THE WHITE HOUSE

Margaret Thatcher would like to come here for a ~~one~~ day meeting - first then Ambrose & her son Charles Pow on her side. She would arrive Nov. 14 & leave after lunch the 15th. She expressed the wish this could be at Camp David.

I'd like this if it could be done. This is a weekend & is presently scheduled for Camp David.

SCHEDULE PROPOSAL

TO: FREDERICK J. RYAN, Director
Presidential Appointments and Scheduling

FROM: RODNEY B. MCDANIEL RBM

REQUEST: Meeting and working lunch with Mrs. Thatcher

PURPOSE: To consult with one of our closest Allies.

BACKGROUND: Mrs. Thatcher has asked to meet with the President at Camp David and it is our understanding that he has agreed. The meeting would be a key element of our consultation sessions with Allies this fall. Discussions would likely focus on US-Soviet relations; South Africa and the Middle East would also be high on the agenda. The United Kingdom is the current EC President (the Presidency rotates every six months) thus a meeting with Mrs. Thatcher also offers a useful vehicle for reaching a wider number of Allies.

PREVIOUS PARTICIPATION: The President last saw Mrs. Thatcher at the Tokyo Summit in May.

DATE & TIME: Saturday, November 15
11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. (meeting followed by working lunch)

LOCATION: Camp David

PARTICIPANTS: President, Secretary Shultz, Don Regan, Admiral Poindexter, Ambassador Price, Mrs. Thatcher, Ambassador Acland, and Charles Powell

OUTLINE OF EVENTS: Small meeting followed by informal working lunch

REMARKS REQUIRED: NSC to provide

MEDIA COVERAGE: White House photographer only

RECOMMENDED BY: Admiral Poindexter and Secretary Shultz

MEMORANDUM FOR JOHN M. POINDEXTER

SIGNED

FROM: PETER R. SOMMER

SUBJECT: Mrs. Thatcher's Request to Meet with the President

As you know, Mrs. Thatcher has asked to meet with the President in mid-November. Her original request was made in anticipation of a Gorbachev Summit in late November, i.e., before we announced the Reykjavik meeting.

Nonetheless, she clearly continues to want to come in mid-November -- hopefully to Camp David on Saturday, November 15. The British Embassy confirmed this in a meeting with me today. Price has also sent a message and called the President. Your note on the President's readout of Price's call indicated that the President and Don Regan have agreed in principle to the meeting (Tab II).

State supports the meeting, particularly since it is not coming out of their normal monthly quota. For my part, I question whether we should push for a session at Camp David on Saturday, November 15. I had hoped that we could arrange a meeting on Friday, November 14 and avoid disrupting the President's weekend; but, I understand from Rod McDaniel that a definite decision has been made to meet at Camp David.

As an aside, I wish to note that should we invite Allied leaders to Washington for a consultation meeting -- assuming a Washington Summit later this year -- we may have to adjust the invitation to Mrs. Thatcher.

RECOMMENDATION

That you authorize Rod McDaniel to sign the Tab I Schedule Proposal requesting a meeting at Camp David on Saturday, November 15.

Dear President Reagan,

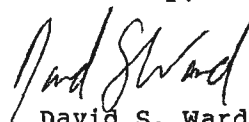

In a recent conversation, Dr. Richard Davis reminded me of your admiration for Calvin Coolidge. I asked if the Easton Press might present you with our leather and gold edition of William Allen White's Pulitzer Prize-winning biography.

It is an honor to enclose it here. This book is from our Library of the Presidents collection which includes biographies of all past Presidents and the personally-signed memoirs of Presidents Nixon, Ford and Carter.

We are a small New England publisher successfully keeping alive the art of the leather-bound book. Our books are examples of American craftsmanship, bound to the highest standards by skilled artisans from our bindery in Tennessee, with leather tanned in upstate New York and the finest paper from the mills of Maine.

Again, it is an honor to present this book to you. I hope that it will bring you pleasure.

Sincerely,

Dear Donn:

Just back from Iceland and your good letter was here upon my arrival. Thank you and all our friends at Belair for your prayers. You know how much I believe in them, and they were heard. No, we didn't get a signed and sealed agreement, but we all felt we made more progress than has been made in years and we'll keep on with our effort.

Nancy and I were pleased to get the report on our "cow." It's getting near that time again. We both appreciate the news about the church's plans and look forward to the day when we can again be part of the Belair family.

Dear Ron:

You have been on my mind and heart a great deal this last week. First, because of your coming talks with Gorbachev. On Sunday our entire congregation prayed for you and your team of advisors. We believe God will reveal to you His perfect plan. May you feel His presence each step of the way.

Also, Ron, I want you and Nancy to know that the meat you gave us again last Christmas was used last week to feed 182 people for two days. We help support a home for the homeless in North Hollywood and our people with great pride and joy served these very needy people what has become affectionately known as the Reagan's "cow."

We miss seeing you both. Everything is going great at church. We are hopeful of starting our new sanctuary the first part of next year and are making plans to build a home for the homeless in West Los Angeles and a school for our black Christian friends in South Africa.

God's best to you.

Dear Mr. President...Nancy:

A week ago, I spoke at the commissioning of the CHICAGO, our newest attack submarine, now undersea, in harm's way. I was chosen, I expect, because I was born in Chicago, but I was deeply honoured to be there. It was an immensely moving experience. I closed my speech with a prayer I made up lying awake at four o'clock in the morning the day Lydia and I took off for Norfolk. I had it calligraphed and delivered to Commander Avery before he took his boat out. It occurred to me you might like a copy of it. In another administration, the CHICAGO might never have touched the water.

Best love to you both from both of us.

When you go to Iceland, DON'T BLINK.

As ever,

Chuck

P.S. Thanks for your warm birthday wire. I had a fine birthday (I've been 52 for some years now, so I know how to do that birthday)

October 15, 1986

Dear Chuck:

Just back from Iceland and found your "prayer" awaiting me. Thanks very much, thanks for giving the CHICAGO its send-off, thanks for authoring the prayer and, again, thanks for sending a copy to me.

If you haven't read Red Storm Rising, I urge you to do so. You'll find a submarine, the USS CHICAGO, playing a major role.

Nancy sends her love, and from both of us to Lydia.

Dear Mr. President,

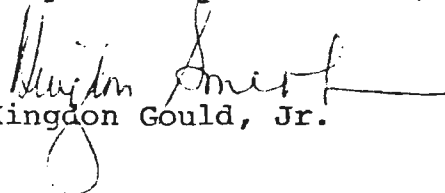

In extending this brief note of appreciation for your fine presentation to the Nation last night on your negotiating sessions with Mr. Gorbachev may I also make a suggestion respecting the public perception of SDI.

It has not yet been made clear to the public that SDI would afford protection from ballistic attack by any hostile nation or group, not just the Soviet Union.

Since the United States has engaged in hostilities with many nations in the past it is likely that our country will face potential hostilities in the future from sources and powers that cannot presently be foreseen.

For this reason, your position that SDI should not become a bargaining chip in current US-Russian negotiations is eminently sound and deserves our full support. To foreclose today our implementation of SDI would be to render the United States vulnerable to ballistic attack by any other future adversary.

Respectfully submitted,

Kingdon Gould, Jr.

Dear Larry:

It was good to get your letter and your confirmation regarding SDI. I wasn't aware that Sam Donaldson had said what he did about McFarlane, and I question whether Bud said such a thing. Certainly he knew better.

Yes, I've quoted from your books on a number of occasions and will continue to do so because they make such good sense. When I finally decided to move on what has become SDI, I called a meeting of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. I said that, until nuclear weapons, there had never been an offensive weapon that hadn't inspired a defense -- all the way back to the spear and the shield. Then I asked them if in their thinking it was possible to devise a weapon that could destroy missiles as they came out of their silos. They were unanimous in their belief that such a defensive system could be developed. I gave the go-ahead that very day. The scientists working on this have achieved several breakthroughs and are quite optimistic, although they say we have several years to go. I have never entertained a thought that SDI could be a bargaining chip. I did tell Gorbachev that if and when we had such a system they would join us in eliminating nuclear missiles; we'd share such a defense with them. I don't think he believes me.

Well, it was good to hear from you and thank you for the confirmation. Nancy sends her love.

RON

Dear Mr. President:

Please give this letter
to the president.

On the air Sam Donaldson said yesterday that McFarlane had told him that McFarlane gave you the idea of SDI as a
"bargaining chip" but you embraced the idea seriously instead. I do not know what McFarlane told Donaldson; I do know that I urged SDI on you at least as early as 1978.

There is verifiable evidence that you had considered SDI by your West
Point Address of May 27, 1981 in which you said:
"Mr. Beilenson has recently authored a new thought-provoking book, Survival and Peace in the Nuclear Age, Pages 56-
60 of that book advocates SDI, and cites sources you must have read including a 1971 article in National Review. The chapter concludes on p. 60: "For our primary aim of survival defense offers the best chance." Sincerely,

TEXT OF THE ADDRESS BY THE PRESIDENT
AT THE UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY
WEST POINT, NEW YORK

Wednesday, May 27, 1981

The argument, if there is any, will be over which weapons and not whether we should forsake weaponry for treaties and agreements. My good friend Laurence Beilenson authored a book a few years ago entitled, The Treaty Trap. It was the result of years of research and it made plain that no nation that placed its faith in parchment or paper and gave up its protective hardware ever lasted long enough to write many pages in history. This is not to say we shouldn't seek treaties and understandings and even mutual reduction of strategic weapons. The search for peace must go on but we have a better chance of finding it if we maintain our strength while we're searching. Mr. Beilenson has recently authored a new thought-provoking book, Survival and Peace in the Nuclear Age.
