on trial, to leave the Jewish study groups alone that they can engage in educational activities, most important, the avoidance of any future bilateral arrangement that could sacrifice either Jewish emigration or Jewish cultural life.

We thank you for all you have done in the past improving this situation and we look for continued intensified cooperation from our Administration and Congress.

Sincerely yours,

President Ronald Reagan
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

I respectfully take the liberty to inform you that your newly appointed Special Assistant for Public Liaison, Dr. Marshall Breger, has appeared yesterday for the first time before the American Zionist Federation leadership in New York City. His presentation in which he conveyed the President's and Administration's policy in domestic and foreign affairs in the Middle East, particularly relating to Israel, left a favorable impression and was exceptionally well received by all present.

Permit me, Mr. President, to commend you highly on a very excellent choice for this important position. Dr. Breger is a skillful, talented and able spokesman. We are confident he will succeed to serve as a vital bridge of understanding and full cooperation between the Jewish community, The White House and the Administration.

With warmest best wishes.

Most cordially yours,

Israel Friedman
