BAUER, GARY L.: Files, 1981-1988

Office of Policy Development, 1981-1982: Policy Analyst, Policy Advisor, Deputy Assistant Director for Legal Policy

Office of Policy Development, 1987-1988: Assistant to the President for Policy Development and Director of the Office of Policy Development

Biography

Gary L. Bauer was born in Covington, Kentucky on May 4, 1946. He graduated from Newport Public High School in 1964 and then attended Georgetown where he graduated in 1968. He received a Henry Cook scholarship from Northern Kentucky businessmen to attend Georgetown Law School in 1969. He graduated with a law degree in 1973.

Mr. Bauer worked in the 1980 Reagan-Bush campaign as a senior policy analyst and worked in the Office of the President-Elect as Assistant Director for Policy/Community Services Administration.

Bauer joined the White House in 1981 as a policy analyst in the Office of Policy Development. He was later promoted to Policy Advisor to the President and finally as Deputy Assistant Director of Legal Policy. Bauer left the White House in 1982 for an appointment in the Department of Education as Deputy Under Secretary for Planning, Budget and Evaluation. There he was responsible for developing the Department's budget. He also stayed active in the White House as the Department's representative in the Cabinet Council for Human Resources and was Chairman of the Working Group on School Discipline. In addition, he directed the Department's efforts in the development of the President's Partnerships in Education Initiative.

In July 1985, Mr. Bauer was appointed Under Secretary of Education.

On January 30, 1987 Bauer returned to the White House, as Assistant to the President for Policy Development and Director of the Office of Policy Development. He succeeded John A. (Jack) Svahn in the position of Assistant to the President for Policy Development. Unlike previous Policy Development Assistants, Bauer was also the Director of the Office of Policy Development.

Bauer resigned from the White House staff in 1988. He became President of the Family Research Council, an evangelical Christian organization dedicated to promoting the traditional family structure. Bauer left this position in 1999 to run for the 2000 Republican presidential nomination.

Bauer is currently president of American Values, an organization dedicated to promoting conservative views on marriage, abortion, and other cultural issues. He is also Chairman of Campaign for Working Families a political action committee which works to elect conservative candidates to Congress. Bauer lives in the Washington, DC area.

Scope and Content Note

Mr. Bauer's collection is arranged into nine series. It consists of SERIES I: Subject File, 1987-1988; SERIES II: Policy Council Meetings, 1987-1988; SERIES II: President's Weekly Update, 1987-1988; SERIES IV: Patricia Hines Material; SERIES V: Chronological Files, 1987-1989; SERIES VII: Department of Education Material, 1983-1986; SERIES VIII: Subject File, 1981-1982; and SERIES IX: Publications.

Much of this collection consists of Bauer's tenure as Assistant to the President for Policy Development. But a significant amount of the collection covers his time serving in the Department of Education; his assistant, Patricia Hines, material from both Education and the Office of Policy Development and his time starting as a policy analyst at the beginning of the Reagan Administration. We have ordered this material by series in a backwards chronological arrangement. Thus, there are two subject files for each separate time at the Office of Policy Development.
