FROM: James S. Rosebush

I. PURPOSE

To view the Treasures of Britain Exhibit.

II. BACKGROUND

The exhibit opens November 3, 1985 and runs through March 16, 1986. This exhibit is made possible by a generous grant from the Ford Motor Company.

The exhibit was organized by the National Gallery of Art in collaboration with the British Council and is supported by indemnities from Her Majesty's Treasury and the U.S. Federal Council on the Arts and Humanities. Further British assistance was supplied by the National Trust.

More than 700 works of art, ranging from the fifteenth into the twentieth century, have been chosen from these houses to represent the passion and breadth of art collecting and private patronage in Britain. Included will be paintings by, among others, Rubens, Van Dyck, Velasquez, Canaletto, Hogarth, Gainsborough, Turner, Landseer, and Sargent; sculpture by Praxiteles, Bernini, Canova, Flaxman, and Henry Moore; furniture by Boulle, Kent and Chippendale; Meissen, Sevres, Chelsea, Bow and Derby, as well as Oriental porcelain; and splendid examples of books, drawings, tapestry, jewelry, armor, silver and other decorative arts.

Dear Mr. President:

The exhibition at the National Gallery that the Prince and Princess of Wales hope to come to the United States to see in the fall will actually have its official preview the week before their arrival, in a gala dinner in the East Building of the National Gallery to honor the lenders to the exhibition. These lenders make up the ancestral owners of the finest houses in Britain, and their generosity in making this unprecedented exhibition possible has been extraordinary, as has been that of our corporate sponsor, Ford Motor Company, and all the governmental bodies on both sides of the Atlantic, including Prime Minister Thatcher, who personally directed their Secretary of Defence to allow the RAF to airlift over those objects most challenging to transport.

The Trustees of the Gallery are very hopeful that you and Nancy can be with us that evening, Thursday, October 31.

We are disappointed that the Bonn meetings preclude your joining us again for the Andrew Mellon dinner in May. But as this will be the most important exhibition that our National Gallery will have attempted in your presidency (or anyone else's!) we believe that it would be a wonderfully appropriate moment to have you both with us, and help celebrate the centuries of British heritage which are in so many ways our own.

Sincerely yours,

J. Carter Brown

Dear Barbara:

As we discussed the other evening at our meeting at the Gallery, I am sending you herewith a list of Ford persons for identification and credentialing in connection with the visit to the Treasure Houses Exhibition by President and Mrs. Reagan on the afternoon of Oct. 30 and by the Prince and Princess of Wales on Sunday morning, Nov. 10 and on Monday evening, Nov. 11.

I have indicated who they are by category. Those listed as "security" include the drivers of the cars for senior Ford executives. Since there will be a rather large group of company executives and members of the Ford board of directors staying at the Four Seasons Hotel, we will have a Ford Control Room there -- Room 319; I will provide you with the telephone numbers as soon as the lines are installed tomorrow (Tuesday, Oct. 29).

The following members of my staff and I will be on hand at the Gallery on Sunday morning, Nov. 10 to assist in press crowd control: terHorst, Waite, Mansfield, Wright.

If you require any further information concerning the above, please telephone me at 785-6014 or 765-8056 (home).

Sincerely,

Jerry terHorst
