Mr. Max Green, Director
Office of Public Liaison
Room 196
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Max:

It was good seeing you again when I was in Washington for the meeting with Vice President Bush.

I spoke to you at that time about a request for a White House briefing for my personal PAC. I omitted to mention that I would very much appreciate a White House briefing for the annual Mission of the OU to Washington, which has been scheduled for Wednesday, March 18, 1987. The briefing you arranged for the OU Mission this past May was an excellent climax to an outstanding day. I, therefore, suggest that a late afternoon would be the very best time for this briefing.

As you said, it is critical for such requests to be made early. Could we get ours on the books now?

Warm personal regards and thanks.

Sincerely yours,

Mandell I. Ganchrow, M.D.
Chairman,
Political Action Advisory Commission

Dear Max,

I trust this letter finds you and your family well.

The Political Action Advisory Commission of the Union, chaired by Dr. Mandell Ganchrow, has chosen the date of Wednesday, March 18, 1987 for our annual Mission to Washington. We expect to bring our largest group ever to Washington. In order to achieve a more effective representation for Orthodox Jewry, we have extended an invitation to a number of other Orthodox groups to join us in the Mission. AMIT Women has already accepted our invitation and will be a co-sponsor for this Mission.

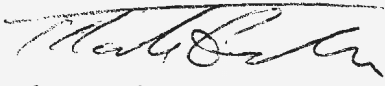

We would appreciate your help in arranging for a White House briefing for our group during the morning of Wednesday, March 18th, approximately 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. Our group should number about 100 to 150.

I know that we can count on you to arrange for appropriate speakers on both domestic and foreign affairs.

I look forward to speaking with you soon in preparation for the Mission.

All the best.

Sincerely,

Mark Friedman

Institute for Public Affairs

Dear Mr. Green: Max

On Wednesday, March 18, 1987, the Orthodox Union is having its annual Mission to Washington. As in years past, the participants in the Mission, representing the leadership of Orthodox Jewry from across the United States, will spend a day in Washington to meet with members of the Congress and the Administration.

The Mission this year is being co-sponsored by two other outstanding national organizations, the Rabbinical Council of America and AMIT Women. Thus, the largest Orthodox congregational, rabbinic, and women's groups are joining forces to constitute the most effective representation for Orthodox Jewry in America.

One of the highlights of our Mission is the Congressional luncheon, sponsored this year by Senators Kennedy and Danforth. We would be privileged if you would join us for luncheon. It will take place in Room 106 of the Dirksen Senate Office Building at 1:00 p.m. Please respond to Mark Friedman at (212) 563-4000.

We hope that you will join us for what we are sure will be a very successful luncheon.

Sincerely,

Manuell
