MEETING WITH SENATOR JOHN WARNER (R-VIRGINIA)

DATE: Monday, August 9, 1982

LOCATION: The Oval Office

TIME: 1:00 p.m. (10 minutes)

FROM: Kenneth M. Duberstein Ker D.

I. PURPOSE

To seek Senator Warner's support for the MX missile.

II. BACKGROUND

The FY 83 Defense authorization bill is currently in conference between the House and Senate. One of the primary components of this legislation is funding for the MX missile. The House approved production and R&D funds for the MX subject to a final basing mode decision. The Senate, however, cut $1.2 billion to build the MX missiles as a part of its effort to expedite our decision on a permanent, survivable basing mode. It is anticipated that the vote on the MX is in jeopardy, and we will need strong support from the conferees to protect MX in the final bill.

Senator John Warner, who chairs the Strategic and Theater Nuclear Forces Subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is inclined to oppose the MX. Warner thinks the MX will not be approved by Congress, and is critical of the dense pack basing mode proposal. Warner has not been specific with regard to technical or strategic arguments against the MX.

Senator John Tower, Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, has urged that you meet personally with Warner to convince him to support the MX. Tower feels that Warner's decision will influence Senator Sam Nunn and possibly other conferees. Tower expects to complete the conference by August 12, and will probably take up the MX issue on August 10 or 11. You should be aware that Warner is a reluctant participant at this meeting -- and it will be necessary for you to be firm in your conversation with Warner.

SUGGESTED TALKING POINTS FOR MEETING WITH SENATOR JOHN WARNER (R-VIRGINIA)

- Approval of the Administration's request for M-X funding is absolutely essential if we are to negotiate with the Soviets from a position of strength in the ongoing Strategic Arms Reduction Talks.
 - While M-X is not intended to be a "bargaining chip" in these negotiations, a strong commitment to produce the M-X will provide powerful leverage toward effective arms reductions.
 - If the Soviets perceive major disagreement within the United States about our ICBM modernization, they could try to exploit the situation in an effort to achieve unilateral U.S. concessions.
- Failure to approve M-X procurement funds will delay the program's initial operational capability (IOC) of 1986 and increase costs. Only with decisive action can we pursue a vigorous M-X program and benefit from the $4.5 billion investment already made.
- We have an aggressive research program underway to identify a permanent basing mode. Thus far, an approach known as Closely Spaced Basing, and often called Dense Pack, has emerged as the most promising, but not the only possible basing mode. I want to assure you that I intend to propose a final basing mode for the M-X by December.

-- I also want you to know that I would not object if the Congress places constraints on the use of the funds until a basing decision is made.

MEETING WITH SELECTED REPUBLICAN MEMBERS
OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

DATE: Monday, August 9, 1982
LOCATION: The Cabinet Room
TIME: 1:15-1:45 P.M. (30 minutes)
FROM: Kenneth M. Duberstein Kr D.

I. PURPOSE

To indicate strong Presidential interest in the House/Senate tax bill conference and to ask for these Members to help support passage of the conference report.

II. BACKGROUND

House Republicans are very reluctant to support a tax bill. Only 44 Republicans voted to send the Senate passed bill to conference and that unexpected procedure aggravated the House Republican Members at large because they had been generally excluded from any substantive input.

In addition to special interest opposition, certain conservative Republicans have mobilized opposition to any tax hike. Other Republicans have indicated that they will not support any tax increase until the House enacts the spending reductions called for in the budget reconciliation instructions.

A major portion of the reconciliation spending reductions are also in the conference with the tax bill. If the conferees meet the reconciliation targets, passage of the conference report could reduce the deficit approximately $115 billion over the next three years. However, Republican Members are very nervous about the political consequences of raising taxes, and need to be reassured that the Administration has no intention of raising taxes to pay for more spending programs.

We will need to gain substantial support from this group for the revenue bill. This meeting will give them an opportunity to air their views and to get a better understanding of the need for passage of the conference report.

ATTACHMENT B

SUGGESTED TALKING POINTS FOR MEETING
WITH SELECTED MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

- I wanted to make sure that there was no misunderstanding about my support for the Senate-passed tax bill and spending reductions. We can improve this bill in conference, and I believe that it is imperative that we then pass it.

- Passing this conference report will help bring down interest rates, thus helping the real estate, auto and construction industries. These lower interest rates are the key to stimulating business recovery.

- Rather than imposing new taxes on working people, this bill tries to insure that everyone pays a fair share of the tax burden. More than three-fourths of the revenue raised comes from increased taxpayer compliance and the closing of tax loopholes.

- Prompt passage of the conference report assures retention of the third year of the tax cuts as well as the retention of indexing.

- I intend to do all I can to help you this fall, but you need to help me by passing this conference report. Lower interest rates and an improving economy will be the best political tonic possible. Can I count on your support?

Suggested Talking Points for Meeting
with Selected Members of the House of Representatives

- I wanted to make sure that there was no misunderstanding about my support for the Senate passed tax bill and spending reductions. We can improve this bill in conference and I believe that it is imperative that we then pass it.

- Raising taxes is a very unpleasant task, one which none of us likes doing. Reducing spending is not an easy chore -- especially for those of you from the Northeast -- but we have to do it. We need to comply with the First Budget Resolution.

- It is important to distinguish between imposing new taxes and collecting taxes owed. More than three-fourths of the revenue raised comes from increased taxpayer compliance and the closing of tax loopholes.

- Rather than imposing new taxes on working people, this bill tries to insure that everyone pays a fair share of the tax burden.

- It is easy to duck the tough spending and revenue issues-- but the country can't afford that. We can't back away from our responsibilities at this time.

-- I know that it is an election year -- and I intend to do all I can to help you this fall -- but lower interest rates and an improving economy will be the best political tonic possible. For that reason, we need to pass the conference report.
