NEW AND IMPROVED White House Chief of Staff

Dear Mr. Baker,

Bravo, Baker, Bravo!! Bravo, Reagan, Bravo!! Que viva, Baker?! Hearty, hearty congratulations! Great!

Dulcey and me are right behind you every step. If the President is man enough to own up to his mistakes, then I can, too. Everyone should. We'd all feel much better. (Even though I think Dulcey would get awful mad if I told all our secrets.)

Here's a helpful suggestion: get a new law passed designating a National No Secrets Day! Once a year everybody would be required to tell everything they know. Please consider this idea as my donation to rebuilding the Presidency. A strong Reagan is thanks enough.

Looking forward to "Baker for President in '92!!!"

One more time: Bravo, Baker, Bravo!!

Let's all get it out in the open, America!!!

Always your staunchest ally,

Anton Palter

Senator Howard Baker
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Senator Baker,

When we met here many years ago, your thoughtfulness and candor left an enduring impression on this grass roots Republican. I also remember you taking an unpopular, but correct, position on Panama in response to a question from the audience. Those three things got you my vote, but too few were similarly impressed.

Now you have a new challenge. May you be guided by those same qualities, sound then, and so necessary today.

It is painful to watch intelligent, well-meaning, energetic senior White House staff members unwittingly mishandle difficult situations through their lack of political and media experience. I welcome this change and look forward to you dealing with tough issues in your natural way.

One who is absent from the scene cannot know what interesting opportunities you face, but I can imagine the energy you will need to correct the mishandled so you can face the unhandled.

You have my best wishes for success and my hope that you can gather the boundless energy you will need.

Very Truly Yours,

Gordon G. Hill

Dear Mr. Baker,

We are writing you in regards of you being our new Chief of Staff, we was so glad, for we think you are sure a grate person, you have helped us so much when you was Senator, when I was trying to get my V.A. Pension, if it had not been for you, I would have had a time, when we would write you a letter, you would contact The V.A. and get us a letter right back in the mail, that sure did mean a lot to us.

Frances, my wife + I both are proud of you, she has had cancer twice and surgery twice for it, we are both about home bound, I've had opened heart surgery since we wrote you last, I had it July 1980.

Mr. Baker, this makes you the second most powerful person in The U.S.A. and highly respectable person and you certainly are a well liked person, you will restore The White House now, your judgment is excellent and you will bring new strength to The President.

We could go on write more, but will keep it brief, I hope you will read this personally if you have time. If there is any way we can help you, we can use the phone or do all in our power, we will never forget what you have done for us. We would love to have a photo of you + your wife and if you would autograph it for us. Best regards in all your work, The Lord will be with you, you are always in our prayers.

Dear Mr. Baker:

Thank you for your up-beat reactions during the press conference this afternoon. After all the derogatory opinions about the president's ability and the other public officials' actions, it would seem as if there were not any capable, wise people able to take care of the business of our government. (Only the commentators and reporters, with 20/20 hind-sight, seem to know what is right!)

I appreciate your willingness to give up the chance to run for president in '88 and take on the chance to "be cut into pieces" by a hostile media once the honeymoon is over, because some bit of "news" can be blown up into front page headlines to sell their newspaper or magazine, or build up their rate of listener following.

I am positive that President Reagan is still very capable and alert, and I marvel that he, or anyone, can stand up to the adverse criticism, like the NEWSWEEK POLL that the reporters have repeated time after time for lack of something of real news to tell the public on Friday, or was it Thursday or Saturday?

May you continue to have wisdom and courage in the task you are taking on.

Sincerely,

Eleanor L. Joslyn

Dear Mr. Baker,

Congratulations on your recent honor!
I am feeling safer with your being
Chief of Staff.

→ When, I visited with you in Somerset,
Ky. on September 27, 1986, at John Cooper's celebration — I decided to work for you for President.

Now - if you work wonders in cleaning up a bad mess, you'll have a better and stronger platform to run on in 1994! At this point, I am afraid the Republican Party would be successful if this was 1988. Let's hope it can be corrected soon.

Know, I see on your team, if you wish me to serve at this point in time.

Wishing you great success and health as you start your journey over a rocky road!

Best Regards,
Bernice B. Knuckles

Dear Mr. Baker:

I have to write to say how grateful I am that President Reagan has appointed you to the office of Chief of Staff.

For many years I have had a deep regard for your service and ability, devotion and trustworthiness in acting for our loved country. Feeling this, prompted me to support your campaign when you were seeking nomination for the Presidency. And before that I wrote, did some private campaigning, and made small contributions toward encouraging you TO RUN for that high office. I lived in Florida at the time and returned to my New England-to simpler attitudes, some six years ago.

Our President has made a wise choice and he surely needs and deserves every possible support in these difficult times, because he IS the President of our land.

Thank you for putting America before your well founded possibility of running for office. And I know that God does bless you and is having you to do good.
