FIRST LADY TO FIRST LADY CONFERENCE ON DRUG ABUSE AT THE UNITED NATIONS - OCTOBER 21, 1985

PROGRAM

The conference will begin at 10:00 a.m. in the Economic and Social Council Chamber and conclude at approximately 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Reagan will make opening and closing remarks. Mrs. Perez de Cuellar will make welcoming remarks. The program will include an overview of the world wide drug problem by Jon Thomas, the U.S. Assistant Secretary of State for International Narcotics Matters. Dr. Keith Schuchard, founder of PRIDE (Parents' Resource Institute for Drug Education, Inc.), will provide information on the international parents' movement. Information on current prevention, education and treatment programs for adolescents around the world will be given by Dr. Mitch Rosenthal, the president of Phoenix House, a drug rehabilitation center with facilities in several countries. Three adolescents will recount their experiences with chemical abuse. A report on the progress made in other nations since the First Ladies Conference in April, 1985 at the White House will be made. Also, Mr. Tom Adams, president of the Pacific Institute will speak on the "Just Say No" movement, (a peer prevention program for elementary school children), and its international implications. Deputy Assistant to the President for Drug Abuse Policy, Dr. Carlton Turner, will be the moderator for the event.

PRESS COVERAGE

Coverage of the First Lady to First Lady Conference on Drug Abuse in the Economic and Social Council Chamber at the United Nations will be open to all foreign and domestic print and broadcast journalists holding United Nations Press Credentials. Still photo coverage will be pooled. Color and black and white prints will be available for distribution by the U.N. by 12:00 Noon on the 21st. U.N.T.V. will provide a feed to all U.N. pool members. Three-quarter u-matic NTSC dubs may be purchased by calling Jim Ludlum in the UN-TV Bookings Office (212) 754-7650. U.S.I.A. will assist foreign broadcasters on request. The entrance for the press will be through the Visitor's Lobby between 8:30 a.m. and 9:00 a.m., Monday, October 21. Escorts to the Economic and Social Council Chamber will be available.

MEDIA ADVISORY

Mrs. Reagan is planning a meeting on the subject of drug abuse at the United Nations in New York on October 21, 1985. Invitations have been sent to U.S. embassies of those countries that have indicated they may be attending the 40th anniversary ceremony of the United Nations General Assembly. Invitations will be extended by the embassies; additional invitations will be issued as more countries decide to attend the U.N.G.A.

The meeting will be a non-policy, mother-to-mother discussion on prevention and education issues, and is intended as a follow-up to the April First Ladies Conference on Drug Abuse attended by the first ladies of seventeen nations.

During the meeting, participants will hear from various experts on drug abuse education, prevention and treatment programs. Mrs. Reagan will make the opening remarks. The purpose of the session is to advance the successful international drug abuse efforts that were launched at the First Ladies Conference last spring.

For further information, please call Mrs. Reagan's Press Office, 456-7136.

MEDIA ADVISORY

.. Mrs. Reagan will host a second with

~~The First Ladies Conference on Drug Abuse, hosted by Mrs.~~

Reagan, will begin with a day-long meeting in the East Room on Wednesday, April 24. The morning session will feature speakers who will give an overview of the drug situation from a national, international and personal perspective.

The afternoon session will focus on various grassroots efforts evolving to combat youth drug abuse. The First Ladies will hear from leaders of parent groups and from private sector groups that have found innovative ways to approach the problem.

During the morning and afternoon sessions, the First Ladies will have an opportunity to make comments and share their views about the problem of drug abuse as it affects their individual countries.

On Thursday morning, April 25, the First Ladies will fly to Atlanta, Georgia, to attend the PRIDE (Parents Resource Institute for Drug Education) Conference at the World Congress Center. This all-day session will feature experts in the fields of cocaine and marijuana abuse.

Eighteen First Ladies have accepted Mrs. Reagan's invitation to attend the two-day conference (list attached).

For information, please contact Mrs. Reagan's Press Office, 456-7136.
