y-01

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

June 27, 1988 (XXX-Y90)

Dear Mr. Ortega:

On behalf of President Reagan, I want to thank you for your message.

The President has stated that his plans for the future don't include the word "retire." He plans to do a lot more ranching than he is able to do now, but he also plans to be back on the speaker's circuit campaigning for ideas that he believes in. These ideas include the line-item veto for our nation's Chief Executive, and the repeal of the 22nd Amendment, which bars anyone from holding the office of President for more than two terms. President Reagan believes that the Founding Fathers were right -- that the American people should be able to elect the person they want as many times as they want.

Over the years, President Reagan has tried to encourage young people to take an active interest in our nation, and he will continue to do so when his address changes in 1989. He hopes that you will play a role in public affairs, starting in your own neighborhood and local community. He encourages you to study the issues because our liberty depends on a knowledgeable citizenry prepared to debate and make decisions.

With all the confidence President Reagan has in our nation's young people, he looks forward to the years ahead with great eagerness.

Again, thank you for writing to the President about his post-White House plans. You have his best wishes for every future happiness and success.

Sincerely,

Anne Higgins
