McALLISTER, EUGENE J.: Files, 1982-1989

Office of Policy Development, 1982-1984

Economic Policy Council; Executive Secretary, 1985-1989 - see separate inventory

Eugene J. McAllister served as the Executive Secretary for the Economic Policy Council for nearly the whole of its existence. The Economic Policy Council replaced the old Cabinet Council for Economic Affairs (CCEA) from the first administration. McAllister appears to have been the White House ad hoc secretary for the CCEA while he was a member of the Office of Policy Development.

The Library has a limited scope of material for McAllister for his years in the Office of Policy Development. It consists of less than one l.f. of IBM/Digital Corp. 8" diskettes. The Library has not made hard copies of the documents contained on these diskettes, and, in fact, may be unable to print-out these documents due to obsolete equipment.

It appears that McAllister carried his OPD subject files over to the EPC where they were integrated within this collection. This material comprises about 10% of his EPC collection, and is especially prevalent in material kept in the shared safe. The Library has decided to keep this material within the McAllister EPC collection.
