MEETING WITH REPRESENTATIVE BARBER CONABLE (R-N.Y.)
RANKING REPUBLICAN ON HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

DATE: Thursday, March 26, 1981

LOCATION: The Oval Office

TIME: 10:30 a.m. (20 minutes)

FROM: MAX L. FRIEDERSDORF m. f.

I. PURPOSE

To discuss strategy on the President's tax reduction bill.

II. BACKGROUND

The President is seeking a three-year, 10 percent per year personal income tax reduction. Rep. Dan Rostenkowski (R-Ill.), Chairman of Ways and Means Committee, announced yesterday that he "sees no chance" for the President's program, and urged the President and Republicans to work with him on a compromise. House Ways and Means Committee Republicans, outnumbered 23-12 on the Committee, have been wavering and talking of an early vote on the President's program, which would be lost, then working with the Democratic majority for an acceptable compromise. Conable needs to be reinforced about the President's determination to seek a three-year bill, and enlisted to rally the Republicans.

III. PARTICIPANTS

Attachment: Talking Points

SUGGESTED TALKING POINTS FOR MEETING WITH Congressman Barber Conable (R-NY)

- Indicate your awareness of Danny Rostenkowski's statement yesterday that he believes there is no chance of passing the President's tax program. (See Attachment 1)
- Stress your intention to pursue the three-year tax cut and urge Conable, and his eleven fellow Republicans, on Ways and Means, to support your tax cut proposals.
- Emphasize that the tax cuts are an integral part of your total economic package. Budget reductions alone will not turn the economy around. We have to offset the crushing tax burden now imposed on the American people.
- Characterize Rostenkowski as being obstructionist by not allowing the full House of Representatives to consider a tax proposal that won the overwhelming mandate of the American people last November.
- Express your concern that Republicans may give up before the battle is joined, and emphasize your determination to go to the Nation if Ways and Means seeks to destroy your Economic Recovery Program.
- Enlist Congressman Conable's support, and solicit his advice on how to counter attack the Democrats, and strengthen the resolve of Republicans.

Rostenkowski Sees No Chance For Tax Cuts

By Mary Thornton

Washington Star Staff Writer

The Reagan administration's proposed three-year, 30 percent individual tax rate cut has virtually no chance of passage, and the president should be more flexible in working with Congress for an alternative tax cut, the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee said today.

Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., said a group of about 40 conservative Democrats who have endorsed Reagan's budget cutting efforts notified the president yesterday that they will not go along with his proposed Kemp-Roth tax plan, giving it virtually no chance of passage in the Democratic-controlled House.

Labor calls for changes in Reagan's tax cut plan, F-1

"If he hasn't got that conservative coalition, that should be a signal," Rostenkowski said. "One thing Ronald Reagan should learn is that he should be more flexible."

At the same time, 20 senators led by one of the sponsors of the Kemp-Roth plan urged Reagan to veto any tax bill that does not include a three-year, 10 percent a year cut for middle income Americans.

At a news conference today, Sen. William Roth, R-Del., and 19 other senators signed a letter to Reagan expressing concern that the individual tax cuts "are becoming overlooked in favor of the tax reductions benefiting business and industry."

"We will not support business tax cuts unless they are coupled with additional provisions identical or very similar to your proposals providing for a three-year, 30 percent reduction in tax rates," the letter said.

"We urge you to promise now to veto any tax bill which does not reflect your individual tax rate reduction plan."

Rostenkowski said he believes there is little enthusiasm in the House for the Kemp-Roth tax proposal even among Republicans.

He said he will work in committee to produce a compromise that might avoid any vote on Kemp-Roth, but acknowledged that if it does come to a vote, most Republicans would feel obligated to support Reagan.

Rostenkowski said his aim is to put together a package that both Republicans and Democrats can live with.

He said he is willing to go along with any reasonable compromise.

"We will do it any way they want to do it, so we can work out a bill where every member can contribute and feel proud." But he said Reagan must be willing to compromise.

"If they don't recognize this in the next five or six weeks, I think they are making a big mistake. It is important to get the administration to realize that the process in Congress is not one that will respond immediately to any request by the president," he said.

The Ways and Means chairman said the size of the tax cut will have to be "in balance" with the deficit.

"Either the deficit goes up or we are going to have to lower the tax cut. I am not going to accept the Republicans getting credit for the tax cut while the Democrats get credit for a deficit — and a scenario like that could develop," he said.

One positive note for the Democrats, Rostenkowski said, is that Americans are beginning to realize that they will be hurt by the proposed budget cuts.

"The salt is now in the wound and it doesn't feel good," he said. "We are starting to see people say, hey, is this what we really want?"

He said he expects Democratic changes in both the budget cuts and the tax cuts.

"I think it is one thing to cut increases in benefits to people, but it's another to just take them away. I just don't see us saying to someone that the hot meal won't be on your table anymore."

Rostenkowski added he is very concerned about what budget cuts will mean in the nation's cities this summer, particularly the loss of funding for youth job programs and cuts in public assistance.

"It was always comforting to know you could put kids to work, give them something to do in the summer. . . I just hope there won't be any trouble," he said.

On the tax cut, Rostenkowski said there is no chance that the committee would go along with Reagan's request for a full three year cut. "I just don't think we could do it for three years. If the rosy economic assumptions of this administration do not come to fruition next year, at least this way we'd still be in the ball game."

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT ON THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON INTEGRITY AND EFFICIENCY MARCH 26, 1981

TODAY, I AM ANNOUNCING TWO ACTIONS TO RESPOND TO THE DEMAND OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE FOR HONESTY IN GOVERNMENT.

WHILE HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES ARE WORKING HONESTLY AND COMPETENTLY TO SERVE THEIR NATION, THERE IS ALSO A VERY SMALL MINORITY OF DISHONEST -- AND SOME FRANKLY
INCOMPETENT -- INDIVIDUALS WHO ARE COSTING THE TAXPAYERS PERHAPS BILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN FRAUD AND WASTE.

HANDWRITING FILE

THIS IS NOT MY MONEY; IT IS NOT THE CONGRESS'S MONEY -- IT IS THE PEOPLE'S MONEY. OUR FAILURE TO STOP THIS FRAUD, WASTE AND MISMANAGEMENT HAS LED TO GROWING PUBLIC CYNICISM ABOUT THE ABILITY OF GOVERNMENT TO CONTROL ITSELF. IT RAISES FUNDAMENTAL QUESTIONS ABOUT THE INTEGRITY OF GOVERNMENT.

MY FIRST ACTION IS THE ISSUANCE OF AN EXECUTIVE ORDER ESTABLISHING THE PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON INTEGRITY AND EFFICIENCY. THIS ACTION SIGNALS EVERYONE WHO WORKS FOR OR DOES BUSINESS WITH THE GOVERNMENT THAT WE MEAN BUSINESS.

THIS EXECUTIVE ORDER I HAVE SIGNED BRINGS TOGETHER IN ONE BODY THE INSPECTORS GENERAL OF THE VARIOUS AGENCIES OF GOVERNMENT SO THAT THEY CAN FOCUS THEIR TOTAL EFFORTS IN THE PLACES THAT WILL DO THE MOST GOOD. THIS WILL ALSO INCLUDE THE EFFORTS OF THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT AND ITS RESOURCES IN THE FBI.

BRINGING TOGETHER THESE EFFORTS WILL PERMIT ALL AGENCIES TO SHARE KNOWLEDGE OF FRAUDULENT AND WASTEFUL ACTIVITIES. THEY WILL EXCHANGE INFORMATION ON THE KINDS OF INVESTIGATIONS WHICH WILL PROVIDE THE MOST PROMISING RESULTS. AND THEY WILL BE READY TO MOVE IN QUICKLY WITH TOUGH AND EFFECTIVE CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS WHERE SUCH PROSECUTIONS ARE WARRANTED.

I HAVE ASKED EDWIN HARPER, ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT AND DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF THE OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET TO CHAIR THE NEW COUNCIL. MR. HARPER WILL BE REPORTING DIRECTLY TO ME, AND, ED, I AM CONFIDENT THAT YOU WILL HAVE A LOT TO REPORT.

I AM ALSO ANNOUNCING THE APPOINTMENTS OF THE FIRST SIX OF THE SIXTEEN INSPECTORS GENERAL THAT ARE AUTHORIZED BY LAW. WHEN I EXERCISED MY PREROGATIVE AS A NEW PRESIDENT TO TERMINATE THE APPOINTMENTS OF THE INCUMBENT INSPECTORS, I ANNOUNCED THAT WE WOULD SEEK THE VERY BEST PEOPLE WE COULD FIND, INCLUDING THOSE WHO PREVIOUSLY HELD THESE POSITIONS. FIVE OF THE SIX INDIVIDUALS I AM

ANNOUNCING TODAY WERE PREVIOUSLY SERVING AS INSPECTORS GENERAL, AND I HOPE THIS PUTS TO REST SUSPICIONS THAT HAVE BEEN VOICED THAT POLITICS HAS ANYTHING TO DO WITH THESE APPOINTMENTS. WE SOUGHT THE BEST PEOPLE AVAILABLE -- INDIVIDUALS WITH EXPERIENCE WHO HAVE UNCOVERED CASES OF FRAUD AND WASTE IN GOVERNMENT AND HAVE SAVED OR RECOVERED MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

I AM ALSO PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE THAT THE FBI HAS JUST CONCLUDED A MAJOR INVESTIGATION IN NEW YORK RELATING TO FRAUD IN THE SUMMER LUNCH PROGRAM. FBI DIRECTOR WILLIAM WEBSTER WILL BE HERE LATER TODAY TO GIVE YOU A COMPLETE BRIEFING ON THIS MATTER.

WE WILL NOT REST WITH TODAY'S ANNOUNCEMENT. WE WILL NOT SIMPLY TUCK THIS EVENT AWAY AND GO ON WITH BUSINESS AS USUAL.
THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE DEMANDING ACTION, AND THEY ARE GOING TO GET IT. BELIEVE ME, WE ARE OUT TO GET CONTROL OF OUR LIVES --
AND WE ARE GOING TO FOLLOW EVERY LEAD, ROOT OUT EVERY INCOMPETENT, AND PROSECUTE ANY CROOK WE FIND WHO'S CHEATING THE PEOPLE OF THIS NATION. THIS I PROMISE.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

March 25, 1981

MR. PRESIDENT:

This is a draft. It will serve to acquaint you with the type of statement you will be making tomorrow. Ken Khachigian is editing this. A revised edition will be available in the morning.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'R. Darman', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Richard G. Darman

President's Statement on the Establishment of the President's Council on Integrity and Efficiency

As some of you will no doubt recall, I spoke frequently during the recent Presidential campaign about the problems of fraud and waste in the Federal Government. Today we are taking several necessary first steps in doing something about it.

This is a matter of much greater importance than dollars. One of the problems in this great country of ours is a measurable, palpable growth of cynicism among our citizens, and particularly cynicism about Government. Much of it has been entirely warranted. When people know from their own experience of cheating, or even just stupid and wasteful ways of doing things, why shouldn't they become cynical? But cynicism is a dangerous disease: It is the counterpart of loss of faith, of confidence in the institutions of our society.

Neither I nor anyone else can eliminate Government waste and abuse overnight. What I can do is to make every one of our Government employees, and those of our citizens who would try to cheat the Government, acutely conscious that I care, right here in the White House, and that somebody is looking. Today I am signing an executive order to bring together in one body the Inspectors General of the various agencies of government and other high officials directly concerned - including the Justice Department and the FBI - so that they can focus their efforts in the places that will do the most good. They will share knowledge of what they are finding out. They will tell one another of promising corners to look into. And they will be ready to pounce, with criminal prosecution, where that is warranted.

The Chairman of the new President's Council on Integrity and Efficiency will be Edwin Harper, the Deputy Director of the Office of Management and Budget, who is also an Assistant to the President. He will be reporting directly to me. And Ed, I am confident you will have a lot to report.

I am also announcing today the appointments of the first six of the sixteen Inspectors General that are authorized by law. At the time I exercised my prerogative as a new President to terminate the appointments of the incumbent Inspectors General, I announced that we would seek out the very best people we could find, including those who previously held these positions. Five of the six appointments I am announcing today were serving previously as Inspectors General, and I hope this puts to rest suspicions that have been voiced that politics has anything to do with these appointments. We sought the best, and we found in these cases that the best were those who had experience and were serving with great effectiveness. They have all uncovered some very bad cases of fraud or abuse in government programs, and have saved or recovered millions of dollars.

These two actions get us on the road. It is a serious and continuing effort to go after the bad actors, the abuses that make people troubled about their government.

TALKING POINTS FOR THE YOUNG REPUBLICAN RECEPTION

- The Young Republicans National Federation has sent representatives abroad throughout Europe, Africa and Latin America. They have had interaction with most conservative youth groups in the world by participating in youth forums and through the exchange of literature, information and the sponsorship of foreign youth delegations in the United States.

- Over the past two years, the YR's have raised over $600,000 to provide campaign training schools, literature, and direct candidate assistance to Republicans across the country.

- Of special interest is the fact that General George H. Olmstead, the first Chairman of the YR's, was at the 1931 reception with Herbert Hoover and will be attending this reception. He is now Chairman of the Board of the International Bank.

BRIEF REMARKS - YOUNG REPUBLICAN NATIONAL FEDERATION
WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION

This is a very special moment for me, to see you here in this room, in our national house. You belong here, and you are welcome.

Almost 17 years ago, I spoke of our rendezvous with destiny, and here we are. This Administration, the people you have worked to elect to the Senate, to the House, and to State and local offices, have the opportunity to put into practice the ideals for which we have strived for decades. We must not fail.

We have the opportunity to return Government to its primary role of protecting the people, and to return to the people the freedom and incentive to excel. We cannot waste a moment for we have much to do.

To achieve our goals, we must pool our strengths, our energies and our talents. I am confident we are equal to the task. Together, we can answer that first call: to preserve for our children and our children's children this last, best hope of man on earth.
