MEETING WITH REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL LEADERSHIP

DATE: Tuesday, December 14, 1982

LOCATION: Cabinet Room

TIME: 9:30 a.m. (60 minutes)

FROM: KENNETH M. DUBERSTEIN KD

I. PURPOSE

To review the legislative priorities for the remainder of the lame duck session.

II. BACKGROUND

The lame duck session is beginning its scheduled final week, although adjournment may be delayed a few days. The continuing resolution expires at midnight this Friday, December 17. The House will consider the continuing resolution on Tuesday morning ---contained in its version is a $5.4 billion jobs add-on. Senate action is likely Thursday, but there is no indication if and how much the Senate would accept in jobs money. Our opposition to the House version has been made clear.

The House has passed highway/gas tax legislation which is being filibustered in the Senate by several Republicans (Helms, East, Humphrey, Nickles and Armstrone). Once this is overcome, we will have to dispose of a re-regulation of natural gas amendment to be offered by Danforth and Eagleton and an $11 billion jobs initiative being pushed by Senate Democrats.

The Defense Appropriations bill passed the House in good shape with the exception of production money for the MX. Senate consideration will begin once an acceptable compromise is formulated on MX funding.

Action on these 3 major items---the continuing resolution, the highway program/gas tax legislation and the Defense Appropriations bill---must be completed before the 97th Congress adjourns.

In addition, we are pushing for final Congressional action on the Caribbean Basin Initiative, nuclear waste disposal, immigration reform and Radio Marti.

MEETING WITH BIPARTISAN GROUP OF SENATORS

DATE: Tuesday, December 14, 1982

LOCATION: ~~The Cabinet Room~~ OVAL

TIME: 9:10 a.m. (15 minutes)

FROM: Kenneth M. Duberstein Ker D

I. PURPOSE

To discuss Senate action on the MX.

II. BACKGROUND

Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker has been working with a bipartisan group of Senators to develop language which might be used as an alternative to the amendment proposed by Senator Fritz Hollings (D-South Carolina) which would fence the MX funding until both Houses of Congress pass a resolution approving a basing mode. As you recall, Hollings has refused to agree to a date certain for Congressional action on such a resolution.

Although this bipartisan group of Senators has reached a tentative understanding with regard to acceptable language, it is not finalized and the group intends to meet again later this morning to discuss the proposal further. Your staff has been in constant touch with Senator Baker and others throughout these negotiations. It would be advisable at this point for us to meet with these Senators personally to reiterate once again your firm commitment on the MX system and your desire that the Congress will be required to act by a date certain on the basing mode.

Although the details of the tentative agreement are constantly being altered, it appears at this time that the main elements of this proposal would include fencing the MX funds, requiring that both Houses pass a resolution of approval, assuring expedited Congressional action on a resolution of approval, and requiring you to report to the Congress on your basing mode decision (having considered alternative basing modes).

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

December 13, 1982

MEETING WITH REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN C. W. BILL YOUNG OF FLORIDA, JACK KEMP OF NEW YORK, MICKEY EDWARDS OF OKLAHOMA, AND JERRY LEWIS OF CALIFORNIA

DATE: Tuesday, December 14, 1982

PLACE: The Oval Office

TIME: 10:30 a.m. (15 Minutes)

FROM: Kenneth M. Duberstein KMD

I. PURPOSE

To indicate strong Presidential endorsement of the Administration's FY '83 budget request for the funding increment to the sixth replenishment of the International Development Association.

II. BACKGROUND

Congressmen Bill Young, Jack Kemp, Mickey Edwards, and Jerry Lewis have requested a Presidential meeting to discuss their longstanding concerns with United States foreign assistance policy, particularly with respect to U.S. participation in the International Development Association (IDA), the "soft loan," i.e. no-interest, affiliate of the World Bank which provides 50-year loans to the poorest countries. Secretaries Shultz and Regan met on this subject with Kemp and Young November 24; Edwards and Lewis were unable to attend.

The Congressmen believe that multilateral aid is less effective in serving U.S. interests than bilateral, and that both have been historically ineffective in promoting economic development or encouraging private sector investment and growth in developing countries. They were dismayed that the Administration decided to honor the IDA VI replenishment negotiated by the Carter Administration, as they had effectively blocked passage of the implementing legislation and were certain this Administration would negotiate a different agreement.

BACKGROUND (CONT'D)

The Members have sought a Presidential meeting since before the Inauguration to discuss this issue. While they agreed not to oppose the FY '82 foreign assistance authorization after a Presidential phone call, they have continued to oppose funding levels requested, thus stretching United States contribution from the original three-year term to four and now a probable fifth year. This has diminished U.S. credibility in international negotiations (e.g., Versailles and Toronto) and in efforts to redirect the policies and programs of the multilateral development banks (MDBs). Their unwillingness to yield on MDB funding, particularly IDA funding, has made it difficult to forge the necessary bipartisan coalition to pass an overall FY '83 foreign assistance request, including the security supporting assistance which these Members support. Of the $3.24 billion U.S. IDA contribution, Congress has appropriated $1.2 billion in two years. The present CR would provide $700 million of the $945 million requested, leaving $1.34 billion to be funded in FY '84.

On November 30, the President met with Congressmen Kemp, Edwards, and Lewis, and other bipartisan Members of the House Foreign Operations Appropriations Subcommittee to urge them to act on a FY '83 appropriations bill for out-right passage or inclusion in the new Continuing Resolution. At present, there is no indication the House Subcommittee intends any action. While the Senate Foreign Operations Appropriations Subcommittee has marked up an FY '83 bill which increases U.S. IDA funding to $800 million, it is probable that the current Continuing Resolution level will remain.

Secretaries Shultz and Regan both endorse strongly this meeting.

REGRET: Secretary of State Shultz has been invited, but is out of town, and not able to attend.

TOPICS OF DISCUSSION

- We want to thank you for coming down today. I am aware of your concerns and know you met recently with Don and George Shultz.

- We have reviewed the effectiveness of the aid we provide, along with other donors, through multilateral development banks, including IDA. We are working hard to make these institutions more effective.

- We believe lending through the MDBs is far preferable to throwing this issue to the UN General Assembly, where we would certainly be assessed disproportionate shares.

- In regard to your specific concerns:
  - o Level of our contribution -- we have, in effect, renegotiated IDA VI for a four-year period, with others providing more. We expect future U.S. contributions to be less than the $1 billion per year negotiated by Carter.
  - o Allocation -- India, the largest borrower, has been reduced (from 40 percent to 33 percent). We'd like to see India and China borrowing more on harder, i.e. World Bank interest, terms.

- o We are using harder criteria on projects and opposing those which could and should go commercial financing. We are also assessing terms of credits.

- If we do not meet our scheduled contributions, our credibility will be damaged, our friends hurt (Pakistan, Sudan), and the coalition in Congress that passes total foreign aid will not be able to achieve sufficient security assistance -- thus impacting severely on the Rapid Deployment Force (RDF), NATO, Caribbean Basin Initiative (CBI), etc.

- On the IDA VII negotiations, we want to adjust terms, target lending to those most in need -- and most of all -- work closely with the Congress to develop a supportable program.

- In sum, I need your support to achieve sufficient appropriations to honor U.S. obligations. And, I want to reassure you of the Administration's efforts to make the banks more effective.

MEMORANDUM

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

MEETING WITH THE PRESIDENT'S NATIONAL SECURITY
TELECOMMUNICATIONS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

DATE: Tuesday, December 14, 1982

LOCATION: Indian Treaty Room, Old Executive Office Building, Room 474

TIME: 11:45 a.m.

FROM: WILLIAM P. CLARK wpc

I. PURPOSE

You are scheduled to welcome the members of your National Security Telecommunications Advisory Committee (NSTAC) during their first meeting on Tuesday, December 14.

II. BACKGROUND

You established the NSTAC by Executive Order to provide you with advice on how best to implement the goals of your National Security Telecommunications Policy, PD-53. The NSTAC will be composed of 30 individuals representing the largest U.S. telecommunications companies (Tab A) who will provide you with the view of the telecommunications industry and engage in joint-planning activities with the government regarding the implementation of national security telecommunications initiatives.

III. PARTICIPANTS

See list attached at Tab A.

IV. PRESS PLAN

A White House photographer will be present to take pictures of you greeting the members.

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

The NSTAC meeting will be held in the Indian Treaty Room in the OEOB. The room will be quite full with approximately ninety people present. Twenty-seven members of the NSTAC will be present. You are scheduled to be escorted to the meeting at 11:45 a.m. There, Mr. Rand Araskog, President of ITT, and Dr. Joseph Charyk, President of COMSAT, the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the NSTAC, will greet you. Mr. Araskog will

cc Vice President
Ed Meese
Jim Baker
Mike Deaver

escort you to the podium and give a very brief welcome. Talking points are provided at Tab B for a short address by you to the NSTAC members welcoming them, stressing the importance of the NSTAC, and thanking the members for their participation. It would then be desirable for you to walk around the table with Mr. Araskog to meet and shake hands with each member before leaving the room. You no doubt have met several of them previously. A White House photographer will be taking pictures as you move around the table.
