MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: HOWARD H. BAKER, JR.

SUBJECT: Phone Call to Prime Minister Thatcher
Regarding the Issue of British
Petroleum Stock

The British Government presently has a $12 billion issue of shares of British Petroleum (BP) in international stock markets. This issue is in connection with its privatization program and was underwritten in all main markets at a price set before last week's decline in stock markets. BP stock is now down over 25%.

I believe you should make a call to Prime Minister Thatcher asking the UK government to withdraw the BP issue from the market. We believe that if the issue is not withdrawn the effects on global markets will be highly negative and add further to the lack of confidence in international financial markets.

A memo from Jim Baker recommending that you call Prime Minister Thatcher is attached. George Shultz has no objection. President Ford has contacted me to urge that you telephone Prime Minister Thatcher to seek withdrawal of the issue.

Talking Points for the President's Use with Prime Minister Thatcher on British Petroleum Issue and Possible Impact on World Financial Markets

- o Would like to urge your Government to withdraw the BP issue. We believe it will have a major negative impact on world financial markets.
- o The issue is already creating severe uncertainty in world markets - in Asia, Europe and North America.
- o This is not the time to push forward with the largest equity issue ($12 billion) ever brought to market. The issue cannot be sold to final investors in the UK or elsewhere at prices anywhere near the price established 10 days ago with the underwriters.
- o Close to half the issue has been underwritten by non-UK firms. If it goes forward, the issue will further damage already fragile world financial markets and work against restoration of confidence because of substantial losses involved.
- o It will also reverberate in UK market for some time to come. If issue does take place, it will be resold into your secondary market, further depress prices.
- o It seems to me this has gone beyond being a matter of underwriters standing up and accepting their commitments. We face an unprecedented situation in world financial markets which will also reverberate into the UK market.
- o I understand the political considerations you face in withdrawing the issue, but it seems to me that forcing the issue into the market under current conditions will gravely damage the UK government's privatization program as well as damage and impede recovery in world financial markets.

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT

FROM: JAMES A. BAKER, III

SUBJECT: Phone Call to Prime Minister Thatcher
regarding the issue of British
Petroleum Stock

The British government plans to issue shares in British Petroleum (BP) linked to its denationalization program. The price of these shares was fixed for underwriters before the sharp decline in world stock prices. Today's market price is 23 percent lower. If the shares are actually issued, underwriters all over the world will suffer very large losses estimated to be well over $2 billion (about half the issue is being underwritten by non-UK firms). The potential issue is creating heavy negative pressure and lack of confidence in international financial markets.

- It creates an unnecessary problem;
- It will result in unnecessary capital losses for major firms who would otherwise be supporting the market.
- Underwriters have asked the U.K. government to withdraw the issue under the force majeure clause. The U.K. government's decision must be made by October 29.

I have telephoned Chancellor Lawson seeking to have the British Treasury stop the issue, which they have the power to do. The Federal Reserve Board has made similar efforts with the Bank of England. I recommend that you telephone Prime Minister Thatcher to underline the gravity and seriousness of issuing British Petroleum stock in the current world financial market situation.
